Ross Captures The Welterweight Title

Referee Casts Deciding Vote After Judges Fail To Agree On The Winner

STEWART'S WIN FROM SENIOR "Y"

Stewart's Bakery softball team displaying the form that carried them into the finals last year for the City title, pounded out a 30 to 7 win over the Y. M. C. A. team last night in a regular league game.

Stewart's hammered five homers off the offerings of John Turner during the course of the game, but outside of this the "Y" hurler was in no way to blame for the defeat, a deluge of errors by his mates having him in trouble continually.

Boom Snaps On English Challenger

GOSPORT, England, May 28.—The boom on T. O' M. Sopwith's Endeavor, the America's Cup challenger, snapped today when a puff of wind caught her and a sudden whip of the pole caused it to break. Sopwith, who referred to the accident as "trifling," said careless handling of the boom was responsible for her snapping. The boom, a flexible apparatus controlled by wire stays and these were not properly set, Sopwith said.

Bruising Battle Sees Jewish Brawler Rise To Great Heights To Take Decision From McLarnin Crowd Of 65,000 Witness Scrap.

By Edward J. Neil, Associated Press Sports Writer. (By Guardian's Special Wire) MADISON SQUARE GARDEN BOWL, New York, May 28.—A black-haired whirlwind from Chicago, glittery-eyed Barney Ross, wrote a brand new chapter in ringdom's fantastic history tonight as he added Jimmy McLarnin's welterweight crown to his own lightweight championship and ended the belting domination the Vancouver Irishman has held over ringmen for the past half dozen years.

He carved his new record into the books in the boldest, most daring manner, the way no one said it could be done, by slugging with McLarnin, the "dynamiter," through 15 savage rounds to win the decision. Referee Ed Forbes after two judges had failed to agree on the winner.

Crowd Pleased With Verdict. A mammoth crowd estimated at 65,000, paying $225,000 to see a match that sounded the knell for the depression in boxing, stood for several minutes as Forbes raised Barney's hand and roared their approval of the boy from Chicago's Ghetto who succeeded where his illustrious predecessor, Benny Leonard, failed again Jack Britton in 1922.

From the second through the eighth round, the dynamic little Ross, rising to ring immortality such as the great Gans, or Nelson, never knew, tore into the slightly heavier McLarnin and punched with him, welcoming every exchange as few men over the Irishman's 12-year career ever have dared to do.

He started blood seeping from Jimmy's nose in the fourth round when left hooks that cracked into the champion's head with the snap of a black snake whip.

In the ninth he got off the floor after a left hook belted him from his feet, to thunder back into McLarnin with a retaliating southpaw smash. Forbes dumped Jimmy unceremoniously on his back in the tenth.

Neither took a count in the round that turned the tide momentarily for the Irishman who in his thumping prime smashed out Kid Kaplan, Sid Terris, Al Singer, Joey Sangor, Ruby Goldstein, and even the great Benny Leonard himself before colliding this night with a different type of fighter—a boy with a jaw of steel and the courage of a crusader.

YANKS SIGN VETERAN HURLER

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) ST. LOUIS, May 28.—New York Yankees, in an attempt to bolster their pitching staff, today signed Burleigh Grimes, 44 year old spitball pitcher recently released by St. Louis Cardinals. The veteran hurler has been with six National League clubs since joining Pittsburgh Pirates in 1926.

BIG UPSET AS CHAMPS LOSE DOUBLES CROWN

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) PARIS, May 28.—In the major upset of the French hardcourt tennis championships to date, Fred Perry and G. V. Hughes of England, the defending titleholders, were eliminated today from the doubles.

They were swept away by a dazzling cross-fire attack of the racquets of R. Menzel and Lazi Hecht, Czechoslovakian combination, in straight sets, 6-4, 6-4, 6-2.

The deciding factor in the champions' downfall was Hecht's brilliant work at the net. He held the spectators spellbound and dazzled his opponents with crisp, angled drop-shots that fell just over the cord. Perry and Hughes were in good form but they could not muster a defence for such inspired play.

America's champion and lone survivor, Helen Jacobs of Berkeley, Calif., gained the quarter-final round of the women's singles. She won much as she pleased from Mary Harwick, an 18-year-old unranked opponent today, 6-0, 6-0. Her opponent tomorrow will be Lololetta Payott of Switzerland, who defeated Miss Jacobs in this event two years ago.

Veteran Shortstop Bats Giants To Twin Victory; Cardinals Go Into Lead

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) NEW YORK, May 28.—With Travis Jackson's home runs deciding the issue in both games, New York Giants knocked Pittsburgh Pirates out of first place in the National League standings today as they swept a double header. The world champions won the first game 3-2 in 11 innings and the nightcap 1-0.

Both games were exhibitions of fine pitching. In the first, Hal Schumacher and Adolpho Luque outpointed Larry French while in the second Carl Hubbell shaded Ralph Birkofer for his second shutout and seventh victory of the season. The triumph sent the Giants into third place, above the Cubs, while the Cardinals took the lead.

Behind the shut out pitching of Bill Hallahan, St. Louis Cardinals pounded out a 10-0 victory over the Phillies at Philadelphia in the final game of the series.

Although he walked five men and allowed seven hits, Hallahan was in danger of being scored on only once when Bartell's single and J. Moore's double put men on second and third and no one out. He fanned the next three men with ease, however.

