Says Officials Acting Illegally In Marking Registration Cards

The Attorney-General's Department of Prince Edward Island has no legal authority to make any notation or endorsement upon the registration certificate of any resident of the Province who applies for a warrant to purchase intoxicating liquor, it was disclosed yesterday by officials of the Department of Labour, Ottawa.

Since Oct. 1 of last year, residents have been entitled under the provisions of an amendment to the Prohibition Act to purchase a specified quantity of spirits, beer, or wine at certain intervals over a six months period.

The procedure has been as follows:

Upon receiving a certificate from his or her physician, certifying that the applicant would, for medical purposes, require certain amounts of spirits, beer, or wine for the next six months, he or she was then obliged to present his or her registration certificate, along with the medical "permit" to a "warrant officer" of the Attorney-General's Department. Since the Prohibition amendment went into effect, it has been the practice of the "warrant officer", after examining the registration certificate, to write his initials upon the back of it, and to stamp the date of the application immediately below his initials.

Official Statement

Following is the text of a letter received yesterday by a local resident from officials of the Department of Labour concerning this practice:

"Dear Sir:

"Your letter of January 23 addressed to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, concerning liquor endorsements on your National Registration certificate, has been forwarded by that office to us for reply.

"The rights or privileges and authority to request the production of the National Registration certificates of persons wishing to buy liquor permit warrants or to purchase liquor itself and the endorsing of certificates to denote such purchases was granted by the Dominion Government to all of the Provincial Liquor Control Boards across Canada at various dates early in the war period.

"The reason for this was because the Dominion Government had placed a definite measure of control on the total amount of alcoholic liquors which could be sold in Canada during the different war years, working in conjunction with the Liquor Control Boards to have as equitable distribution as possible made of the restricted supplies. This procedure of endorsing Registration certificates was adopted at that time and has been continued until the present time.

"The Province of Prince Edward Island does not have a Liquor Control Board and the Provincial Government is not involved in the commercial sale of alcoholic liquors as a business. Consequently they never applied to our Minister or to this Branch for the authority to demand production of certificates and to endorse same for the purpose above described.

"In other words the Department Branch or official of the Prince Edward Island Government who made the notation or endorsement on your certificate to the effect that you had been issued a warrant or permit to purchase liquor, had no right or authority to make such an endorsement or notation.

"The privilege of making such endorsements or notations is granted in writing only and by the Chief Registrar for Canada under our Regulations. We have had to keep a strict measure of control over the size and form of endoresements that are allowed to the various Control Boards for that purpose, as otherwise all sorts and sizes of designs would have been used and the certificates of many thousands of registrants would have become permanently defaced.

"We thank you for bringing this matter to our attention, and we are today writing to the Attorney-General's Deparment of your Province advising them that if they wish to continue making endorsements on certificates for this purpose, that they must first of all make proper application to us for the right and secondly that we must given written approval of the size and form of the endorsement which they propose to use.

"Yours very truly,
W.S. Boyd,
"Assistant Chief Registrar for Canada."

Mr. Large Interviewed

Attorney-General F. A. Large said last night he had received a letter from the Dominion Department of Labour respecting officials of his department making notations or endorsements upon the registration certificates of applicants for liquor warrants.

The Labour Department, Mr. Large said, had informed him that the marks or designs used by his department on the certificate could be no more than one-quarter of an inch square and that written permission from the Department was necessary before authority to make notations or endorsements upon the certificate could be granted.

Mr. Large said he hoped to have such authority within the next ten days.

A MARITIMER TALKS

Own Trade Agreements

The question of the attempted seizure of our income, corporation, and succession duties by the federal power touches only the fringe of things. The Government must go to the Conference with definite demands. The people who live from the soil of Nova Scotia must make their own trade agreements with Cuba and Newfoundland. By virtue of what does an aggregation of Canadian landlubbers presume to veto the trade between three islands in the Atlantic? Does the Government propose to submit to the veto of foreigners, when it proposes to erect a flouring mill on the Halifax waterfront at the terminals? The Canadian guerrillas do not wish to see a flouring mill, any more than they wish to see a cement plant, or any plant in Nova Scotia. Why are the terminals there? To let ice-bogged Canada get out to salt water. Does any one believe there would be any terminals there if the St. Lawrence were open the year around? To add insult to injury, a Harbor Commission, domiciled in the back of the continent, walks over the heads of competent men living on the sea-front, men who know ships and shipping. It is past time that backwoods control of our ports came to an end. Does Nova Scotia propose to submit to the bleeding of the motor vehicles gang by which two to three millions yearly are ripped out of the people of this province? Loot, which goes directly into the jeans of thieves, backed by Parliament! Are the Maritimes to be manacled by federal edicts, and then told to work and get money to pay taxes to Canada?

