W. C. T. U. NOTES

THE UPLIFT

"What means this stirring heard through all the nations, This movement world-wide in our day and hour? Methinks I hear the pulsing, quick and vibrant, That tells of life, vast life and wondrous power.

"It seems to come from everywhere: I feel it. The heaving breath of effort, mighty, strong; It is the throbbing, the pulse-beat of the many; 'Tis living love that stirs the mighty throng!

"The brotherhood of man, the moral uplift, Whatever name it bears, 'tis all the same. The love that seeks not self in life, but service; This is the power that sets the world aflame!"

A MESSAGE TO UNITED NATIONS

Several other items of business came up for discussion. In the course of the day, Mrs. North, together with other women delegates, strongly felt that a message should be sent from the conference to the United Nations, and at the opening of the evening session the following message was heartily agreed upon:

We, the delegates of the Bible societies of Europe, Great Britain and America, representing thirteen nations, including Germany, assembled at Haywards Heath, England, to confer on our common work of putting the Bible into the hands of mankind, feel impelled respectfully to address to you, the members of the United Nations, a message of the earth lit up and responsible task of establishing the peace of the world upon foundations of justice and righteousness.

We wish to assure you that the thoughts and sympathies of our conference have often turned to you in these anxious times, and that our prayers have gone up to Almighty God that He will richly bless you in all your deliberations and crown your manifold labours with abundant success.

Believing as we do that God's guidance is given to those who look for it, we fervently pray that His word may indeed be a lamp unto your feet and a light unto your path as you seek to find true and lasting peace which the world so sorely needs. Thus will the peoples of the earth lift up their hearts in hope and confidence as they face the unknown future.

(Signed) BERGGRAV.

It is not without significance that this letter from the United Nations was sent on the first anniversary of VE Day.

We may well end on this note. In saying farewell to the conference Archbishop Lehtonen, of Finland, exclaimed: "We have comment previously made by Bishop Berggrav. Yes, the breath of springtime was upon us—the breath of the Spirit of the living God."

P. E. Islander Heads Canadian Club

(Lynn Evening News)

Daniel Irving Matheson has been chosen president of the Canadian Club of Lynn, Inc., this year, with Daniel I. Matheson a resident of the United States for the past 40 years, the new president was born in Cherry Valley, Prince Edward Island. He served in World War I. A son, Delmar Matheson, served three years overseas, and a daughter is now serving in China.

A new board of officers heads the Canadian Club of Lynn, Inc., this year, with Daniel I. Matheson of Revere serving as president. Vice president is Mrs. Alice Mackay (former P. E. Islander); treasurer, Mrs. Gertrude Matheson; secretary, Miss Frances Holloway.

Others are publicity chairman, Mrs. Minnie Hartling; chaplain Mrs. Eva Fraser; steward, Joseph Cordeau; auditors, Mrs. Jennie Farnsworth, Mrs. Letta Frost; executive board, Mrs. Olga Valnot, Mrs. Bertha Wilcox and Daniel Matheson.

Installation of these officers was held at a recent gathering at the Canadian Club and was conducted by Asa Minard, past president of the Canadian Club of Boston. He was assisted by Harold Farnsworth, marshal.

Special prizes were awarded during the evening to Miss Augusta Perry, Mrs. Alice Mackay and Mrs. Jennie Mahan.

RESIGNS FROM PHILHARMONIC

Arthur Rodzinski, 58-year-old Polish conductor of the New York Philharmonic orchestra, has resigned his post, alleging interference with the orchestra's musical activities on the part of Arthur Judson, the orchestra manager. Rodzinski will finish the season with the symphony orchestra before his resignation takes effect in May.

Mr. Danny Conohan was a business visitor to the City this week.

Mr. Joseph Walsh, Morell rear, was a business visitor to the City this week on business.

Mrs. Bill Aylward and her mother, Mrs. Frank Kelly were in the city on business on Tuesday.

Miss Mabel O'Brien and Miss Mary Sinnott, teachers at Morell, were in the City last week on business.—S.

