

THE QUEEN'S COUNTY GUARDIAN

Head Offices in New Prowse Block—Charlottetown

It pays to buy in this Province.

Mrs. D. Murray, Charlottetown, was in Moncton this week.

Two drunks were taken in yesterday and will appear this morning.

F. B. Armour and little daughter Alberton, came to the city from the mainland on the Northumberland yesterday afternoon.

Provincial shippers will find a ready market for their smelts, eels and clams, if they ship them to Thomas M. Reid & Co., 108 Fulton Market, New York, as will be seen by their ad. elsewhere. The firm will forward all desired information and stencils upon application and consignments can be sent through their transfer agents, S. B. Wiley & Sons, Boston, doing away with any possible delay in transit. Prompt daily returns are also made.

The 'phone is being used more and more each year. It is now regarded as a necessity—as one of the greatest inventions of all time. No person would be to shut the door to modern progress. Not every person is using a phone now—days—just the few people who are prosperous and making money. And "there's a reason why" this is thus. The adv. of The Telephone Co. of P. E. Island, in this issue should be read by everyone.

Angus Lamont, one of the pioneers of Colby, who passed from this life on Tuesday evening, October 25th, 1910, was born at Prince Edward Island, Can., in the year 1842, where he lived until 1854, when the family moved to Wingham, Ontario. In 1862 he came to Southern Michigan, where he worked in the woods. He was united in marriage to Almira Gault, at Gablesville, Mich., in 1864, and soon after moved to Green Bay, Wis., where he was engaged in the saw-mill business until 1874, when he moved here with his mill, locating about 2 1/2 miles south of this city, and continued the business until 1894, when he sold the mill and turned his attention to farming. Besides his widow he leaves nine children—John F., Mayor of Wausau; William D., at home; Edna Wicker, Colby; Ella H. Patterson, Field; Charles A., P. Field; Annie Sullivan, Colby; Ronald M., Helena, Mont.; Angus E., and Earl C., Colby, all of whom were with him during his last hours. The funeral services were held from the residence, Friday afternoon, Rev. J. C. Martin of Abbotsford officiating. Colby Lodge No. 204, A. F. & A. M., conducted the services at the grave. It was the writer's good fortune to have known Angus Lamont long and well, and only knew him to esteem him more highly as the years passed by. He was a man of excellent habits, fine moral character, and sturdy constitution, and he continued to be active in his accustomed pursuits till long past the age at which men ordinarily drop out of the ranks of the workers. To this end there is no doubt that his sunny disposition largely contributed. He was a practical, matter-of-fact man, but had his own peculiar way of extricating himself from life as it went along, and he was not disposed to worry about matters that could be bettered in other ways. This cheerful spirit remained with him to the last, and he retained his clearness of intellect up to his closing days. He was invariably a good neighbor, and there was no happier family circle in the land than his. When he died, the grief that was felt over the close of his career was widespread and sincere. His best monument will be the good report that he has left behind him in the community in which he has lived for nearly forty years.—Colby (Wisconsin) Photograph. Mr. Lamont was born in Grandview. His father was an elder in the Presbyterian Church there (McDonald's). Rev. Mr. Martin is also a native of this Province, having been born at Ugg.

Mrs. H. M. Weeks, city, is visiting friends in Moncton.

The S. S. Northumberland arrived at this port at five fifteen p.m. yesterday.

The Casapedia sailed from this port about midnight on Monday and took away what was perhaps the largest cargo of the season. This was her last trip this year.

The A. W. Perry of the Plant Line sailed last evening about six o'clock with a large cargo and a few passengers. She arrived in port at five o'clock yesterday. Next Tuesday will in all probability be the last sailing of the Plant Line steamers from this port.

Rev. Mr. Winter and two little sons crossed from Pictou to this city on the Northumberland yesterday afternoon. Mr. Winter has been appointed to the Church of England Diocese at Georgetown and Cherry Valley and will proceed there to take up his duties.

The People's Theatre was crowded for each show last evening and many and favorable were the comments passed by the patrons of this popular house as they departed. The pictures were certainly up to the high standard set by the management—good subjects, clear, steady and flickerless. The headliner was easily the Vitograph life portrayal "The Three of Them" and the illustrated song by Mr. Bragg took the house by storm.

The cold weather is causing a good demand for smelts and eels on the New York market. To supply their numerous customers Murphy & White Company, 9 Fulton Market, New York, are advertising elsewhere for shipments from this Province. This firm, which has no connection with any other New York fish firm, has every up-to-date facility for handling large consignments expeditiously, for which they pay highest market prices and make prompt returns.

A very attractive window is that of George St. and one which will appeal more particularly to the smoker. In the window is arranged a splendid display of the popular Hickey & Nicholson's different manufactures, and the famous Tackett's Marguerite, made from the very finest selected leaf. A pleasing feature of the show is the display of genuine Virginia leaf which is so arranged as to form a suitable background. There is also an exhibit of tobacco in different stages of manufacture. The whole is tastefully arranged and reflects much credit on the window dresser.

The marriage took place at the home of the bride, Margate, on Wednesday evening, Nov. 9th, of Miss E. Bernice Henderson, eldest daughter of the late George Henderson, and John Howard of the same place. The bride, who was prettily gowned in silk, with veil, was attended by Miss Lulu Tuplin, who wore old rose with lace and silk trimmings, while the groom was supported by his brother, C. Howard. Rev. W. E. Johnson performed the ceremony and Miss Metel Dennis played the wedding march. After the service and congratulations, supper was served and the evening spent in music and conversation. The presents received testify to the popularity of the young couple, who will reside in Margate.

Prof. Marcon will be in town in a few days. 11-16d2ipd.
