IMPORTANT READING MATTER SELECTED FROM THIS WEEK'S NEWS FOR THE GUARDIAN'S SATURDAY SUBSCRIBERS

MONDAY.

The death occurred at his home in this city on Saturday evening of Francis McQuillan, Pownal Street. Mr. McQuillan was over seventy years of age. He leaves a widow and two sons, at present in the country, to mourn their loss. The funeral notice will appear later.

The death took place at his home in Alexandria yesterday of Benjamin Wood, in the seventy-ninth year of his age. He leaves to mourn several sons, one at Dundas, one at home and a couple in the U. S. A. The funeral will be held pending the arrival here of the sons from abroad.

...A successful public entertainment was held in Valleyfield Hall on Tuesday, the 10th inst., at which the following interesting program was well rendered: Opening address, Wm. E. MacPhee; speech, Samuel M. Martin; song, D. B. McPherson; recitation, Miss Ruth McLeod; speech, John N. Macdonald; song, John A. Campbell; speech, Murdoch Beaton; duet, the Misses Christina and Sadie McLeod; chorus, the choir. Wm. E. MacPhee presided in his usual efficient manner and the order was excellent.—"Loo-Loo."

The postponed Christmas service in connection with the Victoria Methodist Church was held on Sunday afternoon, Jany. 8th, and the weather being fine there was a large attendance. The music by the choir and exercises by the children of the Sabbath School were well rendered and highly appreciated by the large congregation. Rev. W. A. Thomson, Pastor, presided and delivered a short address expressing his appreciation and pleasure at being present. A silver collection was taken at the close of the service.

Rev. H. E. Thomas, City, occupied the pulpit of the First Methodist Church last evening for the first time since his leave of absence granted during his illness. His congregation were delighted to have him with them again and were pleased to hear him express himself as "possessed of a fair measure of health and strength," which condition, undoubtedly will gradually improve. His sermon last evening was from Mark 3:13,14,15. He preached in Grace Methodist Church in the morning, exchanging with Rev. Wm. Harrison.

Robert Jenkins, Mt Albion, Secretary of the P. E. I. Cheese Board, has received the following letter from W. W. Moore, of the Department of Agriculture Ottawa: "This morning I am in receipt of a letter from our Cargo Inspector at Halifax stating that the total number of boxes of P. E. Island cheese shipped from the port of Halifax the past season was as follows:—To London, 17,688, to Liverpool, 13,055; to Glasgow, 542. Total, 31,285. Our inspector adds 'I find a great improvement in the handling. The percentage of broken boxes is very small and will not average over 3 percent. The above inspector has been stationed at Halifax during the fall and winter seasons for several years past and it is gratifying to learn that the cheese are now handled so carefully as is indicated by the very small percentage of breakage."

One of the most entertaining and encouraging gatherings that a person might wish to see met in Triumph Division rooms in North Wiltshire last Wednesday evening. Some members from Kingston Star and other Divisions met with Triumph Division, there being about eighty members, nearly all young people, united together in one great and noble cause, the suppression of the liquor evils. If every other district could turn out such an array of temperance soldiers, as were lined up on that occasion, in a short time the liquor dealers would have no patrons, and would have to quit their lazy methods of preying upon their unfortunate victims. The program of the evening was a long and good one with every member ready to respond to the call. After the regular business of the Division was over, the doors were opened to all who might choose to hear the program. This has been an encouraging feature of that Division for some time, drawing a large attendance at each meeting.

—The death occurred at Middleton, on Saturday last, of Mrs. Cliffprd Wright, daughter of George White of York Point. She leaves to mourn a husband and two small children, one an infant, about six weeks old. The funeral took place yesterday at two p. m. to the Bedeque Baptist Cemetery and was largely attended.

In St. James' Church yesterday morning Rev. T. F. Fullerton addressed the congregation on the subject "Eighteen years in St. James' Church." Yesterday was the closing Sunday in the church year and Mr. Fullerton, who has been the pastor of that church for the past eighteen years, recalled many changes which had taken place during his pastorate. His address was a strong one and was of particular interest to the congregation.

—The death occurred at Summerside on Saturday morning last of Lettie Gould, wife of Wm. Schurman, formerly of Sherbrooke, but who now resides in Summerside. The deceased who was sixty-five years of age had been ailing for some years with rheumatism although able to be around and attend to household duties up to within three or four weeks ago. Besides her husband she leaves to mourn one son Cecil of Halifax, William, Gould, Canning, John, of Summerside; Jonah of Wilmner, Minn., and Richard of Centreville are brothers of the deceased.

