GUEST AT GOVERNMENT HOUSE — Miss Isma Newbery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Beverley R. Newbery of Yonkers, New York, arrived in the City Tuesday night and is the welcome guest of His Honour the Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. DeBlais at Government House. Miss Newbery visited here in the summer of 1934 when she made many friends who are delighted to welcome her back again and to know that it is her intention to spend the Christmas season at Government House.

C. P. R. REPRESENTATIVE HERE.—Mr. C. B. Andrews, District Passenger Agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, Saint John, N.B., was visiting local business men yesterday accompanied by the local agent Col. H. M. Davison. Mr. Andrews reports business slightly on the upgrade both in passenger traffic and freight. The passenger prospects for the winter months are good; and there is every likelihood of there being heavy shipments of wheat through the port of Saint John.

BRADY-CALLAGHAN.—A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the Bishop's Residence on Saturday, November 9th when Anne Elizabeth Callaghan, daughter of Mr. Peter Callaghan, and the late Mrs. Callaghan, New Wiltshire, became the bride of Mr. Frederick Charles Brady of this City. Rev. Louis Callaghan, brother of the bride performed the ceremony. Miss Bernadette Gaudet and Mr. Sidney Fielding attended the couple. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Brady left on a motor trip through the Maritime Provinces. Before her marriage the bride was guest of honor at several prettily arranged showers. The large number of wedding presents is evidence of the popularity of the young couple.

HARVEST HOME.—On Friday evening last, a well attended and successful "Harvest Home" observance was held in Elliot Hall, Fairview, in connection with the Sabbath school and preaching station of that place. Rev. J. W. S. Lowry presided, and after devotional exercises introduced the programme of the evening as follows: Chorus, "O Canada" and "Where are the Reapers" by the audience, "Bringing in the Sheaves", by the School; Recitation, by Loreta Alcorn, Olive MacKinnon, Peggy MacMillan, June MacEachern, Mary MacPherson and Ella MacEachern; Duet by Rev. and Mrs. Lowry, recitation by three little boys Patriotic Narrative by Miss Bertha Webster; Solos by Marguerite MacDougall, and Peggy MacMillan, and Chorus by Mrs. School, "Sweet Bye and Bye" Mrs. Garnett Campbell played the accompaniment. Mr. Angus MacEachern presented a report of the offerings for the season which was satisfactory and encouraging. The programme concluded with the singing of the national anthem, after which a very pleasant social hour was spent, light refreshments being served. Dr. Lowry thanked all who had participated in the programme and in the good work of the Sunday School during the season. A resolution of thanks to the Minister for presiding, and for the services given at that place was passed on the motion of Messrs. Angus MacEachern and James Smith. A short time was then spent in hearty and cheerful community singing after which the company dispersed. The hall was tastefully decorated for the occasion with the fruits of the harvest.

ANNUAL CELEBRATION.—Remembrance Day, Nov. 11, was again fittingly observed at North Rustico, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Doyle, when a number of veterans with their friends assembled for a joyous re-union. Rev. W. V. MacDonald, Hope River, as chairman, recalled to mind the seriousness of war, the respect and gratitude we owe our veterans, and the need of the preservation of the ideals of our beloved boys "who stayed behind." Father MacDonald then called on Hon. A. E. McLean, who, in a masterly manner, told of the Empire's part in the Great War of Canada's, and also described the Peace Tower at Ottawa. Mr. McLean's address was much appreciated. Mr. S. F. Doyle with Mrs. Byron Brown at the piano sang "Absent" as a tribute to the Rustico boys who didn't return. Mr. Doyle also rendered several other solos. Miss Dorothy Toombs gave a humorous monologue "The Dilemma of a French Officer in England." Miss Toombs' clever command of the French language was very favorably commented upon. Miss Lucy Blanchard, who is ever ready to give her wonderful talent to help the occasion, sang several solos. Mr. Charles Rellly contributed an excellent paper. Mrs. Gordon Laird and Miss Lucy Woolner also gave two suitable articles in splendid form and expressly suited to the occasion. Messrs Albert Gallant, George Clark, Pat Martin, George LeClair, Hon. A. E. McLean sang old favorites, and also led the boys in the old stirring war songs with Mrs. Pat Martin accompanying. Miss Freda Peters rendered several piano solos. Step dancing by Stephen Marshall, George Clark, Robert Bradley, modern dancing with Mrs. Brown and Miss F. Peters at the piano, and old time dancing with violin music by Messrs V. Devce, Art Gallant and Ben Doucette were pleasing features. A bountiful lunch was served by the hostess and ladies present. Through the whole evening a spirit of good fellowship prevailed, that feeling so prevalent in Flanders Fields, and with our silent prayerful memories of our absent ones we can re-echo the thought "We have kept faith." Alcohol Causes Nerves to Contract

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Editor CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Nov. 20.—(A.P.)—A discovery that alcohol causes nerves to retract, or shorten up slightly, was reported today to the national academy of sciences here.

