TO SAVE A GOOD OLD SHOE

bring it to us, the shoe doctors, and watch us bring it back to life and service. Holes in the soles, run down at the heels, rips in the uppers, worn down at toes, and such things do not deter us from repairing your footwear and putting them in first class shape again. It's well worth while to save them.

CHANCE FOR A MILKMAN.—Mr. Ellis, the well known milkman, has given up delivering milk in Charlottetown and as a result all the customers on that route who have not secured the services of another milkman are put to considerable inconvenience to secure milk. There should be considerable business for the man who will take up the route and supply milk as good as that which was furnished by Mr. Ellis. It is understood that Mr. Ellis intends selling or has sold out his farm interests.

FUR FARMING IN MONTANA.—The Black Fox Magazine, New York says: Mr. W. S. Custer of Missoula Montana, has this season purchased a number of pairs of first quality Silvers on P. E. Island, which he has taken to his ranch in Montana. He states that he expects to see quite a number of ranches built in that state during the coming year, as he believes that no part of the country is better adapted for fur farming than Montana.

WEDDING.—A wedding of interest took place on Wednesday evening, November 19th at the Methodist Parsonage, Pownal, when Mr. Arthur M. Burke of Southport, P. E. I. and Miss Beatrice I. Vickery of Wellesley Hills, Mass., U. S. A., were united in marriage by Rev. H. Pierce. They were attended by Miss Emam Burke, sister of the groom and Mr. Stewart Henry of Southport. Mr. and Mrs. Burke who have the good wishes of a host of friends will make their home in Southport.

OF HISTORIC INTEREST. — It will be of interest to many Guardian readers to know that C. Birch Bagster, author of the history of Prince Edward, extracts from which were reproduced on page seven of Tuesday's Guardian, resided with his family at Mill Vale, New London. His wife was Susan Aitken, of Lower Montague, an aunt of Mr. W. H. Aitken and S. B. Aitken, and George W. Aitken, (Stone House), Lower Montague. Mr. C. Birch Bagster was a son of Samuel Bagster, printer of Bagster's Bible. With his family he removed to Windsor, England. A daughter of the Island historian, Miss Cornelia, resides in Taunton, Somerset, England and corresponds regularly with relatives here. She is an authoress of considerable repute, one of her most noted works being "The Seeking and Finding Almanac" which is still being issued yearly.

INFORMATION WANTED.— Some time ago information was asked for through the Guardian relative to a man named Alex M. McDonald who had been working on a farm in East Royalty, who had left and of whom nothing had since been heard. In reply to this enquiry "One Who Knows" wrote the Guardian stating that Mr. McDonald was working on a farm in the Western part of the province. As "One Who Knows," did not give any address the information was of no value and the friends of Mr. McDonald, being anxious as to his whereabouts and safety, would be greatly relieved if this person or some other would communicate with the Guardian stating definitely where Mr. McDonald is.

WEDDING BELLS.—The marriage of Miss Emma Beer (familiarly known as Topsy,) daughter of Mrs. H. H. Beer Weymouth Street, Charlottetown, to Sergeant Arthur G. Bruce, son of Mr. D. A. Bruce, also of this city, took place quietly at a quarter to six yesterday morning at St. Paul's Rectory. Rev. H. D. Raymond officiated in the presence of immediate relatives of the bride and groom. The couple were unattended. The bride who was given away by her brother, Mr. Pope Beer wore a travelling suit of navy blue serge with hat to match and carried a bouquet of white carnations. She wore a set of sable furs, the gift of the groom. After the ceremony Sergeant Bruce and his bride left on the early express on a honeymoon trip to Boston and other cities. The wedding presents, which were many, included a valuable silver service from the staff of the Mechanical Department of the Prince Edward Island Railway, where the groom is employed, a handsome mirror from the firm of Alley & Co., with whom the bride had been employed, and a cut glass bowl from the groom's fellow members of St. James Church choir. A few evenings ago, the bride received a miscellaneous shower from the Orpheus Club, and the groom a splendid wicker chair from the boys of that club. To Sergeant Bruce, who fought gallantly in France with the 8th Siege Battery, and to the charming and popular bride, whom he has gallantly won, the best wishes of numerous friends will be heartily extended. The Guardian joins in happiest congratulations.

FUR PELT PRICES.—Fox men will be interested in knowing that prices of fox pelts are running at an altitude that promises exceptionally good returns for this year's crop. Yesterday Mr. W. K. Rogers sold to Mr. Chester McLure, of the Fur Sales Board, a quantity of pelts for $8,700. The pelts were culls, as Mr. Rogers is killing only the animals that show any evidences of inferiority, retaining the best for breeding purposes. Mr. Rogers has had a good deal of experience in marketing furs and has the reputation of getting all he can for his pelts, so that when he expresses himself as satisfied with the prices received from Mr. McLure, it is a pretty good indication that that gentleman paid all for them that could be expected. It may be added here as another evidence of the healthy condition of the fox business that Mr. Rogers sold only a few days ago to New York parties 40 pairs of silver foxes, these also at satisfactory prices.
