

Liberal Conservative News: Liberals and the Price of Eggs

The loss of 3c. per dozen to the farmer, in the price of eggs, if reciprocity prevails, is a sore spot in the Liberal canvass.

GOOD FARES OF MACKEREL AT BOSTON

BOSTON, Aug. 19.—Prices at the wharf yesterday showed some improvement over those of the past few days.

THE COST OF FARM PRODUCTS. (From the New York Mail.) Along the entire Atlantic seaboard the farm laborer is hard to find.

But the demand for machinery that will save on manual labor seems to meet with almost no response.

Probably there will be invented a strawberry picker that is better than a smart country girl. But we doubt if there will be a mechanical weeder superior in a vegetable field to human fingers feeling around among tender plants.

MONUMENT OF MENDACITY. The mainmast of the battleship Maine sunk in Havana Harbor, in 1898, will be erected in the National Cemetery at Arlington as a memorial to the victims of the disaster.

POSSSESSION. That which we had we still possess. The leaves may drop and stars may fall. No circumstance can make it less. Or take it from us, all in all.

That which is lost we did not own. We only held it for a day.

A leaf by careless breezes blown— No late could take our own away.

I hold it as a changeless law. From which no soul can sway or swerve. We have that in us which will draw The things we need or most desire.

Even as the magnet to the steel. Our souls are to our best desires. The Fates have hearts, and they, too, feel— They know what each true life requires.

We think we lose when we most gain. We call joys ended ere begun. When stars fade out, do skies complain? Or glory in the rising sun?

No fate could rob us of our own; No circumstance could make it less. What time removes was but a loan. For what was ours we still possess.

KILLED LION WITH KNIFE

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Aug. 21.—News has reached here that Juan Morales, a Spanish farmer living seven miles out of town with a jack knife as his only weapon, killed a mountain lion which had killed one of his children in their home, bound up his arm which the lion had lacerated and crushed in the fight and walked to town where surgeons say he must sacrifice his arm.

BODY IDENTIFIED

(Continued from page 1) when his remains were found. A REWARD OFFERED. Harry Ling, when informing The Guardian representative of the disappearance of his cousin stated that he wished to offer a reward of $25 for information of his whereabouts and an advertisement appeared in The Guardian giving a description of his clothing which corresponds to that found on the body at the Marsh. The deceased came here from Hong Kong three years ago.

INQUEST ON MURDER

The authorities will enquire fully into the matter and are engaged on the case now. Yesterday Sgt. Bradley had the lumber to the police station. This contained the personal effects of the dead man and will be in safe keeping until the enquiry is concluded.

A large convention of Liberal-Conservative delegates from the polls of the Second District of Queen's was held in the Liberal-Conservative rooms yesterday afternoon. There was almost a full representation from each poll. It is said that there were also in the hall a number of Liberals. Addresses were delivered by John A. Mathieson, Leader of the Opposition, Thomas Doyle, North Rustico; J. H. Buntain, Rustico; Dugald Currie, city; L. L. Jenkins, North Wiltshire, and several others. John H. Buntain and L. L. Jenkins were nominated to represent the district and their nominations were made unanimous by a standing vote. They each accepted the nomination and made strong speeches. The Liberal-Conservatives have a candidate from each end of the districts.

At the police court in this city yesterday the prohibition case against P. P. Gillis was further adjourned for one week. This was done at the request of J. J. Johnson, attorney for the defendant, who stated that Mr. Gillis was sick in bed and unable to attend court. To the granting of the request Mr. Jenkins, the prosecutor, strongly objected, maintaining that all the while during the process of adjournment of the trial liquor was being sold at the defendant's store. He would not so object provided a guarantee was given that no liquor would be sold pending the result of the case. The Magistrate said that before granting another adjournment he would require sufficient medical testimony. James Savidant, drunk, was fined four dollars or fifteen days.

August McMurchy, K. C., of the law firm of McMurchy and Dennison, Barristers, Toronto, was granted an interview with the members of the City School Board on Saturday with a view of introducing the penny bank system into the city schools. Mr. McMurchy is a director of the bank and is being much interested in promoting the scheme of inculcating the spirit of thriftiness among the children. The bank was licensed under a special Act under the Dominion of Canada some six years ago. Under this Act a guarantee fund must be formed and the subscribers to be guaranteed by a guarantee company to the extent of $10,000.00 or cash to that amount deposited with the government. Another clause in the Act prohibits any member or director receiving any dividends or directors fees and the most important clause of all orders that 95 per cent of all the deposits have to be placed in the Post Office Savings Bank. In Toronto since June, 1910, the deposits amounted to $75,000 with branches in every school and in about sixty schools outside of Toronto. The Board fully endorsed the proposition. Mr. McMurchy, who is doing this work gratuitously, will have an interview with the principals of the school and the Mother Superior this afternoon.

AT THE MERCY OF A RIVAL NATION

(From an address by Sir George Ross, formerly Liberal Premier of Ontario, before the Toronto Canadian Club.)

"I am in favor of preferential tariff because I think it will prevent entangling alliances with the United States. Our experience so far with the Americans has not been very satisfactory. I have not quite forgotten the reasons why the Reciprocity treaty, negotiated by Lord Elgin in 1854, was so summarily repealed in 1866.

"In my judgment the commerce of Canada should never be placed at the mercy of the United States Congress or of any other competing nation. We have adapted our transportation system now to British trade. To enter into a reciprocity treaty with the United States would make us dependent upon the humor of our American neighbors, and would be to discount all this expenditure.

"Does it not appear the proper thing, partly because of our Imperial relations, and partly because of the extent of the British market, that we should direct our energies towards meeting its requirements rather than towards framing a treaty with a nation who has treated us with undoubted harshness in commercial matters, and in whose COMMERCIAL GOOD-WILL WE CANNOT DEPEND.

"I prefer to establish channels of trade with Great Britain, which I believe will be permanent. WHERE YOUR TREASURE IS, THERE WILL YOUR HEART BE ALSO. All we have to do is to enter in and possess it. THE UNITED STATES WE WOULD BE UNDER A BOND, AND I DECLINE MYSELF TO ASSUME OR TO ACCEPT ANY POLICY THAT WILL PLACE THE TRADE OF CANADA AT THE MERCY OF CONGRESS OR AT THE MERCY OF A RIVAL NATION."

NOT DEPENDENT ON AMERICAN MARKET

"There was a time when the market of the great cities of the union was the only market we had for any of our products, but thank Heaven these days are past and over now. We are not dependent on the American market as we were at one time."

A WEAK GOVERNMENT

Speaking at Conservative headquarters at Beaver Hall Square, Montreal, recently, Mr. C. H. Cahm, K.C., said: "The ministry is weak with its many members withdrawing from it. And should Laurier be called away, there would be none left but Fielding, feeble in wealth, but still controlled by his old idea to turn over this country to the United States. Whatever Laurier may have done in the past, however worthy he may personally be, he is down and out. His work is finished. He no longer has his hands on the pulse of the country. His work is done, and there is no Liberal fit to succeed him. The issue today is whether Canada has to pursue the destiny prepared for her by the Fathers of Confederation, or turn towards Washington and subject the control of her fiscal affairs to the United States."

At the same meeting Mr. A. Papiou, different feelings prevailing today to those of the last two elections. It had lost its power, and now Liberal candidates through the Province must look to more powerful arguments.
