HOME VENTILATION.

"If they would but keep their windows open at night, there would be little need of my doctoring them at all," said a plain speaking physician, referring to a certain class of his patients.

Many people are really afraid of night air. They seem to have a feeling that God has put something very deadly into the atmosphere that surrounds the earth after the sun has disappeared. Now, look at that thought, just a moment. It isn't in the least after the manner of God's provision for His children. Besides it is really the same air that has been over the earth, lighted and heated and cleansed by the sun all day; nothing whatever has happened to contaminate it. Again, there is no air to breathe after sunset, but "night air," outside or inside. True, air at night is apt to be a little damper and cooler than it is during the day, but that does not effect it for breathing purposes, else how could humanity endure days that are damper and cooler than other days? How could people live and thrive at the seashore as they do?

Another thing to think of, is whether night air could possibly be any more fatal to health than is air filled with the carbonic acid gas thrown off by action of the lungs—a real poison. For a test, breathe into a clean bottle, than stop it quickly and tightly; after several hours smell of the contents of the bottle. Your nose will tell you a very unpleasant story. Fill a clean bottle with clean water, take it out of doors after dark, pour out the water and let it fill with air, stop it tightly; then smell of it in the morning. Your nose will have nothing different to say than it would had you experimented with daylight air. Some morning, after you have been out of doors and had a good sniff of fresh air, enter a small room, tightly closed, in which one or two people have been sleeping. Your sense of smell will be greatly offended. If your room is small and not well ventilated, and you become restless so that you cannot sleep, wrap yourself warmly, throw the window open wide and draw in deep breaths for a few minutes. The fresh, pure air from outside replaces the poison-laden air in your lungs, and makes you comfortable. You'll sleep, at least till the air of the room gets

OPERATION HER ONLY CHANCE

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lindsay, Ont.—"I think it is no more than right for me to thank Mrs. Pinkham for what her kind advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I wrote to her some time ago I was a very sick woman, suffering from female troubles. I had inflammation of the female organs, and could not stand or walk any distance. At last I was confined to my bed, and the doctor said I would have to go through an operation, but this I refused to do. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now, after using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman. I most heartily recommend this medicine to all women who suffer with female troubles. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and think they are fine." Mrs. FRANK EMMERY, Lindsay, Ontario.

We cannot understand why women will take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, without first trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

"stuffy" again.

One needs to be very careful about drafts across the bed, about having too strong a wind blowing upon one; nor need one rush to the extreme of sleeping in air as cold as it is outdoors on some winter nights—though we hear from all sides that consumptives are cured by sleeping in the coldest air. The doctor's plan is for pure air, not merely for cold air. Cold air may be impure.

God has surrounded us with millions and millions of cubic feet of pure, sun-bathed air, wonderfully compounded, wonderfully adapted to our needs. It does not seem fair to build air-tight houses and shut out this vital element; to insist on breathing over and over air that the poison with every movement of the lungs; to do this and—then speak of pneumonia, bronchitis, tuberculosis, nervous prostration as "mysterious dispensations of Providence!"

Do not let us make a bugaboo of "night air," and deliberately poison ourselves. Let us have the best God gives us and be thankful for it. —Martha J. Nichols.
