THE VOTERS IN EARNEST

Grand Rally in The Market Hall

ALL GLASSES PRESENT.

Crisp, Pointed Addresses Delivered With Great Vigor. The Meeting Was One of the Best Temperance Rallies Ever Held in Charlottetown.

The success of the temperance rally in market hall last night was greater than even its most sanguine promoters anticipated. The spirit of the campaign has taken hold of the people and old and young, rich and poor, all classes and all creeds assembled in the hall and gave rapt attention. Across the front end of the hall were the words, "For God and Home and Native Land;" on one side, "Vote for Prohibition;" and on the other side, "Save the Boys."

Previous to the chair being taken the German band gave several excellent selections.

Dr. Taylor presided and proved an ideal chairman. In his opening remarks he made the striking assertion "that if we had prohibition the chronic diseases of men would be reduced one third in ten years."

The liquor men have distributed a number of cards giving reasons why electors should not vote for prohibition. And last evening each speaker replied to one of these reasons, demolishing from it every fragment of argument.

Hon. David Laird replied to the personal liberty chestnut. He dealt blow after blow, showing that on every hand personal liberty is interfered with for the social good and such interference will continue to the end of time.

Mr. J. K. Ross replied to the revenue argument, and by a tabulated statement on the blackboard he quoted from the Royal Commission report, showing that instead of Canada losing nine millions revenue in the event of prohibition, we now lose one hundred and thirty four millions annually for the want of prohibition.

Mr. John P. Tanton excelled himself and refuted with rare eloquence the assertion that prohibition will throw people out of employment. With keen sarcasm he pointed out that no sane man would vote for the perpetuation of war to give employment, or wish for the continuation of a plague that doctors or undertakers might find work.

Mr. J. E. B. McCready spoke upon the statement made by the liquor men, that prohibition laws are a failure. He quoted figures from reliable sources showing that in Maine the law is highly successful and the people rapidly increasing their wealth.

Rev. Geo. F. Dawson in a few words exploded the rum theory that an army of officials will be required to enforce the law and did so by quoting their previous argument that the prohibition would throw many men out of employment.

Rev. A. F. Browne asserted that no business gives such large profits for the money invested or requires so little brains to run it as the liquor business. If Charlotte votes right he would guarantee that P. E. Island will give such a majority as will paralyze the liquor interests. These printed arguments of the rumsellers are not genuine. Their arguments will be the buying of votes. But the man who sells his vote is not worthy to live under the British flag.

Rev. C. W. Corey's all oment was to refute the assertion that prohibition would create ill feeling. He did so most effectively, happily remarking that the most ill feeling would be occasioned in the stomachs of those prone to take their drink.

Mr. W. H. B. Nley spoke of the rumsellers' plea that prohibition is class legislation and showed that all laws are class legislation restricting private rights for public weal.

Mr. A. B. McKenzie was one of 3000 delegates who met in Ottawa five years ago to formulate a Liberal platform. The plebiscite as one of the planks was adopted without a dissenting vote. If a good majority of the total vote he polled he had no doubt a prohibitory law would be enacted within a reasonable time. It would effect business not adversely as the liquor dealers claimed, but would result in turning $40,000,000 more money into the channels of legitimate trade.

Lasts long—lathers freely—a pure hard soap—low in price, highest in quality. Read the Directions on the wrapper to learn how to obtain the best results in washing clothes. A quick easy way. SURPRISE SOAP is the name.

Mr. J. T. Mellish spoke emphatically on the compensation question which he utterly annihilated. The government, he says, fosters other branches of business because they do good, but puts the liquor traffic under a ban because it does harm. He urged upon every voter to remember that

"Once to every man and nation Comes the moment to decide In the strife 'twixt truth and falsehood For the good or evil side."

Rev. G. M. Campbell gave a brief closing appeal, stirring, eloquent and impressive, pointing out the awful responsibility resting upon every elector to-day, and that this evening's sun will set upon the finale to an event the most momentous ever decided in this Dominion. He implored every voter to go to the polls and make this the banner prohibition province in the Dominion.