There is but one way out of the Canadian clutches. Nova Scotia must collect all taxes, customs, excise included, and hand over to Canada our per capita tax for the legitimate public services, and we shall define what "legitimate" implies. Our taxes will not be strained through the fingers of Canadian racketeers.

It is for the Nova Scotia Government to tell the Conference bluntly that unless the blockade by tariff, embargos and impudent encroachment upon the internal affairs of our people cease, it will issue a proclamation to the people of Nova Scotia, calling upon them to refuse to pay taxes of any kind to Canada. The people demand a showdown. Such a pronouncement would be the sunrise upon the resurrection of liberty and freedom which for seventy years in these Maritimes have lain buried under the wreckage of constitutional laws, Canadian violence and economic brutality.

The American Colonies held the gun to the same devilish thing. It is only forty years since Norway held the gun to the head of the Scandinavian Kingdom, and seceded, for the exact reasons which now obtain in Nova Scotia. Where in history did a Maritime people submit to the domination of an inland horde?

Presentation To Mayor Blanchard From City Staff

A pleasant surprise awaited His Worship Mayor J. E. Blanchard yesterday evening when he was called at 5 o'clock to the City Hall on the pretext that certain papers required his signature at the City Clerk's office.

Arriving at the City Hall, he was ushered into the Council Chambers where all the employees of the City were gathered awaiting his arrival. After a short address was read to His Worship by City Clerk J. A. Fullerton on behalf of the City employees, a cow-hide brown leather suitcase was presented to him by the City Clerk on behalf of the employees.

Mayor Blanchard in a brief address thanked the gathering for the honour done him and assured them he would always remember with gratitude the splendid co-operation they had at all times given him.

Among those who spoke briefly expressing their regret at the retirement of Mayor Blanchard from active participation in civic affairs were: Chief of Police A. Birtwistle, Mr. H. A. Messervey and Mr. Alfred Frizzel.

Following is the text of the address which bears the signatures of all City employees:

"To His Worship
"Mayor J. E. Blanchard,
"Your Worship:—

"It is with feelings of regret that we the employees of the City Corporation have assembled here today to say farewell.

"During your time, first as a Councillor, and during the last two years as our Mayor, you have always been a real friend to us all.

"The time has now arrived when you are severing the link as a civic managing director, but the friendships you have made will be lasting ones. We hope, too, that you will not lose interest in civic affairs but may see fit to again return and serve as Mayor of our City.

"As a parting remembrance from those who have had the pleasure of working under you, we ask you to accept this small gift and with it our very best wishes for the future.

"Sincerely,
"Employees of the Corporation of the City of Charlottetown."

It is the privilege of voting to select the men who will represent you in the City Council for the next two years. The dissatisfaction you have many times voiced in past years is now yours to express in ringing and unmistakable terms. Your voices have said you were not pleased with the manner in which your affairs as citizens were conducted. Now is your chance to vote an entirely new group of outstanding businessmen into office and let them bring to City Hall all the sound business principles they employ in their own firms. They are offering themselves for election solely to aid you and to see that this city is properly run for your benefit as economically as possible. This is something every citizen wants done. This city is tired of haphazard methods of conducting its affairs and demands a new system. The following men are capable of and are prepared to give the same painstaking attention to the business of this city as they do their own, and that is the kind of administration Charlottetown needs and wants. Vote today for Daniel Noonan in Ward 1; Walthen Gaudet in Ward 2; J. Gordon MacDonald in Ward 3; Picton McCormac and George Ryan in Ward 4; M. Alban Farmer and Lt.-Col. David Stewart, D.S.O., in Ward 5. And make sure that Keith Rogers is your next Mayor to head this outstanding group and lead this city to better civic management. 2-13-1i

"Y" Building At Airport Taken Over

The former Y.M.C.A. building at the airport is to be moved to the Dominion Experimental Station grounds as soon as moving arrangements can be made, it was learned last night.

