JOHN BALL'S STATEMENT.

More Proof that Dodd's Kidney Pills always Cure Lumbago by Taking the Uric Acid Out of the Blood.

QUEBEC, Sept. 14.—(Special)—Among the standard proofs forthcoming, that Lumbago, is caused by Uric acid in the blood and that Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure it by putting the kidneys in condition to take all the uric acid out of the blood, is the case of John Ball, bricklayer, of 57 Little Champlain St., this city. Mr. Ball makes the following statement: "I had been troubled with Lumbago for two years and could not do my work. I was suffering from Urinary Troubles and had to rise so often that my rest was spoiled. One box of Dodd's Kidney Pills helped me, and, by the time I had taken three boxes, I was completely cured."

A MARKED CENT.

The Odd Way It Came Back to the Man Who Lost It.

Take an ordinary copper cent piece, stamp it with a private mark, put it into circulation, and what are the chances that you will ever see it again? There is one man who says that he tried the trick and succeeded at it. He is a business man who refuses to allow his name to be used in print about the story, but he tells the tale to many of his friends and he vouches for its truth.

In 1894, he says, he found a cent piece, dated 1893, in the restaurant of the Lafayette hotel. He pocketed it for luck and as a memento of a jolly little dinner scratched his initials on it just over the feathered head, while on the cheek he added those of the hotel. Until 1896 he treasured the coin, then drew it out of his pocket with a handful of other change and before he realized it the cent piece had gone the mysterious way of all money.

A year ago he chanced, being of a curious turn of mind, to fall into conversation one evening with a professional beggar at Broad and Chestnut streets. He upbraided the man for getting so much money for nothing. "Oh," said the beggar, "I don't get so much. That's all I've got in the last hour." And he held up a cent piece. At that moment the electric light fell upon the coin, and the business man, to his amazement, caught sight of the letters "H. L." on the cheek of the face. He took the coin and examined it more closely. Sure enough, there were his own initials just above the feathers where he had placed them a half dozen years before.

At once his prejudice against begging vanished. "I'll give you a dollar for that coin," he cried. The beggar grew wary at this eagerness and demanded $5. Needless to say, he got it and also of course the cent piece has never since left the business man's watch chain, which it now adorns.

Singers' High Salaries.

Heinrich Corried, who has had so much difficulty in arranging the salaries of his artists that he declares their engagement to be the most difficult part of the work of putting on grand opera, has an explanation for the origin of the exorbitant prices demanded by foreign singers when America is mentioned to them. A number of years ago he was in Europe engaging artists for his comic opera company. He offered a certain singer $200 a week to come with him to America. The singer had been used to getting about a third of that sum and was on the point of accepting when he was approached by Anton Seidl and asked his price. He at once demanded $300 and finally compromised on $250. When he came to read the contract he found that, after the American fashion, he had been signed for $250 a performance and not for that amount per week. Fearing that Mr. Seidl might change his mind and try to break the contract, he took the first boat for New York and was on the ground two months before the opening of the season.

Girls in Turkey.

In a recent book on his native country an intelligent Turk writes: "Formerly girls in Turkey were not allowed to learn the mystery of calligraphy. We have had some excellent poetesses in days gone by, but none of them could write; they dictated their inspirations. The common explanation given of this traditional prohibition—for it is a custom rather than a rule—was that if girls once learned writing they might have indulged in talismanic pastimes and eventually have become witches. As a matter of fact, the real reason was quite different. There was a fear, perhaps not ill founded, that, having once learned to write, they might hasten to make use of the accomplishment by composing love letters to young men with whom they could not otherwise communicate, for the strict seclusion of females cuts off all intercourse between young people of opposite sexes almost as soon as they have ceased to be infants."

The Unconquered Boers.

A party of unconquered Boers has just arrived in Latvia, traveling to a Dutch colony under the auspices of a Boer relief fund committee. The government has assigned an abandoned estate for them to settle upon as small cultivators. These Boers will be utilized for experimental purposes. There is much distress among the lower class of Europeans and Eurasians in Java. Many of them seek grants of land on easy terms, on which they could start cultivation in a small way. As most of them have no experience in farming, the government hesitates to put them on the land for fear of failure. The Boers, as practical colonists and farmers, are expected to show how to cultivate the land and make money out of it. Meanwhile the dominant British faction in South Africa talk of filling the mines with Chinese coolies.

New They Raised the Rent.

The following incident reported from Manchester, England, recalls the old story of the landlord that stated that he was going to raise his tenant's rent whereupon the tenant replied that he was delighted to hear it because he was not able to do it himself.

A rent-collector had great difficulty in getting the rent from one Pat Maginnis. On being applied to for a couple of weeks' rent he said he would pay it if the landlord would put in a new cellar door. This was done, and the collector called for the money. Maginnis was out, but his eldest son paid the money that was due.

"Glad you have it ready for once," said the man. "Yes, sir," the boy replied; "but it has been an awful trouble. We had to sell some of the furniture." "Oh?" said he, pocketing the rent. "I didn't know you had any." "Yes," continued the lad; "father sold the new cellar door to get it."

New Girls Won't Dance.

It was supposed that the growing dislike of dancing by young men was the cause of the decline of what the young reporter calls the "tarspschorsean art." But an English paper hears that the ladies are claiming the credit. We are told that society ladies will not dance any more. Ball, excepting where a cotillon is given, have an air more like a conversation, with a band and buffet, than a ball. Only quite young girls dance with any show of enthusiasm. Women prefer to talk and flirt rather than waltz. Such large sums are expended over ball dresses that women are frightened at the effect of the wear and tear of dancing. So women are, in yet another sense, slaves of the dressmaker!

Are You One of the Weak Ones?

Subject to Sinking Spells and Feelings of Languor, Depression and Weakness—You Can be Helped by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Very many people feel much as you do. They do not like to confess that they are sick, but they are weak and languid, feel drowsy and depressed after meals, are easily tired and discouraged, suffer from indigestion, sleeplessness, irritability and general bodily weakness. At times, it may be, some of the old-time vigor returns but you no more than get your hopes aroused when the sinking spells come on again and you are as helpless and disheartened as ever.

Such symptoms point to lack of nourishment in the blood and an exhausted nervous system. You can get well if you will but restore the system by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This great food cure forms new blood and instills new force and energy into the wasted and depleted nerve cells. It makes you well in nature's way by supplying to the blood and nerves the very elements it which they are lacking. These symptoms of which you complain are but a warning of approaching nervous prostration, paralysis, locomotor ataxia or even insanity. The time to act is before these dreadful diseases of the nerves have fastened themselves upon you. They are much easier to prevent than to cure, as many know, on account of long years of helplessness and suffering.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will give you new hope and courage. Not only will you be able to feel the benefit you are deriving from it, but by noting your increase in weight you can prove conclusively that new, firm flesh and tissue is being added to your body. The success of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in curing all ailments arising from weakness of the blood and an exhausted condition of the nerves has been phenomenal. 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto. To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of Dr. A.W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.