The home of William and Mrs. McPherson, Junction Road, was the scene of a very pleasant event on Monday, Jan. 2nd when a goodly number of friends and relatives gathered at their home. John Matheson on behalf of those present, presented them with a beautiful sleigh robe, accompanied by an address. Mr. McPherson although taken by surprise replied in a very appropriate manner. Addresses were then delivered by Malcolm McPherson, Alexander Matheson and others. The remainder of the evening was enjoyably spent in songs, games and social conversation. The meeting came to a close by singing the National Anthem.

—Evangelist I. S. MacKay of New Glasgow, N. S., has been conducting special services for parts of the last three winters, in different sections of this province, at present and for the last two weeks C'Leary has been greatly blessed, by an outpouring of God's Spirit in a series of revival services held in the Presbyterian Church. The building is far too small to accomodate the crowds that nightly assemble long before the appointed hour of service. On Friday last the writer had the privilege of attending the meeting, and was much impressed by the deep spiritual influence of the entire service. Evangelist MacKay, Rev. Mr. Murray, the pastor of the Church, and Rev. Mr. Brown, Methodist minister of Springfield, urged all present to make a stand on the Lord's side. The singing was heartily joined in, and a large number took part in the open testimony service. In the after meeting a number of young and old people came forward to the front seats seeking salvation. Evangelist MacKay has been in his special work for the past twenty-four years, he helps to support six missions in the foreign field, and his deep earnestness, has been used of God, for great good. He has invitations to West Cape, Alberton and other places where special services will shortly be

In the case of Robert VanIderstine, City Collector, against Francis McRory, Alex. Horne, John Drake and the estate of J. P. Tanton, for assessment for concrete sidewalks, the argument on behalf of the city was continued on Saturday by Mr. Johnston, K. C., who finished at five o'clock. He contended that even if the assessment had been irregularly or illegally made by the City Council, which was the authority authorized by statute to make the assessment, the question of the validity of the assessment could not now be raised before the Judge of the city courts as the statute expressly provides that there shall be no appeal from such assessment and he contended that the only way in which the validity of the assessment could be questioned was by an application by certiorari to the Supreme Court to quash the assessment levied by the City Council. This should have been done three years ago when the assessment was made and notice of same given. He contended further that the assessment was properly and legally made by the City Council in accordance with the law. He showed that the assessment was not an inequitable one, as contended by the defendants, but, if anything, the parties were assessed too low according to the ratio decided upon by the Council and that the defendants had no case upon the merits. Regarding the notice of the assessment he produced an affidavit showing that defendants had been served each year since the assessment was made in 1907 with notice of the assessment. Mr. Stewart, K. C., produced two additional affidavits, one from Alex. Horne and one from himself. Judgment was reserved. J. J. Johnston, K. C., for the city, and Stewart, K. C., Mathieson, K. C., and McLean, K. C., for the defendants.

—The funeral of the late Mrs. Trueman took place on Saturday afternoon last from the residence of her son at Searleton to the Methodist Cemetery of that place and was very largely attended. The services at the house and grave were conducted by Rev. Hammond Johnson. The pallbearers were the six nephews of the deceased:—Dr. Black, Crapaud; Chas. Black, Centreville; Arthur Wright, Hampton; Joseph Webster, Searleton; L. A. and F. J. E. Wright of Summerside.

William Gardiner, an esteemed resident of Lot 48, passed peacefully away on Jan. 5th at the age of seventy-eight years. Deceased leaves to mourn one son, Alfred in Kensington and one brother Thomas in Tanoe Cove, also four sisters, Miss Matilda in Cape Traverse, Mrs. Geo. Renshaw, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Frame all of whom reside in the United States. The funeral took place from Thos. Howatt's, Cape Traverse, the service being conducted by the Rev. James MacDougall.

—The annual meeting of the Summerside Presbyterian congregation was held Wednesday evening, when the various reports were presented all showing a healthy and satisfactory condition. Contributions to missions during the year amounted to $1,136.60. The following is the board of managers for the ensuing year: Thomas E. Ramsay, Dr. Jardine, S. M. Hicks, J. C. Jardine, P. N. Enman, J. H. Burns, H. Stewart, D. M. Waugh, Murdock McLeod, W. K. Llewelyn. The Ladies' Aid Society reported a most prosperous year with a substantial fund on hand. They submitted a proposition to upholster the church pews which was unanimously endorsed by the meeting, the matter being left entirely in the hands of the Ladies' Aid. Dr. Jardine presided.—Pion.

