

Health for Sick Women

For Forty Years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Been Woman's Most Reliable Medicine—Here is More Proof.

To women who are suffering from some form of woman's special ills, and have a constant fear of breaking down, the three following letters ought to bring hope:—

North Crandon, Wis.—“When I was 16 years old I got married and at 18 years I gave birth to twins and it left me with very poor health. I could not walk across the floor without having to sit down to rest and it was hard for me to keep about and do my work. I went to a doctor and he told me I had a displacement and ulcers, and would have to have an operation. This frightened me so much that I did not know what to do. Having heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I thought I would give it a trial and it made me as well as ever. I cannot say enough in favor of the Pinkham remedies.”—Mrs. MAYME ASBACH, North Crandon, Wis.

Testimony from Oklahoma.

Lawton, Okla.—“When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I seemed to be good for nothing. I tired easily and had headaches much of the time and was irregular. I took it again before my little child was born and it did me a wonderful amount of good at that time. I never fail to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to ailing women because it has done so much for me.”—Mrs. A. L. McCASLAND, 609 Have St., Lawton, Okla.

From a Grateful Massachusetts Woman.

Roxbury, Mass.—“I was suffering from inflammation and was examined by a physician who found that my trouble was caused by a displacement. My symptoms were bearing down pains, backache, and sluggish liver. I tried several kinds of medicine; then I was asked to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has cured me and I am pleased to be in my usual good health by using it and highly recommend it.”—Mrs. B. M. OSGOOD, 1 Haynes Park, Roxbury, Mass.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

The party, which included the actors made up five team loads and left Summerside at 8 p.m. The hall was filled with spectators who heartily applauded each act all the parts were well rendered the musical accompanist being Miss Noonan. Between the acts the Misses Sullivan ably performed some Spanish and Irish step dancing which was much appreciated. A recitation by Miss Faustina McCullough was worthy of special mention. The sale of candy was also well patronized and the proceeds of the entertainment will be devoted to patriotic purposes. The party arrived back about midnight.—H.

—MAMMA! DON'T YOU SEE YOUR CHILD IS SICK, CONSTIPATED

LOOK AT TONGUE! MOVE POISON FROM LIVER AND BOWELS AT ONCE.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign his little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals “California Syrup of Figs” for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious “fruit laxative,” and it never fails to effect a good “inside” cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle. Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of “California Syrup of Figs,” then look and see that it is made by the California Fig Syrup Co.

—GIVEN AWAY.—There used to be a certain stern old colonel stationed at Aldershot who was a great stickler for all the officers being acquainted with the names and genealogies of the various men of their troops. A well-known jovial captain who was never yet at a loss for a reply to any question asked him, was once put subtly through his paces.

“Captain Dash” said his superior officer, surveying a posse of young recruits, “what is this man's name, and where does he come from?”

“His name is Brown, sir, and he is a native of Derbyshire,” remarked the calm captain, prepared for any amount of fabrication, but in reality not knowing one single point upon which he was likely to be questioned.

“And this man—what is his name, and where was he born?” was the next inquiry.

“Oh, his name's Smith, and he's a native of Devon,” answered the plugging captain, as coolly as though he were telling the truth.

“Of Devon,” repeated the colonel. “Dear me!—my own native place. So, my man,—addressing the grinning recruit,—“you are actually from Devon.”

“Aye, yis, yer honor; and troth it's a grand place intirely, so it is!” was the reply.

The colonel fell back, very much astonished, and Captain Dash had to see him later on in private.—Weekly Scotsman.

—“LINCOLN WAS A BOY, TOO.”—Abraham Lincoln, his hand and pen. He will be good, but God knows when.

On a sheet copied from an old time arithmetic these words written by the Great Emancipator in his schoolboy hand made two young Italians, visitors to the exhibition of Lincoln relics in the public library, stare with amazement. Then they glanced over to the reproduction of the statue of

WHEN THE MILLENIUM ARRIVES

“Your honor,” said the eminent attorney, “I could have objected to the introduction of the testimony of this witness, and on account of a technicality with which you are familiar. I am sure you would have sustained my objection. But I and my client do not ask the honorable men comprising this jury for a favourable verdict if they must be influenced in reaching said verdict through the technical suppression of vitally important evidence.

“We ask for justice only, and if the honorable jurors after mature deliberation, decide that my client's case is not just we both hope they will render a verdict in favor of our opponents. And I want to add that the scales of Justice will never show a true balance as long as they are clogged with the debris of technicality.

“Neither shall I cross-examine the witness. He has resided in this community from boyhood and his veracity is beyond the question of a doubt; so it is not my intention to harass him by attempting to ensnare him in a tangle of verbal leguminata. You may call the next witness.”—Judge.

Artistic Wall Decorations Splendid Range Now Ready

Handsome—really decorative wall papers are not so much a matter of price—as a matter of taste. And there's no individual consideration about your home that calls for careful choosing as Wall Paper does. The size of the room. The lighting of the room. The location—the shape—the height—every one of these things needs consideration in choosing a paper that will be truly decorative. Our wall paper men have been at this very thing for nearly twenty years. They have studied the matter from every point of view. And they're ready to advise with you wisely.

The new wall papers are in. There are papers for halls—for parlours—for dining rooms—for bedrooms—for the library—for the den. And every paper is a well chosen—tasteful—artistic one. The largest selection in P. E. I.—and the lowest prices in P. E. I.

“He was a boy, too,” one of them said.

With the installation of the exhibit of Lincolniana, which was shown at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, nearing completion, scores of visitors came to gaze at relics that ranged from deeds and documents connected with Lincoln's life as a grocer in 1833 in New Salem, Ill., to his departure for Glasgow, and watched with interest every step in his subsequent career. Rexton, too, some years later, was the birthplace of another who step by step has climbed the political ladder, till now he is Premier of British Columbia, Hon. W. J. Bowser.

St. Andrew's Church, was born. The son of a revered father and of a gifted and much-loved mother Bonar (as he was familiarly called) was a great favorite with the people. His pawk humor and manly bearings endeared him to his companions, who regretted his departure for Glasgow, and watched with interest every step in his subsequent career. Rexton, too, some years later, was the birthplace of another who step by step has climbed the political ladder, till now he is Premier of British Columbia, Hon. W. J. Bowser.
