

THE CENTRAL GUARDIAN

IT PAYS to buy in this Province. SWINGING ENGINE.—A swinging engine built by Messrs. Bruce Stewart & Co., Ltd., is being installed in Dredge No. 11, Charlottetown.

CLINTON.—Mr. James Graham, the popular merchant of Clinton, is doing a flourishing business. He is tending leaving shortly for St. John on a buying trip. Clinton Mill is kept busy sawing lumber to erect a new Hall at Graham's Road. Mr. Leslie Cameron spent the week end visiting some of the fox-ranches in Clinton. Mr. L. Woods de preached very acceptably in Clinton Hall on Easter Sunday afternoon to a large congregation. Mr. Emmet McIntyre, New Annan, spent Sunday in Clinton.

BUSINESS BOOMING.—Messrs. Bruce Stewart & Co., Ltd., have a great rush of orders for their famed gasoline engines and have found it almost impossible to supply the unusually great demand. This firm recently shipped twenty engines to J. O'Brien Dingwell, Cape Breton, which shows that the Imperial is becoming very popular in Cape Breton. Last week an engine was shipped as far as New Zealand and the firm have another on file for an Imperial from the same place. By the first trip of the Empress fourteen 5 h.p. engines will be shipped to O. M. Melanson, Shediac, N. B., and by the first trip of the Cascapedia from Charlottetown an order of 20 engines will be shipped to Jones & Whitman, Varachaise, Quebec.

The "SALADA" Tea Co., is now commencing to use Aluminum instead of lead for their well known packets. It resembles silver in appearance as is light as paper and of such close texture that it preserves the tea from all foreign odors or dampness even better than does lead.

If you need a new evening Dress, or some swell Dress Ornaments—you can get either or both at Reddin's. 2165-4-25M21.

BE TOLERANT

"Love for all of us in an endless succession of forgiveness," says a writer who takes a sweet and wholesome view of family life. "We built our homes with our smiles and tears, but mostly with our wits, and we sharpened on each other with great good feeling."

The love that can give and take, that will not make mountains out of molehills, nor grave offences out of passing moods, that refuses to carry today's small neglect of unreason-ness over into tomorrow's sunshine, that recognizes itself as very human and does not expect angels in human companions, is the sort of love the world needs.

This blessed everyday affection, with the saving sense of humor that does not mistake comedy for tragedy and is able to clear the atmosphere with a laugh, does indeed build homes. It builds the strong, tender, happy family life that is at once the world's wealth and its hope.

Shay and Leah Baird, supported by a strong company of clever actors, held the attention of the audience throughout the two reels. This picture was staged and acted by a special company sent to Germany. The story deals with one of the small kingdoms of Europe and with wonderfully realistic scenes it stands out as a real feature. "Just in Time" a thrilling railroad story held its onlookers spell-bound. The sensational ride of the station agent in a high power auto to stop the "Limited" kept the audience "on edge." The show closed with two comedies that provoked a great uproar of laughter. Mr. Cairns sang "When I lost you" appreciatively. The same program will be repeated tonight for the last time. The Manager promises a rare treat for Wednesday and Thursday in the famous Player feature in four parts. "Chelsea, 1750."