Rarely has the denomination and certainly the Cornwall Circuit never incurred a greater loss than in the decease of Mr. Howard.

Many out of their abundance have given larger amounts of money for different purposes, but according to his means, and they were fairly good no doubt, his benefactions were given with a wealth of love and earnest desire for the progress of the work in its different departments. From a somewhat intimate acquaintance with our departed brother, I can truly write that many gifts were bestowed, of which people generally knew but very little and will only be known when the more brilliant light of the glorious future shall illuminate the doings of time. In him and Mrs. Howard the minister always found firm and steadfast friends.

There still remains on the Cornwall circuit many families whom any minister may be pleased to regard as his friends, and who will no doubt perform their part wisely and well, but a good man in our Israel has fallen and his departure must be severely felt. To his bereaved widow who was his helpmeet not only in the house but in all things pertaining to the best interests of the church the blow must be very heavy and for her and the members of the family many fervent prayers have been offered. May our gracious Lord have them all in His keeping.

It has been truly stated concerning the power of Great Britain "We dig a grave and extend the Empire." So with the greater kingdom of our common Redeemer the workers fall one after another, but the work continues to extend.

The body of our dear brother rests in the burial ground hard by the church in the erection of which he took such a deep interest, "but his spirit liveth for evermore."

Sir:—

A new resident in Summerside, Rev R. O. Morse, believes the mail service for all points west of Charlottetown is so bad that it calls forth from him a lengthy letter in the "Halifax Herald," which was copied in your paper of the 14th. The reverend gentleman may consider that he has a right to speak for all that section of the Province, but he would get very few outside of the town of Summerside to coincide with his views. He claims that the "Summerside-Tormentine" route would give the most advantageous winter service. Is this statement correct? Without taking into consideration the fact as to the uncertainty of always making a landing at Cape Tormentine, in stormy or foggy weather, or when there is any quantity of running ice in the Straits, or as to the very meagre facilities there for the handling and accommodation of mails, freight and passengers. Could there be any improvement in the mail service over the "Charlottetown-Pictou" route as operated last winter and as experienced so far this winter? Take the case of the Halifax paper quoted in Mr Morse's letter. It would leave Halifax at 8.00 a. m. Monday morning, reach Tormentine about 4.00 p. m. same day and arrive in Summerside about noon on Tuesday * and would be delivered in Charlottetown between 2.00 and 3.00 p. m. Tuesday afternoon. That is to say the people of Summerside would receive their Halifax papers about four hours earlier in the day and the people of Charlottetown would receive their's about four hours later than at present and let us not forget the great uncertainties that would surely be experienced in the "Summerside-Tormentine" service. Let us take the mails from all points west, including the United States mails, the main portion of which are received by the C. P. R. which arrives at Sackville about 5.00 p. m., three or four hours after the departures of the train from Sackville for Tormentine. This mail would stay in Sackville over night, be forwarded to Tormentine on the following day and leave for Summerside on the next day thereafter and would not land in Charlottetown until three or four that afternoon, whereas by Pictou, without the employment of any special trains, this mail is landed in Charlottetown by 11.00 a.m. on the morning after its arrival in Pictou and reaches Summerside about 5.00 p. m. on the same day, a gain of practically 24 hours.

It is well to remember that for all points west of Summerside there is only one train a day. Accordingly for these places so far as the incoming mail is concerned the advantage is largely in favor of the "Charlottetown-Pictou" route, not only for the reason that the mails are received earlier without the employment of special trains, but because the service via Pictou & Charlottetown is more advantageous and certain in every respect; and this applies to all the outlying sections of the Island as has been proved by experience in the past. Connections can be made better with the trains east, south and west on the eastern route than it is possible on the western route.

So far as mails outward are concerned the same connection is made at Pictou as would be possible under the present train arrangement at Tormentine; that is, connections are made with the "Maritime Express" going west, and a letter for Halifax or points east goes forward to its destination precisely as under the summer arrangement. Of course by the employment of a special train between Charlottetown and Summerside and also a special train from Tormentine to Sackville connection might be made with the C. P. R. going west, although it would be uncertain, but the advantage to be gained in this way would not be considered sufficient to warrant the expenditure for the special trains above mentioned.

For eight months of the year Summerside received their mail vis Pt. Du Chene early in the evening and despatches their mail about 9.30 in the morning. This is a great advantage as compared with Charlottetown which transacts more than one third of the postal business in this Province and because this city has a slight advantage for the four Winter months a selfish spirit is displayed by certain parties in Summerside which is very hard to account for in this Twentieth Century.

