Fire Destroys Small Grocery At St. Eleanors

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed a small grocery store, owned and operated by Mr. Walter Arseneault, at St. Eleanors last evening. The blaze was discovered by a neighbor, Mrs. George Compton, about 7.30. She immediately spread the alarm and the fire department from the R. C. A. F. Station responded at once. However, they were unable to arrive to save the store or any of its contents but were able to prevent the further spread of the flames. There are a number of houses located near the store and fortunately at the time of the fire no wind was blowing and the Air Force brigade which has on a number of occasions during the past several years responded to calls from the village and has been instrumental in preventing serious fire loss.—S.

Mr. and Mrs. Arseneault were away from home when the fire broke out. It is understood that there was no insurance on the store or the stock. The loss was estimated at approximately three or four thousand dollars as he had more than the usual stock on hand in preparation for the Christmas trade.

Mr. Arseneault could not say how the fire originated. There had been no fire in the store since Saturday night at the close of business. Residents of St. Eleanors are deeply indebted to the R. C. A. F. fire brigade which has on a number of occasions during the past several years responded to calls from the village and has been instrumental in preventing serious fire loss.—S.

Parking Meter Broken Off

A parking meter on Water Street, Summerside, was broken off at the pavement about 2.30 yesterday morning when it was struck by an automobile. The force of the collision caused a part of the meter to fly in the air and crash through a plate glass window in the hardware department of Smallman's Ltd. store.

All the parking meters in front of this store were decorated with Christmas trees on Friday afternoon and on Saturday night were attractively lit with colored lights. Naturally the tree on this meter also came down as a result of the collision. It could not be learned last night just how the accident happened or whether police action would be taken.

Trees were also attached to the meters in front of Smallman's furniture store which is across the street from the main store. In spite of the fact that they were attached to strong wooden supports which were wired to the meters two of them were broken off on Friday night, apparently by hoodlums.