Jim "Jumbo" Elliott made his first pitching start for Boston Braves and worked well enough to get credit for the 5-3 decision the Tribesmen gained in their rubber clash with Chicago Cubs at Boston.

The burly left-hander lasted until the seventh when Marty McManus helped the Cubs make their three-run rally by booting two grounders. Bob Smith relieved Elliott and checked the Chicago surge in abrupt fashion.

Washing lost to Chicago. A 7-hit attack against four Washington pitchers, including Zeke Bonura's 11th home run of the season and another by Luke Appling gave Chicago White Sox at home the final game of the series with the Senators.

Trailing 6-3 going into the sixth inning the Yankees started their home run belting with Gehrig cracking out the first of his two circuit drives and Jack Saltzger adding another. The big blowoff came in the seventh, however, when Heinie Manush, who led the Senators' 12-hit offensive with a homer, double and single, blasted his four-bagger with two on base to offset the advantage of Bonura's three run homer of Al Thomas in the first inning.

Two homers off the bat of Hank Greenberg, Detroit's heavy-hitting first baseman, and doubles by other members of the squad, gave Detroit Tigers a 12-6 victory over Boston Red Sox and a clean sweep for the three-game series at Detroit.

C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) WINNIPEG, May 27.—With five defeats and only one win marked up on his 1934 pitching record, Lloyd Stirling, whose home is in Saint John, N.B., dropped a 12-6 decision to Superior Blues here Saturday afternoon in a scheduled Northern Baseball League game.

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) TRURO, N. S., May 28.—Cape Breton delegates' proposal to have that Island severed from the mainland of Nova Scotia as a separate baseball district was turned down after heated discussion at the annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Baseball Association held today.

TEETH ARE EASIER TO protect THAN TO repair

Face this pyorrhea business seriously. You may think your teeth are sound. But you can't see pyorrhea coming—it may be in your gums five or ten years before it takes a single tooth. Four out of five people past the age of 40 have pyorrhea. And how many more under 40 are marked victims—and don't know it? Take precautions now. Visit your dentist twice a year. Pick out a toothpaste that cleans your teeth thoroughly, and takes care of the gums too. Dr. H. J. Forhan worked 26 years as a pyorrhea specialist. His exclusive formula is obtainable only in Forhan's toothpaste. Get ahead of pyorrhea. Start today with Forhan's.

ROUND BY ROUND AS MCLARNIN LOSES

ROUND ONE. Ross felt for McLarnin's head carefully with a long left jab and Jimmy backed away. The Canadian ducked under Ross' left hand, missed with a left and right, and backed Barney slowly across the ring. McLarnin dropped a short left hook on Ross' chin and Barney threw caution aside. He ripped into Jimmy with a short flurry of rights and lefts to the body and then fell back to a cautious crouch. Ross backed to the ropes, flanking McLarnin's head with lefts, and took two hard left hooks to the head and body. They loosened up their, and a started swinging punched a hard right on Ross's neck and they slugged each other about the head, each with a right hand free, until the bell broke them and sent them to their corners.

ROUND TWO. Ross stabbed at Jimmy's head with his left and the Irishman bobbed underneath with a left hook to the body and a right cross to the chin that made the light-weight blink his eyes. McLarnin crowded the little fellow, roughing him with both hands, driving lefts and rights to the body. He drove Ross into a corner with a swift barrage of body blows but Barney wheeled swifly, pulled out, and stabbed Jimmy's head with lefts. McLarnin feinted and smashed a hard right on Barney's jaw. His ferocity slowly increasing, McLarnin smashed Ross to the ropes with a left and right to the body and nearly spilled him with a right high on the forehead. Desperately Ross fought back, catching McLarnin off guard with a swift two-fisted onslaught to the head and he was driving McLarnin before him at the bell.

ROUND THREE. McLarnin bored into Ross with two left hooks to the body, took a half dozen left jabs to the face, then backed up and started swinging with more short lefts to the head. Ross flicked Jimmy's head with a nice left jab and they wrestled a moment in a clinch. McLarnin belted Ross with a right to the chin and merely set him punching mad. Ross swarmed in to Jimmy with both hands, hooking lefts to the body, rights to the head. And as McLarnin backed away, hard pressed he missed a terrific right to the head. Ross whipped after him, shooting three left hooks to the body and a right

ROUND SIX. Blood was still seeping from McLarnin's nostrils as he came out jabbing carefully at the bell. He peeked his left into Ross's head, dropped two left hooks on the challenger's chin and promptly was tied in a clinch. As they sparred in mid-ring, Ross hooked his left fiercely to McLarnin's head and he dropped to the ropes, and he stepped back as McLarnin's head

LOSES AGAIN N.S. BASEBALL ASSN. ANNUAL MEETING

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) TRURO, N. S., May 28.—Cape Breton delegates' proposal to have that Island severed from the mainland of Nova Scotia as a separate baseball district was turned down after heated discussion at the annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Baseball Association held today.

Officers of last year were re-elected with H. A. MacQuarrie of Westville placed in the President's chair for another term of office.

Criticism of the manner in which the executive had administered junior and intermediate baseball was hurled during the meeting, and plans for paying greater attention to junior sport were formulated. Junior baseball will escape fees, but it was decided today to fix a fee for intermediate baseball of $1.00 for each playdown game.
