SUGGESTS THAT CANADA BE GIVEN ISLANDS

(Canadian Press)
LONDON, Sept. 21.—The suggestion that the British West Indies, including Bermuda should be transferred by Britain to Canada, was made by Sir Harry Armstrong, former British Consul General at New York, in a letter to the Times today. Sir Harry wrote in connection with rumors concerning the purchase of the British West Indies in liquidation of Britain's debt to the United States. He said that in view of the many cases in recent years in which certain British islands hitherto under the authority of the Crown have been transferred to the Dominions, it seemed to him very desirable that the West Indies be transferred to the Canadian Government.

(Canadian Press)
CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 21.—More than a dozen cities and towns in portions of Ohio and Indiana were severely shaken last night by subterranean tremors, the most pronounced in this section since 1811, when the entire Ohio river valley was affected.

Little Damage
Although attended by intense excitement among householders, the quakes did comparatively little damage and caused no loss of life. It reached its greatest intensity at the village of Anna, in Wexter, Ohio. The community of 500 persons was without a whole chimney today, and every house and building was damaged to some extent. Plastering in the Anna High School was shaken from the walls and the corner stones of the Lutheran church were jarred loose. Damage was estimated at $10,000.

Happy Ending Written To One Of Aviation's Greatest Narratives

Lisbon To New York Airmen Snatched From Watery Grave After Being Marooned More Than Six Days Without Food Or Water.

(By Charles Bruce, Can. Press Staff Writer)

HALIFAX, N.S., Sept. 21.—Sparks from a freighter's wireless gave notice today that a happy ending is written to one of aviation's greatest stories. Safe aboard the motor ship Belmoira are Wily Rody, the German who invested his inheritance in a second hand aeroplane; Christian Johanssen, who was at the controls when the "Esa" set out from Lisbon nine days ago, and Fernando Da Costa Viegas, the Portuguese sportsman who went along for the fun of it.

SAFE AND WELL
A week ago tonight New York's metropolitan airports were ablaze with lights to guide Rody and his companions to their goal. As hope for their safety congealed to apprehension, the crew of the "Esa" were riding out the hours on their floating plane off Newfoundland. As the lights paled into dawn, and anxiety dulled to near forgetfulness with the passing days, they were still riding. Tonight the three were snug and well, eastward bound between the decks of the Norwegian tramp that picked them off the face of the Atlantic.

MAROONED SIX DAYS
They alone knew the toll taken of nerve and sinew by two days of flying and a week marooned on a bit of powerless metal. Only Rody and Johanssen and Viegas could tell the story of six days life under the threat of thirst and starvation and the hanging sword of storm.

NO DETAILS
The story was known only by implication tonight. Heading eastward, the Belmoira refused to give out the details of the rescue. Rody and his companions were in the position of weary men who have gone to bed and pulled out the telephone plug.

FLEW IN CIRCLES?
The three fliers were picked up nearly fifty miles from the position from which they were sighted, everything apparently then OK by the Pennland. The Belmoira's position when she sighted the wreckage was 45.26 north, 54.31 west, some eight miles off Cape Pine, which is a promontory on the Newfoundland coast thirty miles west of Cape Race. From the meagre information available, it is deduced here that Rody, Johanssen and Da Costa Viegas struck aviator's "blind spot" where the metallic deposits of Bell Island are believed to influence the instruments of trans Atlantic airmen, and flew in circles until their fuel was exhausted.

British Budget Safely Balanced Says Snowden

LONDON, Sept. 21.—Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, tonight declared "the pound will not go the way of the mark or franc. Though its value may fall in terms of foreign currency, we can feel assured that the extent of the fall will be limited. The British budget is now the most securely balanced in the world."

Judge Imposes Stiff Sentences To Law Breakers

(Canadian Press)
SYDNEY, N.S., Sept. 21.—On conviction of burning a neighbor's barn, William Abrahams, a Syrian, resident of Porthood, was sentenced to three years in Dorchester by Mr. Justice Hugh Ross at the recent Inverness Supreme Court sessions. At the same time His Lordship imposed a four year sentence upon R. D. MacKinnon, convicted of chewing an ear off Angus J. Campbell at a fight at a rural dance. Angus MacDougall and Alex D. MacDougall drew three months each for jail breaking on August 12. They with others had been locked up on drunk and disorderly charges, but during the night kicked their way to freedom. They were subsequently recaptured.

POPULAR CO. RETURN WITH NEW SHOWS

Mae Edwards Players Warmly Applauded At Opening Performance.

Last night at the Prince Edward Theatre, the Mae Edwards players presented their three act comedy, The Family Sap, before a large and appreciative audience. That the Mae Edwards Players are still continuing their annual tours is proof enough that they are exceptionally good, for few of such companies survived the advent of the talkies on the silver screen.

Sir Samuel Hoare, Secretary of State for India, told the Indian Round Table Conference in London, the Indian rupee would be maintained on a sterling basis, as against the gold basis. Consequently India took similar measures in regard to gold as Great Britain did. The Indian Princes offered to return to the Government the contributions towards their expenses while attending the conference, an offer gratefully accepted by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald as a significant earnestness of India's friendliness.