The implication of the intoxication mechanism for man was that alcohol by causing similar retraction both at nerve endings and at nerve joints, or "synapses" put resistance into the nerve lines, dulling their control over mind and body. Dr. Carl Spiegl of the University of Virginia, who discovered the nerve ending retraction in the tadpoles, amplified the possible applications to man in an interview. The alcoholic tadpoles showed some of the effects familiar in real "jags." When two to three per cent alcohol was placed in the water where they lived, they became drowsy. As the tadpoles became drowsy, the nerve endings withdrew from their skins, leaving at first a thin filament connecting to the skin. This filament disappeared soon. In that condition, Dr. Spiegl said, it was probable the tadpoles sense of touch was deadened. This nerve creeping, it was explained, appears to offer a new insight on the effects of alcohol on man, although the retraction had been seen actually to date only in tadpoles.

The thing seen, in transparent tails of tadpoles, was nerve endings retreating slightly from the skin in the presence of two or three per cent alcohol.

Wax Plucking Economic

One of the reasons for the popular adoption of the wax plucking of poultry is that the process is not an expensive one. Recovery of 95 per cent of the wax—a figure which can be realized without much difficulty—means a loss of about one pound of wax in the dressing of forty average birds. The reclaimed wax may be used repeatedly. The reclaiming operation consists in simply melting down the pieces of wax, allowing the mass of wax and feathers to get quite hot, and then straining. A broad-bladed pliable knife, or even a flat stick, can be used to press the larger part of the residual wax out of feathers.

Farm Clubs Idea Grows In Canada

OTTAWA, Nov. 20.—Teams from each of the nine provinces are competing at the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto, Nov. 20-28, in the annual national contests for Canadian boys' and girls' farm clubs, with an aggregate membership of 30,282. The 32 teams of two members each are those who won in the provincial contests in projects dealing with livestock, poultry and field crops. There are 61 boys in the 32 teams and three girls. Marlon Wood, 16, of Mount Herbert, Prince Edward Island; Louisa Kerr, 18, Stanley, N. B., and Hazel Sellick, 18, Cross Creek, N. B. The Prince Edward Island representative won in the provincial beef cattle judging and the two New Brunswick girls are winners in the provincial poultry project. The teams go to Toronto for the contests under the auspices of the Canadian Council on Boys and Girls club work, the membership of which includes the two principal railways and several nationally known business organizations. The trip is a reward to teams for success in provincial contests. The farm club movement in Canada is growing rapidly. In 1931 there are 1900 clubs and 30,282 members. Similar clubs are operated in the United States, Great Britain, Australia and New Zealand. In Canada the Canadian Council on Boys and Girls Club work has its headquarters in Ottawa, with A. E. McLaurin, the general secretary. Dr. W. V. Langley, Director of Extension, Nova Scotia Agricultural College, Truro, is the president.

Likely Cure For Leukemia

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(A.P.)—A new inoculation which may hold vast possibilities for the treatment of leukemia, a wild cell growth of cancerous nature, was announced tonight by the Carnegie Institution of Washington. Dr. E. C. MacDowell, geneticist of the Carnegie staff, told a group of scientists gathered for his special lecture that he had produced immunization to leukemia in mice.

The methods used, he said, were similar to those in the prevention of such diseases as typhoid fever. Leukemia is a rare human disease but is among the most dreaded because it is almost always fatal. The white corpuscles of the blood run wild, producing numbers far in excess of the individuals needs, and causing excessive enlargement of the spleen, liver and lymphatic glands. It is normally classed as a malignant tumor. MacDowell said his research of the past seven years has shown that leukemia arises spontaneously in mice and is similar in its activity in both mice and man. He was able to transfer leukemic cells which originated in one mouse and transplant them successively through a great number of generations of mice. In certain animals the transplanted cells will continue their wild growth," he said. "Since normal cells could not do this, it is clear that leukemic cells rather than in a change in the regulatory mechanism, leads to the disease." Resistance to the disease was built up in one way by administering such small numbers of diseased cells that they did not become established and the mouse survived. The dose was progressively increased until the animal could withstand enormous doses of the leukemic cells.

President Roosevelt May Visit Maritimes

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Nov. 20.—(G.P.)—President Roosevelt last paid a holiday visit to Canada in June, 1933, when he spent a few days at the Roosevelt summer home on Campobello Island, New Brunswick. The President made many summer visits to the Island when a boy and young man. Just this week a letter was received in Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, from Judge Charles McDermott, formerly of the United States Supreme Court Bench, which stated that President Roosevelt might visit the Judge, an old friend, at the latter's summer home near Yarmouth possibly next summer, to enjoy tuna fishing.