The building was taken over from the R.C.A.F. last fall by the Dominion Department of Labour and will be used as an agricultural school under the Vocational Training plan. The instruction will be given by local members of the Dominion Live Stock Branch, officials of the Dominion Experimental Station and of the Provincial Department of Agriculture.

It is understood that Vocational Training School officials have had a difficult time in obtaining the services of a contractor with sufficient experience and the necessary equipment to move such a large building, and that Mr. Wesley Cole of Kensington is expected to be the man to perform the task.

The building is in the form of an H. One wing is 77 feet long by 30 feet wide and the other, 47 feet by 30 feet. The connecting piece is 20 feet by 15 feet.

While no definite time has been set for the moving of the building, it is hoped to have it on its new foundation by the last of March.

Sabotage Lessons Backfire On Dutch

By JOHN DAUPHINEE

THE HAGUE, Feb. 12 — (CP) — Sabotage lessons taught Netherlanders during the five-year German occupation are delaying post war recovery of their country.

Coal is the backbone of Netherlands production. From 1940 until liberation Dutch miners applied "go-slow" tactics as their contribution to the fight against Hitler's Reich.

"Now they can't unlearn their sabotage lessons," said a government official whose job it is to prepare output statistics for all industries. "They still don't turn in a pre-war day's work.

Government spokesmen say that next to Belgium their country has made the quickest recovery in Europe. Eighty per cent of 1939 is the target for the second half of this year in both industry and agriculture.

After that progress will be slower. An estimated one-third of the Netherlands assets were destroyed by the war and to restore the loss is a tremendous task. Aside from the coal shortage, adequate transport is lacking, raw materials are scarce and modern machinery must be obtained to modernize and re-equip factories.

Trade Minister H. Vos said there will be some agricultural exports next year, but added:—

"It will be two or three years before agriculture is back to normal, five years for industry and 10 years for housing."

Exports still are drastically below normal and the big pre-war German market has been temporarily lost, with Allied control authorities restricting imports to barest necessities. Vital imports from Germany also have been cut off for the time being.

Paul G. Kronacker, Belgian Minister of Supply predicted a vastly increased trade between Canada and Belgium at a conference this afternoon Belgium, he said, due to its financial reserves and also to its immense resources in the Belgian Congo where the world's richest uranium mines are located, is in a position to pay in gold or Canadian currency for its purchases.

He mentioned that Belgium is in the market for Canadian ships and has already purchased seven of the Park Battleship Fleet, now being disbanded by the Park Steamships Crown Company.

Earlier in the day, Sir Wilfred Griffin Eady, head of the United Kingdom delegation to Ottawa and Washington seeking loans for the rehabilitation of British industry, told a group of Canadian newspapermen that Great Britain was not "pleading for charity or trying to tell a sob story" in its request for loans.

Jobless Veterans

With hundreds of veterans of the Italian campaign and Northwestern Europe walking the streets of Ottawa jobless, a drive is being made to eradicate married women from the civil service in this Capital City.

There are scores of cases prominent civil servants say where wives of men earning between $3,000 and $4,000 yearly are holding jobs in the Government service and earning between $1,000 and $2,000 a year. Moreover there have been many cases listed by veterans' organizations where a man, his wife and two or more children are all working in the government service; thus barring veterans from jobs which are theirs by virtue of the preference established for overseas fighting men.

A request is going forward to the civil service commission for a survey of the situation, with the suggestion that the wife of any man earning upwards of $2,000 a year be barred from employment in the public service of Canada.

Deputy Grand Knight R. E. Bradley received the prize donated by Mr. Wilfred McKenna to the member of the executive increasing by the largest amount the number of members at meetings.

Under the heading, the good of the order, Mr. Carl Greene, Mr. William Campbell and Mr. Aubrey Ward recieved cups and spoons for the new additions to their families.

