Forest Hill Notes.

A very successful concert and Christmas tree was held in Forest Hill Hall on Thursday night, December twenty-second. Considering the untavourable weather the hall was filled to its utmost capacity, a number having had to stand. Mr. Daniel McDonald acted as Chairman in a capable manner. A lengthy programme well-filled with the best dialogues, monologues, recitations and songs, was carried out to perfection. Special mention must be made of the singing of Walter Burdette, Strathcona, which pleases his audience wherever he appears. Much credit is due to the teacher, Miss Dingwell and to the young people of the community for the excellent entertainment furnished. Santa appeared on the scene and pleased both young and old with pleasing gifts from a well-laden tree. The teacher especially was pleased with the beautiful gifts presented to her by the pupils of the school. After that, candy was sold and a number of fancy pies were auctioned off by Mr. Dingwell, a goodly sum being realized in this way. A large number enjoyed the dance which followed, and all returned to their homes feeling that their money was well spent.

Mr. John Collin MacBeth was in the city, spending his Christmas holidays, with his sister, Mrs. King.

Mr. Neil Garrett spent the weekend as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sheppard.

Miss Margaret Morrison spent her Christmas holidays at her home in Forest Hill.

Mr. Arthur McDonald was a recent visitor to Cumberland Hill.

Mr. Chester McPherson of Ulgie, spent his Christmas holidays in Forest Hill.

Miss Florence McLeod spent New Year's in Forest Hill.

The World's Best Granary

Q. Where is the World's Best Granary?
 A. The World's Best Granary is in Western Canada. So far as potential wheat acreage is concerned it is estimated that the potential crop for this area would be 1,360 million bushels. This contrasts with an acreage of less than 30 million bushels in the United States. Present railroad facilities make available 15-25 million acres more of potential wheatland, most of which is in private hands but at present uncultivated. So far as potential production is concerned it seems probable that Canada might easily double or possibly triple her present production.

FOREST HILL NOTES.

There is no good reason for any farmer in this Province continuing to breed and raise an unprofitable class of cattle. It is useless for a man to argue that he does not intend to specialize in live stock if he is a farmer in Prince Edward Island, twenty years from now, we venture to assert he will still be raising the same class of cattle, and it would be the part of wisdom to improve the class he in all probability will continue to raise.

We have before us, the returns of two car-loads of cattle—25 in each lot; one shipped from the eastern end of the Province, to the Stock yards at Moncton, N.B. The other shipped from a section of the Province that has long been noted for its successful dairy farmers. The price received, in one instance, for cut cattle of mature age, was an average of $22.00 a head; the other $111.00 each or a difference of $89.00 per head. No farmer on Prince Edward Island can raise an animal for two or three years for $22.00. The feed necessary for maintenance alone, would cost a much greater sum than this. The well known law which no system nor lack of system can overcome, is summed up on the fact that with a given quantity of feed grown on any farm, the most profit will be secured by feeding to the fewest number of animals possible, and growing them as Nature intended on full feed. Any one of the animals in the above shipment should be worth $22.00 under six months, if properly fed and grown. There is an enormous loss annually sustained in this Province if the feed necessary to maintain over the winter months cattle that neither grow nor produce milk, but are wasters of the roughage and other feeds that is necessary to barely sustain life.

The Department of Agriculture will lend every assistance possible to promote improved breeding and feeding of live stock.

We have in this Province some excellent herds of pure breeds, from which breeding material necessary for live stock improvement may be secured. The winners in our pure bred dairy cattle at the Canadian Royal Winter Fair, won in competition with the best on the American Continent, which proves that it is not necessary for a farmer to go outside of this Province, at one time, to purchase material necessary for live stock improvement. The time has arrived when an organized effort should be made to improve the general quality of our dairy cattle, and in this respect we wish to point that the term "Grade animals" means one that is sired by a pure breed of its particular breed, but is itself not eligible for registration. High grades are animals of several top crosses and in this manner, by using pure bred sires in a few generations, any ordinary farmer may secure a line of improved live stock with little additional cost, that is for commercial purposes almost the equal of that of the pure bred sire.

Realizing the economy with which live stock can be improved in this manner, the Department of Agriculture has under consideration the further housing of improved

Ir Memoriam
 MISS MARY E. AFFLECK

There departed this life on Dec. 25th, 1927, at the home of her niece, Mrs. Gellan MacLean, Searletown, P.E.I., Miss Mary E. Affleck, in the 76th year of her age. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Affleck of Bedeque, and of a large family of brothers and sisters, the only surviving members are Mr. Alexander Affleck of Bedeque; Mrs. Robert Sobey of Vancouver, B.C., and Mrs. William Sobey of Searletown.

She was a woman of gentle, kind and sympathetic acquaintances. She lived and died, trusting in the merits of her Redeemer, and had no fear of death, for she knew when her earthly house was dissolved, she had a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

The funeral, which was held on the 27th, was largely attended, and was conducted by Rev. Mr. Reynolds of Bedeque, the pall bearers being her six nephews. Interment was in the Kirk cemetery at Cape Traverse, beside her parents, who predeceased her many years ago.

