Bayer Company Protects Its Trade Mark "Aspirin"

OTTAWA, Ontario, December 2.—The Bayer Company Limited having brought actions to restrain infringement of its registered trade mark "Aspirin" the Exchequer Court of Canada has given judgment against its five defendants. In each case the Exchequer Court perpetually restrains the defendants Ivan Lambert, Joseph Nozick, Standard Bottlers and Packers Ltd., B. Neuman and Joe Beckman from using the trade mark "Aspirin" on preparations put out by themselves and awards the Bayer Company costs and damages.

The defendants were marketing the infringing product under various names including Pioneer Sales Co. Western Sales Co. Western Distributing Co. Advance Specialty Co. and Acme Specialty Company. The tablets labelled "Aspirin" were not of Bayer manufacture and were packed in small envelopes, each containing three or four tablets, and mounted on cards.
It is the intention of The Bayer Company Limited to take every legal method to uphold its trade mark.
"Aspirin" is the trade mark of The Bayer Company, Limited Windsor, Ontario.
