The engagement is announced of Miss Gladys Ventry Goring, daughter of the late P. W. Goring, R. N., and Mrs. Hartley, 8, Redcliffe Gardens, South Kensington, and granddaughter of the late Hon. Edward Palmer, Chief Justice of Prince Edward Island to X. G. Pavlides, barrister-at-law, and managing director of the Herodine Mines Company, and son of the late Professor G. Pavlides, Athens, Greece—Canadian Gazette.

The death occurred at the Halifax Infirmary Wednesday night of John Handrahan, a native of Charlottetown, aged 70 years. Deceased came to Halifax many years ago. He was a shipwright by trade, but for several years past has been doing business at 12 Argyle Street. He was ill about three weeks with stomach trouble, and underwent two operations from which he failed to rally. He leaves a widow, one son and two daughters, to mourn their loss.—Halifax Ex.

Garth C. White and bride, Calgary, have arrived in this city and are the guests of Mr. White's father, W. C. White, Admiral St. Mr. and Mrs. White are on their wedding trip, their marriage having taken place at the home of the bride (nee Irene Sparling) in Pembroke, Ont., on Wednesday last. The many friends of the happy couple will, on the occasion of this auspicious event, extend best wishes for a happy and prosperous life to both he and his partner. They leave for Calgary, where they will reside, on Thursday next. Mr. White says that prospects were never better in the Canadian West and a bumper wheat crop is assured.

While out driving Saturday afternoon, accompanied by two small children, Mrs. Daniel Gordon, city, was thrown from her carriage and was slightly injured about the face. Becoming affrighted at something the animal ran from Queen Street along Grafton to Great George and turned rapidly around the corner going east up Kent Street. When in front of P. J. Bradley's residence the carriage collided with a telephone post. As a result all the occupants were thrown violently to the ground and while the children fortunately escaped with scarcely a mark Mrs. Gordon was rendered insensible. She was carried into Dr. Warburton's office where restoratives were applied. She was later removed to her home. Neither the horse nor the carriage sustained any damage. Hitherto the animal has been a perfectly safe carriage horse.

The loss suffered by the Charlottetown Condensed Milk Co. when their splendid factory and plant was almost completely destroyed by fire early Saturday morning, as reported is estimated, amount to $30,000 or $40,000. This is covered by insurance to the amount of $13,000, $7,500 of which is carried by companies represented by Horace Hazard and the balance by companies represented by Col. Davison and E. R. Brow. The firemen had a strenuous pull to the scene but nevertheless responded to the call speedily. It required 3,000 feet of hose, on which were three nozzles, to reach the scene. It was not until twenty minutes to eight that the "all-out" bell rang, and the firemen ceased their strenuous efforts. Almost all the contents of the building, including a considerable quantity of canned goods were destroyed, the only goods being saved being a number of barrels of sugar. The factory was built about twelve years ago. The manufacture of condensed milk, cream and coffee was carried on, the milk being drawn from a radius of ten or twelve miles. A good market for these products was found in the Maritime Provinces and the Canadian West. About twenty people are thrown out of employment. The directors will hold a meeting to decide on future plans.

OLD-TIME REMEDY

DARKENS THE HAIR

Gives Color, Lustre To Faded

And Gray Hair—Dandruff

Quickly Removed.

From time immemorial, sage and sulphur have been used for the hair and scalp. Almost everyone knows of the value of such a combination for darkening the hair, for curing dandruff and falling hair, and for making the hair grow.

In olden times the only way to get a hair tonic of this sort was to brew it in the home fireplace, a method which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays almost every up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready-to-use product, skillfully compounded in perfectly equipped laboratories. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this sort, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, and authorize the following to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by E.A. Foster and McKinnon Drug Co., city.

ECZEMA AND WHAT IS DONE TO CURE IT

Desperate Efforts, Disheartening Failures and Final Success.

Eczeema is a skin affliction to which men and women alike are subject, from the first to the last day of their existence. It may occur as a single tiny spot, appearing and disappearing with each change in general health or present only at certain seasons; at the other extreme, the whole body may be involved in a torturing eruption. The eczeema often gradually grows through the neglect or improper treatment of lesser troubles or an apparently healthy skin may, in a single day, become a mass of eczeema.

But whatever the form of the affection, the distressing itching, burning, scaling and crusting, the serious disfigurement and the constant dread that the eczeema will become chronic, make a speedy cure the aim of every sufferer. Unfortunately, such a cure is not always readily obtained. The most skilled physician often at a loss and even hospitals are forced to discharge the patient as incurable. Then a wide variety of remedies are resorted to, many perfectly harmless and equally ineffective, others so offensive to every sense that, were it not for the relief they are supposed to afford, no person of refinement would tolerate them for an instant. To such sufferers, discouraged by repeated failures of even these heroic methods, the instant relief afforded by the first bath with Cuticura Soap and gentle application of Cuticura Ointment is most forcible. They stop the itching and burning at once, make sleep possible and, in most cases, point to a speedy cure. So pure and sweet are Cuticura Soap and ointment and so free from every substance of a disagreeable or harmful nature that they can be used without hesitation on the youngest infant or tenderest skin. Besides, they are most economical, a single set being often sufficient for the treatment of even the severest cases.

In proof of the efficacy of the Cuticura Remedies it will be enough to quote here a single letter from Mrs. Edwina Newman, 11 Lansing Block, Watertown, N.Y.: "Four years ago I suffered with a terrible eczeema, being a mass of sores from head to feet and for six months confined to my bed. During that time I suffered continual torture from itching and burning. After being given up by my doctor, I was advised to try Cuticura. After the first bath with Cuticura Soap and application of Cuticura Ointment I enjoyed the first good sleep during my entire illness. I also used Cuticura Resolvent and the treatment was continued for three weeks. At the end of that time I was entirely cured and have felt no ill effects since. I would advise any person suffering from any form of this trouble to try the Cuticura Remedies, as I know what they did for me."