The lecturer, Mr. William Campbell, then took over the duties of the chair while the Rev. T. P. Butler gave a very interesting and impressive talk on observations from his work overseas.

Defends Churchill's Right to Sell Speeches

LONDON Feb. 11 —(C P) — Winston Churchill's right to sell for publication the secret wartime speeches he delivered in the House of Commons was questioned today in the House, with Prime Minister Attlee upholding the right of a member to publish his speeches.

Mr. Churchill recently sold three of the speeches to Life magazine for an unannounced sum.

Mr. Attlee said "no official record was kept either by the House or the government" of the speeches. Stating it was "entirely a matter for the member" to publish his speeches, Mr. Attlee said he wanted to "take legal advice before answering" the question about ownership or copyright.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12 — (AP) —A geranium plant 13 feet 6 3-8 inches tall is on its way to Mrs. Lillian P. Budd, visiting in Geneva, Ill. Recently Mrs. Budd wrote the All-Year Club of Southern California that some Illinois college professors scoffed at her boast that geraniums in California grow so tall they extend over the roofs. So she wrote the All-Year Club to produce such a plant.

Confirm Award Of V.C. To Maj. John Foote

OTTAWA, Feb. 12 — (CP) — Maj. John Foote of Hamilton and Port Hope, Ont., Canada's 14th Victoria Cross winner of the Second Great War, today described his V.C.-winning exploits of the bloody beaches of Dieppe as "strictly in the line of duty."

The tall, thick-set Presbyterian Padre said his part at Dieppe, where he refused evacuation to remain behind and assist the wounded, later becoming a prisoner, was a "very ordinary piece of work." He added:—

"I don't think a man should be a padre of a regiment and not go where they go. Our regiment went to Dieppe and I went along strictly in the line of duty."

Modest and quiet-spoken, Maj. Foote puffed on his brier pipe and turned the trend of talk to the men of his regiment, the Royal Hamilton Light Infantry — "the brave ones who all did as much and more than I did." Many of them fell in battle, lacking field dressings which they had given to other wounded.

Announcement of the award of the V.C. to Maj. Foote, a native of Madoc, Ont., was made early today by Defence Headquarters. He was the ninth member of the Canadian Army to win the coveted award and the second Dieppe hero to be so honored. The other was Lt.-Col. Cecil Merritt of Vancouver.

The citation said that after landing on the Dieppe beaches he became a first aid worker, operating from a post established in a slight depression just deep enough to give cover to men lying down. Time and again he left the post to administer morphine to men in pain or to carry wounded men to safety.

"On these occasions," said the citation, "Foote exposed himself to an inferno of fire and saved many lives by his gallant efforts."

Discuss Investiture

OTTAWA, Feb. 12 — (CP) — Army authorities today were discussing the possibility of delaying the special investiture for Maj. John Weir Foote, latest Victoria Cross winner, until after the arrival of the new Governor-General, Field Marshal Sir Harold Alexander.

It is felt it would be appropriate that one of the first official functions of the famous war commander, who directed the Canadian Army Corps in Italy, be a Victoria Cross investiture.

Highway Traffic Is Problem In Britain

BY MURIEL PENN

LONDON, Feb. 12 — (Reuters)—Britain's police forces today face a peacetime problem—that of coping with the tremendous increase in road traffic since the end of the war.

London's busy thoroughfares are congested with queues—of automobiles, not citizens—which lengthen weekly.

Since the basic gasoline ration was restored last June, permitting the ordinary motorist to drive 150 to 200 miles a month, private cars have been put back on the roads in increasing numbers.

With relaxation of the ban on delivery of goods and improved bus services—it is estimated by next month they will be back to normal peacetime standards in Central London—the pre-war problem of congestion has returned.

Already it takes twice and in some cases three times as long as a year ago to drive from one point to another in London at peak traffic periods.

London's traffic authorities are seeking to solve these problems.

Long-term solutions include the building of a ring road around the most congested areas to take through traffic off the old narrow arteries of the East End, the City (the heart of London), and the West End, and provided with "fly overs" to reduce intersections to a minimum. One such circular road was completed around the outskirts of London just before the war and already has proved its use in taking traffic off crowded roads in the outer industrial areas.