TUESDAY

The death occurred at Westmoreland on Sunday, the 15th inst., of Stephen Newson aged eleven years, second son of Hammond and Mrs. Newson. The funeral took place yesterday at two p.m. to the Baptist Cemetery at Westmoreland, Rev. Mr. Field conducting the services at the house and grave.

A delightful evening was spent by all who attended the social in the Baptist Schoolroom last evening. A short but very interesting program included several numbers of high merit. Miss Aitken's piano solos were received with much applause, the Harmonica selections by Mr. Duffy caught the enthusiastic approval of the audience—and a very fine instrumental quartette by Acorn Brothers and Mr. Hargrove was also well received. Miss Mamie Ross gave two very sweet vocal selections, and little Miss Edith Jenkins showed an excellent elocutionary talent. Two very interesting contests furnished much amusement. The first prize for best parody on a verse of "The Bridge" was won by Mr. Robt. McLeod of Uigg.

Last evening the congregation of St. James' held their annual meeting. There was a large attendance and a highly successful meeting from all standpoints was held. After an amount of routine business had been transacted the matter of the pastor's salary resulted in an increase of $400 being placed to Mr. Fullerton's present stipend, making it now stand at $2000. Another official in the person of the janitor had his salary increased by $50. The financial statement for the year shows receipts to have been $4,931.69 and expenditure $4,917.31, leaving a surplus of $14.38. The receipts included Envelopes $2,560.06, special collection $167, open collection $497.75, Y. M. L. A. $75, Robertson Endowment Fund $500, Ladies Aid Society $1,113.50. The expenditure included minister's salary $1600, organists' salary $600, janitors salary $208. Repairs to organ, and church $452.45. Next year the receipts are estimated at $3,300 and the expenditure the same.

A meeting of the Maple Leaf Farmers Institute was held in Summerville school house on Thursday evening, Jan. 5th. The attendance was large and honoured by the presence of Peter Brodie who was invited by the members of the Institute to address the meeting. Mr. Brodie gave a lengthy, interesting and profitable address taking for his subject the bacon hog and the dairy cow. He also spoke on the Central Seed Fair and improved seed in which he takes a deep interest, claiming that in his opinion the farmers would be doubly rewarded in making a stronger effort towards improving their seed grain as well as improving their stock. Mr Brodie confines his efforts along those lines and has already achieved excellent success. We congratulate him on his long array of prizes. A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Brodie to which he replied expressing his pleasure on being present and finding the Institute in a prosperous condition financially and otherwise. The next meeting will be held in Alberry Plains for the purpose of discussing the purchase of improved stock.

—The funeral of the late Mrs William Schurman, Summerside, took place on Sunday last from her late residence Spring street to the People's Cemetery and was largely attended. The services at the house were conducted by Rev. A. F. W. Myers, and at the grave by Rev. Mr. Townsend. The pall-bearers were:—Thos Frizzel, T. D. Ramsay, John McKay, Thos. E. Ramsay, N. McFarlane and F. H. Leard.

Mrs. William Down and family, city, will have the sincere sympathy of all in the sudden death of Harry Down, who passed gway yesterday after a brief illness from meningitis. He leaves to mourn besides his mother several brothers and sisters. Harry was only sixteen years of age and attended one of the city schools. He was a bright young chap and will be much missed by all who knew him. The funeral notice is in another column.

The mild weather of the past month or so and especially the open harbor, which, up to a few days ago, was free from ice except around the wharves and the shores, has reminded citizens of conditions which prevailed nineteen years ago. Up to the middle of January in 1892 the harbor here was perfectly free of ice, as were Alberton, Summerside and other P. E. Island harbors. The prevailing weather was fog and rain and roads were in a muddy condition. Farmers in Crapaud were plowing and ice men here were expressing grave fears for their chances of getting in a supply of ice for the summer trade. The Northumberland and the Stanley were both running between Pictou and this port and on the 13th Taylor and Lord, of St. Peters Island came to this city in an open boat. The Southport was running to Rocky Pt and up East River and on that evening a heavy rain fell. In this harbor on Monday 11th., a single scull boat race was held between A. Newsome and C. J. Patton and on Wednesday, (13th) two four-oared crews fought it out in a race under good weather conditions. The winning crew were John Young, A. Wedge, S. Wedge and W. Perry. There were other races also on that day. A Guardian of that date stated that "there is no sign of snow as yet and several more races may be looked for before the harbor closes." Among the citizens who remembers the last mentioned race distinctly is Chief of the Fire Department Ronahan, who first called The Guardian's attention to the mild weather of that year.