Cuticura Soap, Ointment, Resolvent and Pills are sold by druggists everywhere. Potter Drug & Chem. Co., Boston, Mass. Mailed free, on request, latest Cuticura Book, a guide to the speedy and economical treatment of skin and scalp affections, from infancy to age.

which day he was seized with a slight stroke of paralysis while attending to his duties in the Court House. Since that date his health has not been unimpaired though he was frequently so much improved as to be able to get out driving. He did not, however, regain his former activity and on Tuesday last began to show symptoms of a decline. These increased daily until the end came about 4.45 Saturday afternoon.

The deceased was a most learned judge and jurist and in the dual capacity of Master of the Rolls and Assistant Judge of the P. E. I. Bench, was known throughout the entire Province and was highly respected and honored. With his associates on the Bench and the members of the Provincial Bar he ably sustained his reputation in his judicial capacity.

The late Judge Hodgson was born in this city on July 29, 1840, was the son of the late Daniel Hodgson and Ellen White Hodgson. His father was Prothonotary of the Supreme Court here. His early education was received in the old Central Academy and, completing his studies there, he entered the office of Haviland and Brecken and began the study of law. This part of his education he finished at The Temple, London, and returned to his native Province to pursue the practice of his profession. In 1862 he was called to the Bar of this Province and soon became one of the leading law practitioners.

He was created a Q. C. by the Marquis of Lorne in 1879 and in 1890 received the Degree of L.L. D. from Laval University. His rapid elevation from one stage to another in legal practice and the conferring of the Laval L.L. D. Degree indubitably records the development of his exceptional intellectual ability not only as a lawyer but also as a student. His elevation to the Bench and appointment as Master of the Rolls was made in 1891 and since that time until illness intervened nearly three years ago he was constantly on duty and intelligently and capably performed the duties pertaining to his high office with a dignity which commanded respect and honor.

He was a member of the Church of England and was one of the founders of St. Peter's Cathedral in this city and of which he has been a regular attendant when in health since its dedication. He has on several occasions served as a delegate to the Anglican Synod at Halifax and in 1897 represented King's College at the Cabot celebration in Halifax.

He married in 1863, Margaret Matilda Jane, only daughter of Hon. John Brecken, Charlottetown, and she predeceased him. No children were born to them.

In November, 1910, after having been Judge for nineteen years, he tendered his resignation and retired on superannuation.

For many years he was Law Agent for the Dominion Government. He was a fluent speaker and possessed of great versatility. He was a close personal friend of Sir John A. Macdonald, who on several occasions was the guest of Judge Hodgson in this city. The remains will be removed to St. Peter's Church today, and may be viewed there between the hours of three and five p. m. The funeral will take place on Tuesday morning, with a celebration of the Holy Communion at 7.45, and the burial office at 9.30. Mr. Hodgson has left strict instructions to his executors that no floral designs are to be used at his funeral, as he is intensely disliked the custom. This does not include bouquets of flowers which may be sent to the hospitals instead of being allowed to decay on the grave.

TUESDAYS

...What might have been a fatal accident occurred at Kingsboro Sunday evening when Melving McDonald unused well in a field near his farm. Mr. McDonald had occasion to go to a field some distance from his residence and owing to the effective eye-sight lost his way and wandered about for some time until getting over a fence beside which the old well was located instead of landing on the solid ground he landed in the well which was twenty feet deep on a pile of sticks and stones where he remained for six hours before he was discovered by the neighbors who were searching for him. He sustained several injuries necessitating the calling of a doctor from Souris to dress his wounds. The last report was to the effect that he was doing as well as could be expected.

The many friends of Gordon L. Cohoon, Montreal, and at one time a resident of this city, will regret to learn that his mother, Mrs. L. H. Cohoon, died suddenly at Middleton, N. S., on Saturday last. An exchange gives the following particulars. A terrible shock visited Middleton at eight o'clock this morning, Mrs. Lydia M. Cohoon dropped dead at the home of J. H. Potter, aged 52 years. The deceased lady was in her usual health and had remarked, "How well I am feeling this morning." Took breakfast with Mr. and Mrs. Potter. Afterwards, while engaged in ironing some clothing, she turned to Mrs. Potter, and passing her hand to her head said: "Oh, I am so warm," when she suddenly expired in the arms of Mrs. Potter. Death was caused by something giving way in heart or brain. The deceased was visiting with her only daughter, Adrah, and a son, Gordon, survive the deceased.

The village of St. Peter's was visited by a serious fire, according to word received in this city yesterday morning, when at noon the previous day the general store belonging to Harry H. Cox and situated on the south side of St. Peter's Road, was totally destroyed with almost all its contents.

The exact origin of the blaze is unknown but it started in a quantity of wool stored in the second story. At the time a stiff south-east breeze was blowing and the flames soon got beyond control, there being no efficient method of combating it. A small amount of the stock was saved but the building was entirely destroyed.

Cox Bros. store, 80 feet east of the burned building, caught several times and much difficulty was experienced in saving it. A large plate glass window was broken by the heat.

The store destroyed was practically a new building, having been moved to its recent site about two years ago when it was entirely refitted. It was a one and a half storey frame building and was 50 x 30 feet in size.

The loss is estimated at $7,000 to $8,000 and the insurance, principally with Hyndman & Co. city, on the stock amounts to $5,000. It is not known whether the building was insured or not.
