When Premier Veniot of New Brunswick was in Boston with the New Brunswick Tourist Association in June, he extended a cordial invitation to Governor Cox to visit New Brunswick, which he is now pleased to do. The trip of Governor Cox promises to be one of unusual interest for it is the first time Governor of Massachusetts has ever made a tour of the Maritime Provinces. The trip has been made possible through the courtesy of the Eastern Steamship Lines Inc., The Canadian National Railway, Dominion Atlantic Railway, the Premiers of the Province and Mayors of the cities en route. Undoubtedly Governor Cox will receive a cordial welcome everywhere. This trip is looked upon as a great incentive for persons from New England to visit the Maritime Provinces, the great Summer Tourist Playground of America.

Many People Wonder
 why it is that glasses are worn more commonly in the present generation than in the past. Some say that the race is deteriorating, some that is for style, but the real reason is that our modern civilization requires the eye to do more work than was even the case before.
 Consequently, the eyes, if in the least defective, may give you a lot of trouble, though in reality they are no worse than those of your grandfather who did not wear glasses till he was an old man.
 If you feel the least symptom of eyestrain, remember that it is nature's warning to you and consult us at once.

Third Of Chicago Workers Are In Her Factories

CHICAGO, July 13.—A third of Chicago's working population, more than 10 years old, is employed in factories, according to the report of the United States census bureau. The total is 489,001 out of 1,231,434 working people.
 The city has 210,537 clerks at its second largest working class. Trades are third with 206,975 and domestic and personal service fourth with 116,102.
 Of 233,490 white women of native parentage, 74,603 are employed in the city. The largest percentage of employment among women goes to the negroes, while, contrary to belief, the lowest percentage is among foreign-born women.
 Use of child labor was found to be slight.

American Out-Door Games Played By Chinese Youths

NEW YORK, July 13.—Chinese schoolboys playing baseball on the lot, or lining up football practice in the school yard, would probably make an unexpected picture with which to replace our American fancies of oriental children in all ways staid and decorative poses.
 But these are the games which Chinese boys do play, more than any others, according to Dr. Hou-Ki-Hu of Nankin, China, who is studying in this country on a fellowship of the International Health Board of the Rockefeller Foundation. As part of his field work toward obtaining the degree of Doctor of Public Health from Johns Hopkins University, Dr. Hu is now engaged in making a study of the work of the American Child Health Association, a national organization working for the improvement of methods and standards of child health care, with a staff of health and educational experts engaged in research and practical demonstration throughout the country.
 "Before American games came with the Americans into China," Dr. Hu says, "Chinese children did not play—at least not in your sense of play. My grandfather and my father did not play games, and the games I learned when I was a boy in school were American sports."
 "Little girls in China used to sew and learn household tasks, but they had no active games. Now Chinese children play like children in this country. They have learned how in the American schools, and through American workers who have brought your kind of play to the children of China."