Mr. John Laybolt, Jr. has purchased the property vacated some time ago by James Kennefick, after he purchased a larger farm.

Mr. P.J. Daveaux, who has been suffering from infection in his face has been obliged to go to the City every other day for treatment.

For the first time in years, cars and wagons are travelling on the by-roads. Here the clay roads are very rough for wheels and those who feel the pinch of the going are mail drivers on the routes.

It looks as if a large amount of fishing gear will be rigged up for the spring as thousands of trap heads are being sent at present and the pounding of hammers in out buildings and cellars is heard as hundreds of new traps are being built.

A welcome visitor here after several years absence is Mrs. Jimmie Furlong of Halifax. Mrs. Furlong resided here for some time while her husband was on duty in the marine department of the R.C.M.P. Mrs. Furlong came over to visit her sister, Mrs. Carol McAdam, who has been a patient in the Provincial Sanatorium for many months.

It is with much regret that residents learned of the death of another old timer in this vicinity, Mr. Howard B. Anderson, in the P. E. Island Hospital last week after a long illness. The memory of Howard Anderson will live long in this vicinity where he was highly esteemed. He was the fun maker of every party and weddings and dances were never complete until Howard arrived.

BACHELOR JUDGE RESIGNS

LONDON, Feb. 7—(AP)—Sir Ernest Charles, 75, Britain's oldest bachelor judge, resigned from the high court today because of his age. In 1937, after he said "nobody wants to marry me," he received 197 proposals of marriage from women whose ages ranged from 23 to 65, but he politely declined them all.

OFFERS GOOD STUDY RULES FOR STUDENTS

Many conscientious students don't get good results from their efforts says Gary C. Myers, Ph.D. Here are some suggestions which might help them.

1. Don't let yourself daydream. When you catch yourself at it, "yank" yourself back to the job.
2. By paying strict attention in class you can save time out of class.
3. Get all your work in on time. When an assignment covers several days or weeks in advance, budget your time so you will get your work completed when due.
4. Learn to take notes well. In class, take a few brief notes. Practice at taking and recalling mental notes, and of jotting down a few good notes right after class, or during the study period, or at home in the evening.
5. Have a regular time and place for study. Make a schedule with definite period of time for each subject and try to stick to it. Get away from the radio and family conversation, if you can; otherwise train yourself to ignore them.
6. Before beginning work on any assignment, review briefly the last lesson or last several lessons.
7. Learn to read well. If you are a poor reader, practice fifteen minutes a day at home on materials much easier than those of your text books. Read for ideas rather than words.
8. When you read from a text book or reference book, read the entire selection through to get the general drift. Then re-read it more carefully and turn it briefly into your own words. The bold type and paragraph headings will help you. Learn to summarize a paragraph in a sentence of your own words. Memorize the thought of these sentences. You do not really know something until you can tell it in your own words.
9. Don't try to deceive yourself as teacher by handing in work not your own. Every effort to earn grades by deceit spoils your habit of work and robs you of self-reliance and self-respect.
10. Select one evening for study out of your weekend, and discipline letting all the evenings slip by you easily will form the habit of with the result that you are unprepared Monday.

KID IDEAS BEST

Mayor John Edward Ahern of Halifax had a revolutionary idea and promptly put it to work. He declared a "complaint week" during which aggrieved Halifaxians were urged to pour their complaints into the mayor's ear. They did. The mayor has answered no fewer than 1,126 phone calls, and waded through stacks of mail. Best suggestions, the mayor says, are from the kids. Toughest complaints to fix is the housing situation, but paving and street lighting were high on the list.

SEVEN MINUTES DAILY GROOMS 45-INCH HAIR

Tresses 42 inches long are the proud boast of Vancouver's ash blonde, Peggy Barrow, 17. 'Tis no trouble, she says, only seven minutes a day—two minutes for brushing and five for braiding. Braiding, Peggy claims, is not half the trouble cut hair could be, because cut hair requires constant brushing.