U. S. Consul Deedmeyer, city, writing to the Consular and Trade Reports, says regarding the wool clip of this Province: Sheep raising has declined in Prince Edward Island as well as in the other Provinces of Canada. In 1871 the returns showed 3,155,509 sheep; in 1891, 2,563,781, and in 1901, 2,510,239. The provincial returns for all Canada for 1909 give the total number as 2,705,390. Prince Edward Island had in 1881 166,496 sheep; in 1901, 125,546, and their number this year is put as low as 80,000. The wool clip of this Province is estimated for 1910 at 350,000 pounds. The best prices paid here this year were in July and August, when tub-washed wool brought 25 cents per pound. Only a small percentage is worked up locally; nearly the entire clip goes to the mills in Ontario and Quebec. None is shipped to the United States. Notwithstanding the rapid development of agriculture in almost every branch, advancing meat prices and unlimited pasturage, the raising of sheep in Canada has made no advance in the last ten years. This is attributed to the general introduction of sharp wire fencing and to the inadequacy of legal regulations tending to restrain the running at large of unmuzzled dogs. The average price paid in all Canada in 1909 for domestic unwashed wool was 17 cents per pound; for washed, 24 cents. The imports by Canada of raw wool in the year 1909 were 5,683,948 pounds, valued at $1,042,662. The Republic of Argentina contributed nearly 500,000 pounds in 1909. The exports of raw wool from Canada were, in pounds: 1,080,824. The duty levied by Canada on sheep's wool is 2 cents per pound when imported from the United Kingdom and the reciprocating British colonies, and 3 cents when imported from other countries.

—The wrestling match at Kensington Hall last evening proved a great spectacle to the large crowd who attended. The first on the list, Joe Higgins, was downed after one minute and forty seconds, the next man up proved a slippery eel in the person of Alban Sheehan, quite a husky boy, staying two minutes and thirty-five seconds. But the tussle of the evening came with the Young Goliath, better known around Kensington as Ronnie McDonald, who stayed the wily Scotchman off seventeen minutes and forty-five seconds, his brother appearing to think that he was a better man than the Scot, put up some money saying that McLeod could not throw him three times in thirty minutes. The Scotsman appeared to be a little afraid but rather than be called a squealer he took him up. The match was arranged for Wednesday night, Jan. 18th at 8.15. If McLeod fails to throw the husky Goliath he loses the match. The referee was Hugie Morrison who did his duty faithfully giving all a square deal. The time keeper, an honest man known as Billie Kennedy did his work to the satisfaction of all.

...East Point Institute met at "Good, Roads." The discussion was Greenvale to discuss the question of opened by Michael Mooney who has had a large experience as Road Inspector. He emphasized the need for the expenditure of more money in order to make more permanent work, showing the advantage of concrete culverts, drains in boggy pieces of roads, bars or brakes on all long hhills to turn the water into the ditches, experienced men to manage the road machines. Geo Mooney, D. C. McDonald, J. A. McDonald and F. S. Robertson followed and brought out several points, especially these:—Roads should be worked early in the season while damp enough to make well; That it was not good practice to fill ruts with stones, as this only made another rut alongside; brush was much better covered with clay, using the split-log drag to keep the chine operators should not be changed so frequently; that more attention should be payed to the roads in winter, and the main road kept as much as possible; that a practical man thoroughly understanding all phases of road work, should instruct and oversea supervisors. Permanent work should always be the aim and a change in the location of some roads would be a great improvement. The next meeting will be held at East Baltic Jan 20th., when the discussion will be continued by Hon. L. McDonald. Education will be considered alroads tin good shape; that roah maso

Following is the yearly milk and butter fat record of the Jersey cow, Lady Grey No. 804, owned by Frank Glydon & Son, Margate, P. E. I. Her age on October 1st, 1909, when her record started, was 2 years, 138 days. She dropped a calf prematurely on September 7th, 1910, and this, of course, mitigated against her, making a higher score for that month and lessening her total production.

Messrs. Glydon have a very nice herd of pure bred Jerseys. They are adding quantity and quality to the numbers of their herd and the fact that an accurate record is kept of each cow's production is ample proof that they are progressive, wide awake dairymen, who are bound to succeed. Frank Glydon has taken a course in the Provincial Dairy school, Sussex, and manufactures a gilt-edge product.—Maritime Farmer.
