Distress After Eating

Nausea between meals, belching, vomiting, flatulence, fits of nervous headache, pain in the stomach, are all symptoms of dyspepsia, and the longer it is neglected the harder it is to cure it.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Reliably and permanently cure it—strengthen and tone the stomach and all the digestive organs for the natural performance of their functions.

Accept no substitute for Hood's. "My appetite was gone, nothing tempted me to eat, and what I did eat felt annoying and unpleasant in my stomach. I tried many remedies without any benefit whatever. Finally, Hood's Sarsaparilla, after having been recommended, I began its use. After taking one bottle my stomach would retain food, and my appetite began to improve. After taking three bottles I was completely cured." WILLIAM ROSS, Wellington Street, Sarnia, Ontario. Hood's Sarsaparilla promises a cure and lives on the promise.

IN the elections held in the different faculties and years of McGill University the Island boys are well represented. At the annual meeting of the Literary Society held on Friday evening, March 17th, Fred M. Auld, Covehead, was elected Second Vice President. Mr. Auld was also chosen some time ago as the representative of his class in the Freshmen-Sophomore debate when he did both himself and his class credit.

THE Union Commercial College has on exhibition in the show window of Miller Brothers' Music Store, a very artistic orthographic banner which is to be contested for monthly by the Commercial and Shorthand Departments. One of the demands of the business man today is proficiency in spelling, and these contests which are supplementary to the regular class work are a valuable auxiliary in securing increased interest in this subject.

AMONG the newly elected editors of the McGill Annual published annually by the Junior year, Wm. I. Holman B.A., Summerside was elected one of the Editorial staff from the Faculty of Medicine and Wm. MacMillan from the Faculty of Arts also on the Editorial board. The Annual is a volume of about two hundred and twenty-five pages containing cuts of all the classes, executives, athletic teams and groups from all the different parts of the University life, together with sketches of the doings of McGill during the year. A position on the editorial or business boards is the highest honor a class has in its power to bestow during its Junior year. Mr. MacMillan has also been elected as Associate Editor of the Presbyterian College Journal.

A very successful concert was held Tuesday night in Hampton Hall under the auspices of Steadfast Division, No. 211. There was a very large attendance and the evening's entertainment was much enjoyed. Rev. A. D. McDonald occupied the chair, and gave a splendid opening address reviewing the work of the Division up to the present time. A program consisting of solos, duets, choruses, dialogues and readings was well rendered. All performed their parts so well, that it is necessary only to mention those from other communities who aided in completing the excellent program. The numbers included two solos, (one being encored) by Miss McLeod, Hunter River; a solo by Miss McKenzie, Long Creek; and a reading each by Miss Annie McLeod, North Wiltshire and Miss Lena Myers, Victoria. Misses Annie Myers, Edith McDonald and Helen Smith were the organ accompanists to the different selections. The sum of $32.37 was realized which goes towards repairing the Division room.

THE spring exhibition of paintings at the Montreal Art Gallery is now being held. The Montreal Star of the 18th, inst. says that "by common consent the painting to attract attention and praise unstinted is No. 70, by Robert Harris, C.M.G. (of Charlottetown). The picture is that of a sweet faced girl. The pose is easy, the color natural, the flesh tones life-like. It is a picture to live with, and it is a very great pity that the genial president of the Royal Canadian Academy did not think well enough of it to see it properly framed. By a curious coincidence, the same model is shown in no less than three separate pictures in this exhibit. Miss Sydney Strickland Tully has made a charming picture of her in pastel—"Spring." It is called, while Mr. St. Charles, A.R.C.A., has also put her upon canvas, but less successfully. Mr. Harris' other works include a portrait of Mr. Charles R. Hosmer, a life-like, sturdy picture, and a graceful portrait in high coloring of Miss Lindsay. Mr. Harris exhibits five altogether, and they are grouped on the south wall of the new gallery."

A CITIZEN makes strong complaint of the deep drains cut across the streets especially in the upper parts of the city which at present are very dangerous to horses hauling heavy loads. These drains should be "dished", that is cut out in the shape of a V.

AN interesting case was heard by His Honor Judge Reddin in the Probate Court yesterday. Carrie L. Shaw late of Summerside, died in a Boston Hospital in November 1903. A short time before her death she told her brother Jesse Shaw to pay her funeral expenses out of some money of hers that was in the hands of her sister Mrs. Lawson, the balance of which money Mrs. Lawson could keep for the education of her son. A. C. Saunders contended that this gift was not valid. A. J. B. Mellish on behalf of the administrator contended that it constituted a "donatio mortis causa," that is a gift in expectation of death and was therefore valid, and quoted late authorities on this subject. His Honor reserved judgment.

THE case of Inspector Brown against J. B. O'Halloran, Stanley Bridge for violation of the C. T. Act came up for judgment before Stipendiary Brehaut yesterday morning. The facts were briefly as follows: Two witnesses deposed that they obtained twenty ounces of liquor under two prescriptions which were put in twenty ounce bottles. The law states that only ten ounces can be sold to one person. Mr. Mellish for the defendant claimed that as there were two separate prescriptions for different persons that the mere fact of both prescriptions being put in the same bottle did not cause a breach of the law and in any case the drugist would not be liable because he swore that owing to the stoppage of freight he did not have enough bottles to put the prescriptions up separately. After several days' consideration His Honor dismissed the case yesterday.

THE through rates from Charlottetown to Vancouver etc. at present are $62.35 and to Nelson and adjacent points $69.55. Many people are taking advantage of these rates, and the C. P. R. officers in this city were crowded most of the day yesterday.

T. with regard to the proposed amendments to the Prohibitory law: Resolved that we the officers and members of Hazelbrook Division, desire to place on record our approval of said amendments and earnestly hope that our legislators will see fit to have said amendments incorporated at his next session.

A MEETING of the advertising committee of the P. E. Island Tourist and Development Association was held last night. It was decided to begin advertising the Island in Canadian and U. S. newspapers and it is proposed to make a larger appropriation in this regard than was made last year. Arrangements were made to forward advertising matter to the people whose names have been already listed on the Association's books, and a vigorous plan has been adopted to make the advertising program thoroughly effective. A general meeting of all members of the Association will be held on next Monday evening, if possible, of which further particulars will be given before that date. At the meeting the matter of holding a House-Comers' Week in Charlottetown will be discussed, and all arrangements in connection therewith will be then placed in the hands of a capable committee.

N. S. GRAND ORANGE LODGE.

THREE, March 22.—The annual meeting of the Grand Orange Lodge of Nova Scotia, was convened yesterday afternoon, Grand Master McDougall presiding. A large number of delegates are in attendance. The address of the Grand Master was full of interest. Referring to matters affecting the welfare of the order, he spoke of the school question in the new provinces of the Northwest as submitted by the Government at Ottawa and reference was made to the great loss sustained by the order and the country by the death of E. P. Clarke, M. P., of Toronto.
