STOCK NOTES.

Fred J. Cameron, Charlottetown, the favoraby known jockey, trainor, and fitter has rented the Park Stables, Euston Street, for the winter and is in a position to accept a limited number of boarding horses. Attention is called to the ad in another column.

The following Charlottetonians own speedy roadsters sired by Okley Baron. McKinnon Drug Company (Red Wing), T. C. Edgett, (White Wing), W. S. McKie, (Baron Wood), Hooper Horne, Henry Douse, John Andrews, Hammond Kelly and William Brown. It is doubtful if any other sire can bring together eight of his get who are owned in Charlottetown, that can outfoot this bunch. Oakley Baron proved himself one of the best carriage stallions the province had for some years and the majority of them were full of speed which added greatly to their value.

In conversation with one of the leading bank managers in Charlottetown, Hughes Charles, Montreal, judge of the horses at the Provincial Exhibition, spoke in the highest terms of that excellent imported mare Devilish Dorothy, owned by Dr. J. T. Jenkins, city. This mare in Mr. Charles' opinion, was one of the finest specimens of horse flesh that he has seen during his many years of judging. Mr. Charles is acknowledged to be one of the shrewdest judges of horses there is in Canada, and his opinion should count for a good deal.

The Guardian learned yesterday that Dr. J. T. Jenkins has purchased Mac Todd, a yearling trotting colt, from J. M. Johnson, of Ponkapac, Mass. Mr. Johnson is a breeder of the finest and was owner of the great Todd which he sold for over thirty thousand dollars. Mac Todd is sired by Echo Todd and is very fast, having stepped a trial half this year in 1.15. His dam has proved herself a great brood mare, having two in the list. Dr. Jenkins is to be commended for bringing to this Province such a richly bred young stallion as the grandson of Todd certainly is.

THE FEMININE OF ELOCUTION.

A woman preacher of America told, at an equal suffrage convention, a witty little story that requires neither preface nor comment.

"When I was studying theology in Boston," she said, "our professor explained that when we said 'all the world,' we should spread our arms wide in an appropriate gesture, indicating the largeness of the world. Then the good man hesitated, looked at me—I was the only woman in the class—and added—

"Of course, a lady would not be expected to gesticulate like a man. A lady would gesticulate from the elbows."—Weekly Scotsman.

BERLIN WOMEN MAKE PROTEST.

The question of the ever increasing dearness of meat and other articles of food is becoming very acute, writes a Berlin contributor to the Monitor. The official request of the Social Democratic party to the imperial chancellor to explain the attitude he took in the matter has been completely ignored and the silence is not considered favorable. According to the Berliner Tageblatt a party which comprises two-thirds of the Reichstag is entitled at least to a reply.

Twenty-seven protest meetings of Berlin women of the working and lower middle classes were called in greater Berlin recently all of which were crowded to the doors. As the majority were held in the north of the city, it was deemed probable that there would be disturbances: consequently a large detachment of police were present at each meeting, in uniform and in private clothes. Everything passed off quietly, though the speeches were by no means lacking in energy, and the organization was very creditable.

The same resolution was unanimously passed at all the meetings. It was to the effect that the Berliner Hausfrauen were no longer able to make both ends meet with the customary house-keeping money; that the family was therefore insufficiently fed. They demanded, in the interest of the people and in the name of their children, that government and municipality combine in taking immediate measures alleviate the general distress, that the frontiers be opened and that the duties upon food be abolished of lessened that the municipal corporation should provide meat for the people at cost price.

The latter course is actually already being put into practice at Goerlitz, where the city corporation is importing Danish meat, which is sold up as soon as it comes into the market. Other cities notably Cologne and Dusseldorf are also considering the subject. Christian Science Monitor.

WAKENING CHURCH SLEEPERS

One John Rudge is on record as having bequeathed to the Parish of Trysull in Shropshire, Eng., 20 shillings a year to be paid to "a poor man" employed to go about church in summer to keep people awake, says Harper's Weekly.

At another English Church, that of Action in Cheshire, it was the practice during the middle of the last century for one of the Church during wardens to proceed thro the church service with a huge wand in his hand, wherewith, if any of the congregation were observed to be asleep, he was instantly awakened by a tap on the head.

In Warwick a similar custom prevailed. A warden bearing a stout wand shaped like a hay fork at the end stepped stealthily up and down the nave and the aisles, and whenever he saw an individual asleep he rouched him so effectively that the nap was broken—this being sometimes accomplished by the application of the fork to the nape of the neck.

