...INFLUENZA AND DREAMS CLOSELY RELATED.—Sir: It is generally admitted by the medical profession that many influenza patients are also afflicted with horrible dreams and that those patients sometimes awakened fully convinced that their dreams are actual facts and cannot be persuaded to the contrary. For instance, some person undoubtedly sick with the "flu" dreamed that a certain Doctor not a thousand miles away had gone crazy and landed in the Insane Asylum. Whether or not the wish was father to the dream I cannot prove, but it would seem that the dreamer must have had sufficient strength to get to the phone, call up central and have the glad tidings conveyed to all parts of the country. I think this patient must have died, perhaps with glee, for he cannot be located and it so I trust that the deceased dreamer has not gone to where it is reported to be extremely hot and without a "flu". I also trust that when those who have been fattening on this poor patient's dream, are informed to the contrary, their disappointment will not be of too serious a character. However, about the "flu", I neverthe less believe that when a young man by hard work and self-respect, honestly raises himself so far above his former schoolmates and acquaintances, and places himself abreast with the biggest and best men of the country, a great many of the drones whom he has left behind him, are always pleased and delighted while lying around the old "Waterloo" which their forefathers put there to gloat over his ever-welcome downfalls, and they never seem to realize that their conversations are but dreams originating in their poor diseased, uncultivated and shrivelled brains. I am Sir, etc., Thomas V. Grant, Montague, Feb. 20th, 1919.

EASTERN PERSONALS

...Miss Lucy Gordon of Roseneath returned home after spending a very pleasant week in North Milton and Winsloe.

IN MEMORIAM

THOMAS H. YOUNG.

Many Guardian readers will hear with great regret that Thomas Henry Young, whom they knew so well as a boy and young man, has passed away from these scenes of earthy strife. This sad event occurred at Mr. Young's home in Fenix, R. I. after about a weeks illness of typhoid pneumonia.

The deceased who has been a resident of Rhode Island for the past thirty-five or forty years, was the third oldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Young, Earnscliffe.

Besides a widow (nee Miss Emma Phillips, River Point, R. I.) and one son, Lloyd Emmerson, the deceased is survived by four brothers; Wellington Waltham, Mass., Richard, New York, John W., Ottawa; and Seymour, Earnscliffe. And thus another good man has gone to his eternal rest, a man whose life's motto was, "Do unto others as you would have others do to you." We shall never see here on earth again the face of this, one of the truest, noblest and best men that ever lived. But in that land of perpetual light and love in the nearer presence of the Master he so faithfully served here on earth this faithful soldier of the cross now enjoys the reward of his useful, well spent life.—Q

February 10th in the 68th year of his age. Over two months ago he was stricken with paralysis from which he never fully recovered and although conscious all that time, he gradually became weaker, until the final summons called him to eternity.

The late Charles Kelly was a splendid type of citizen. He was postmaster for a great number of years, was a very successful and enterprising farmer, an extensive reader, an intelligent and pleasing conversationalist, and above all a kind and warm hearted friend to all who came in contact with him or sought his advice or assistance. In Church affairs he took an active interest, being for over twenty years a trustee of Vernon River Parish. He died as he lived, a most consistent and exemplary Catholic and was consoled in his last illness by the rites of Holy Church and the frequent visits and ministrations of his good pastor Father McGuigan. The late Mr. Kelly will be greatly missed in the community in which he lived, but it is especially in the home where the kind and loving husband and father will long be missed. He leaves a wife, nee Margaret Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kelly of Charlottetown and four children, Mrs. John Boylan, Auburn, and Agnes, Irene and Charles in the home; also one brother John, and sister Mrs. McAdam, Lake Verde and another sister Mrs. James Hennessey, Charlottetown. On Wednesday 12th inst his remains were conveyed to St. Joachim's church, Vernon River, where the services in the Church and at the grave were performed by the pastor Rev. P. D. McGuigan, assisted by Father Smith, Lona.

May his soul rest in peace.