Growing Industry For P.E.I. Dairymen

We have dealt in a former article with the demand that has recently developed in the United States for fluid milk, resulting in $8,000,000 worth of this product and its associated product cream being exported from Canada during the past year. Thousands of dairy cattle have also been taken over the border, despite a tariff of from one and half to two cents per pound. This demand of the continually growing urban centres is going to continue and increase, as dairymen receiving a substantial price for city milk cannot afford to raise dairy cows.

We, in this province are admirably suited to produce a surplus of cattle suitable to the trade, that will pay our farmers a satisfactory profit to raise. The difficulty at the present time is that we have a surplus in any one community, to encourage dealers to come here and buy in large numbers; nor are many of the dairy cows of the size and character that will secure the most profit to the farmer to raise them.

During the early Autumn, a representative of a large industrial concern in Newfoundland visited the Maritime Provinces and purchased twenty-five head of cattle, the majority of them in this Province, paying an average of $110.00 each, for a class of dairy cow that any farmer could—and which some of our best farmers have been raising, for the past number of years. These for the most part, were good high pure breeds. The common ordinary culls are unprofitable for the man who raises them, and more unprofitable for the man who keeps them, as they are not able to produce a profit above the cost of feed and are dear at any price, excepting to the butcher, who alone should purchase them.

There is no good reason for any farmer in this Province continuing to breed and raise an unprofitable class of cattle. It is useless for a man to argue that he does not intend to specialize in live stock if he is a farmer in Prince Edward Island, twenty years from now, we venture to assert he will still be raising the same class of cattle, and it would be the part of wisdom to improve the class he in all probability will continue to raise.

MRS. JOHN T. SOMERS.

Martha Caroline Somers, wife of John Thomas Somers, died at Kensington on December 17th, after seven weeks illness. The best medical skills, the most tender nursing and the spiritual strength of her clergyman, failed to prolong life, and death levied its awful tribute. She was, in maidenhood, Martha Cardine Currie, and was born at Clifton in 1866, and there she spent her early years. In 1892 she was married to Thomas Somers, and for the following fourteen years continued to live at Clifton. Then they took up residence in Kensington.

The family consisted of one child that died in infancy, and one son, Private John W. Somers, who rose from the rank of Private to Machine Gun Operator.

Conspicuous was he for courage which he displayed in deeds of bravery. He was killed in the Battle of Cambrai, and was buried on the Field of Flanders. This was a sad blow to his devoted mother who sorely bore the affliction. She was buried at Kensington, the funeral service being conducted by Rev. Frederick Williamson, assisted by Rev. Hensley Staver. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. John Edmund Bernard W. Bradford, McArthur, James F. P. O'Neil, James Jardine, Tyndal Semple.

Interment in the People's cemetery, Kensington. Besides her husband, John Thomas Somers, there are left to bear the affliction her sisters, Mrs. Daniel Dunning, Summerside, and Mrs. Thomas Cole, Boston, and brothers: John Currie, Clifton, and Albert Currie, Summerside.

Mrs. Somers was a kind, charitable woman, and was very popular among her acquaintances, and the space that her death has caused, will never be filled.

MRS. EPHRAIM SCOTT.

MONTREAL, Jan. 6.—The death yesterday of Mrs. Scott, wife of Rev. Ephraim Scott, D. D., came as a great shock to her wide circle of friends. She was in comparatively good health until three weeks ago, when a heart ailment manifested itself. She took a great interest in every phase of church life, and supported her husband, who was for 35 years editor of the Presbyterian Record, in all his undertakings.

Mrs. Scott was an ardent worker in missionary interests. As a young girl, Annie Roy, daughter of the late William Roy, she devoted much of her time and energies to this aspect of church work. Her mind never ceased to be attracted to the foreign fields. She determined that her later life should be spent in furthering the projects of missionaries and supporting their efforts, even though she could not be with them in person.

Although she was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, she came with her parents to New Glasgow, N. S., when a child.

For many years Mrs. Scott was an active member of numerous Presbyterian women's organizations. During the last year she had resigned from some of them in order to give more time and thought to a few. She was an officer of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, from which she recently resigned. She also occupied an office in the Women's Missionary Auxiliary of Westmount Presbyterian Church. Until about a year ago she was a member of the Presbyterian Women's League.

Her tireless activity in the interests of others was a feature of her long and fruitful life. She was looked upon as an inspiration and a guide for any and everyone who was in need.

Beside her husband, one sister, Miss Jean Roy, of New Glasgow, survives.

Mr. Elliott, who appeared in his usual health on New Year's Eve, was stricken while taking a morning walk on Sunday, and died before a medical aid could be summoned. He will be buried from Holy Trinity Memorial Church at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon, Rev. Canon A. P. Shattford officiating.

Death came suddenly on Sunday as Mr. Elliott was walking along Dochester street west, on a morning walk, which had started at the Mount Royal Hotel where he had recently taken up residence.

He had sufficient strength to gain the entry of the apartment house at 901 Dorchester street west, whence a hurry call was sent in for Dr. A. H. McCordick, of 1145 Mountain street, who hurried to the patient's side, accompanied by a specialist. Mr. Elliott however, was dead on his arrival. The body was removed to the undertaking establishment of Jos. C. Wray and Company, Mountain street.

Prior to taking up quarters at the Mount Royal Hotel, Mr. Elliott had been living with his sister, Mrs. Dixon Coyle, and his niece, Miss Mabel Coyle, at 65 Chesterfield avenue. Mrs. E. P. Denman, Montreal, is also a niece.