A more playful method obtained in another church. The beadle went about during service carrying a long staff, to one end of which was attached a fox brush and to the other a knob. With the former he gently tickled the faces of the women sleepers, while with the knob he bestowed a sharp rap on the heads of male offenders.

MOTHER KILLED HER TWO CHILDREN.

MEDICINE, HAT, Alta., Oct. 17—The Mounted Police were summoned from this point this morning to investigate a murder and suicide which occurred at Tide Lake, 26 miles north of Carlstedt. Mrs. Julia Polosky, who lost her husband and one child recently through typhoid and who apparently became somewhat unsettled in her mind through grief and through complications in regard to her possession of the homestead, butchered her two remaining children aged five and three years, with a carving knife, and then apparently turned the same weapon upon herself. The family were Polish immigrants and the tragedy was discovered by Polish neighbors.

LABOR CONDITIONS IMPROVING IN CANADA.

OTTAWA, Oct. 17—An improvement is shown in labor conditions in regard to disturbances throughout industrial disputes during September. The Department of Labor records the fact that there are 21 disputes in existence during the month, an increase of 2 as compared with the previous month, though an increase is still maintained over the corresponding month of last year. Ten disputes all commenced during September, the most important of which were those of coal miners on Vancouver Island and carpenters at Moosejaw. The former involved a cessation of work on the part of about 3,000 miners, that at Moosejaw affected 450 workers, but was not of long duration. About 5,000 employees were thrown out of work by disputes in existence during September.

MRS. SNODGRASS FAINTED.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Oct. 17—Overcome by emotion when the electrical score board, at a local theatre yesterday showed Fred Snodgrass muff the the fly which cost the New York Giants the world's championship title, Mrs. Snodgrass, mother of the New York outfielder, fainted. Mrs. Snodgrass is an ardent Fan.

H. W. BAGNALL'S ARREST

in his present trouble.

Upon a statement of his accounts with a New York house, being produced, showing that three shares of stock are being held at New York city, the charge of embezzlement against Harry W. Bagnall, stock broker of this city, arrested yesterday afternoon, was withdrawn in the police court this morning.

Bagnall was arrested upon a warrant, yesterday afternoon, on a charge of misappropriating or embezzling $300, given him to invest in United States Rubber stock, by David Robertson, bookkeeper of the firm of Robertson and Martin, dentists.

Immediately after his arrest and confinement to the cells, Bagnall was released by Magistraite O'Keefe on $1,200 bail.

In July last David Robertson, who is an old stock holder in the United States rubber company, wished to purchase some of the preferred stock of the company, that has been issued. The issue of the new stock was made in proportion to the previous holdings of the shareholders. Mr Robertson was entitled to three shares, accordingly he went to Bagnall and gave him instructions to purchase this amount of stock, and a cheque for three hundred dollars.

Since then the stock certificates have not been forthcoming, repeated applications for them were made, and Bagnall so it was alleged, finally informed his client that he had used the money for other purposes, and that the rubber shares had not been purchased.

Mr. Robertson, swore out a warrant for Bagnall's arrest yesterday afternoon, and Detective Ryan acting upon this warrant, went to Bagnall's office and arrested him.

In court this morning the charge against Bagnall was read but, before he had a chance to plead, W. C. McCarthy, counsel for Mr. Roberts asked that the charge be withdrawn, as Mr. Bagnall's solicitor had produced a statement of his client's accounts, whereby, it was shown that the three shares of stock, had been held by a New York firm, as security for Bagnall's previous indebtedness to them.

"Are you satisfied that no criminal transaction has taken place" asked Magistrate O'Keefe, of Mr. McCarthy.

"It is a very fine distinction and is on the borderland, between a civil and criminal action. It is not wholly confined to Ottawa but has a New York end," answered Mr. McCarthy.

The explanation for the withdrawal of the charge, as given by Mr. McCarthy, is that the transaction might have been one of debit and credit accounts.

"The distinction between the civil and criminal sides of the charge is as thin as a sheet of cigarette paper, and the criminal code makes no distinction as to where the line between the two is drawn," said Mr. McCarthy.

In the event of a criminal action it would have to be conclusively shown that Bagnall had intentionally misappropriated the funds given him to his own use. Should a civil action be taken it would be clearly a matter of debt and credit accounts.

"I have nothing to say, further than the charge against me was not a criminal one," was Mr. Bagnall's statement at 1 o'clock today.