EDWARD ROSS

A gloom was cast upon the village of Bradaibane when it became known that Edward Ross had passed away—a victim of the recent epidemic of influenza. It was evident from the beginning that the attack was a serious one, and though everything was done that loving hands could do, he died on Dec. 29th, at the early age of 33 years. The deceased was a young man of sterling character and true worth, and respected by all who knew him. Ever ready to lend a helping hand to those in difficulty and trouble, he will be sadly missed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances to whom he endeared himself by his cheerful and kindly disposition. There remain to mourn the loss of a kind and loving husband and father, a sorrowing wife, (nee Miss Maud Hall of Bradaibane,) and three small children. There remain also the members of his own immediate family—his mother Mrs. Angus Ross of Ottawa; three sisters, Mrs. George McLure, of Elliott's, Mrs. William Barber of Malden Mass. and Mary of Ottawa; and one brother Norman, of Boston, Mass.

MRS. MARY FOLEY

The community of Cardigan were shocked to learn on Feb. 12 that the grim reaper of death had again entered the same home within nineteen days and claimed for its victim Mrs. Mary Foley in her sixty-fifth year.

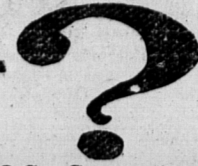

Although a great sufferer for the past six years the end came unexpected. All through her long illness she bore her sufferings with christian patience and resignation. All that loving hands and careful nursing could do was without avail and her spirit passed to him who gave it.

She was a lady of most estimable qualities and was much beloved by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. Fortified by the last rites of the R. C. Church she was laid to rest beside that of her husband.

Mrs. JANE JARDINE

Mrs. Jane Jardine, who departed this life on Feb. 8th 1919 at the home of her son James in Keene N.H. U.S. A. was a daughter of the late Benjamin Bears of Belle River, and widow of the late John Jardine who resided at Brooklyn P. E. I. For some years she has made her home in New Hampshire. She was in the 77th year of her age and is survived by three sisters Mrs. Isaac Cook of Maine, Mrs. Christopher Jardine of Brooklyn and Mrs. Lucy Ann Jardine of Vancouver. She also leaves three sons and four daughters; viz William of Seattle Wash.; Thomas of Taunton Mass.; James of Keene N.H. Mrs. Calvin Bishop of Mount Buchanan, P. E. I. Mrs. James G. Bears; Miss Louisa Jane; and Miss Annie, of Keene N.H. She had made profession of Salvation under the ministry of the late, Rtv. Donald McDonald, and has lived

Can You Lead Men and Women

WAR-SAVINGS Societies need leaders—organizers—men and women with initiative. Who will start a War-Savings Society? Who will lead the way?

War-Savings Societies
Help Thousands
To Save

War-Savings Societies have been, and are, a tremendous success in Great Britain. Thousands who were never able to save their money have accumulated Government certificates worth hundreds of dollars.

In the United States, millions of people are members of War-Savings Societies, which are organized in factories, offices, stores, farming communities, sections of towns and villages, schools, and clubs.

Everywhere throughout Canada, War-Savings Societies are in process of formation. Everyone who can save an occasional quarter should belong to a society; first, for his or her own direct benefit; second, because Canada can use the money to excellent advantage, as in the case of the War Loans.

For details of the organizing of War-Savings Societies and particulars regarding War-Savings Stamps or Thrift Stamps, address:

and put O.H.M.S. at top of envelope. No postage is required.

War-Savings Stamps are sold at $4.01 this month at Money-Order Post Offices. Banks and other places displaying this sign.

Thrift Stamps are sold at 25 cents each wherever War-Savings Stamps are sold and at many stores.

a consistent christian life making known to those about her the power of her Saviour's love. Her son James accompanied the remains to the place of burial. MRS. ANGUS DOCHERTY.

There passed peacefully to rest at Riverton Feb 8th, 1919 after a lingering illness which she bore with humble resignation to the divine will, Catherine beloved wife of Angus Docherty in the 58th year of her age. The deceased leaves to mourn a sorrowful husband and aged mother, two sons James and John, two daughters Ella and Annie wife of Stephen Crane, all of Riverton, also two brothers Allan McSwain of Lorne Valley and John I McSwain of Natic, Mass. The death of Mrs. Docherty brings sorrow to all who knew her for she had a heart of gold and was a superior woman in every way, generous and the soul of honor. Now she is gone, but the sunset speaks but feebly of the glories of another day in one of the many mansions of the Father's House where all is well. The pall bearers were William Birt, Henry Clarkin, Alex McDougall, Aben Finlayson, Allan Shaw and Angus MacLeod. The funeral which was largely attended took place on Monday, Feb 10th, at 2 p.m. to Lorne Valley Cemetery. Services at the House Church and Grave were conducted by her pastor the Rev. D. McVicar of Cardigan.
