THIRD DAY OF THE PROV'L EXHIBITION

Another Day of Keen Enjoyment at the Exhibition. A Splendid Day's Racing Under Ideal Weather Conditions. Attendance Almost as Large as on Previous Day.

Ideal weather again favoured the Exhibition Management and visitors yesterday and the attendance was almost up to that of the previous day some 7,500 having passed through the main entrance.

The management are certainly to be congratulated on the excellent arrangements made, all of which were carried out without a hitch. The best of order was observed everywhere both in the City and on the grounds, even the noisy and exciting midway with its many and varied attractions being conducted to the apparent satisfaction of flocked and fleecers. Indeed there appeared to be little fleecing in evidence this year, those paying the tolls being satisfied that they received the worth of their money. One showman who was suspected of giving his patrons a raw deal was accordingly taken by a policeman to the Secretary's Office and ordered off the grounds. This speaks well for the watchfulness of the police and management.

Visitors yesterday occupied themselves largely in inspecting the live stock and many of them in getting pointers from the Judges. Dr. J. A. Sinclair in commenting on the horses shown this year made a comment similar to one made last year, namely that some of the horses entered as carriage horses were really roadsters and should have been entered as such. He suggested that in future separate prizes should be offered for these classes.

Mr. B. Gray who judged the heavy horses said the younger stock was superior to the old, an encouraging feature and one which showed that greater care is being exercised in the matter of selection and breeding. On the whole the heavy horses were lacking in size.

The fine spirit shown by the people generally towards the patriotic undertakings was most praiseworthy. The 105th Comfort Circle and the Daughters of the Empire reaped a fairly generous harvest for the boys overseas. The solicitors for the two hospitals also were very generously treated.

The Fourth Regiment Band rendered good service throughout the three days of the Exhibition both on the grounds and in the street parades. On this the last day of the Exhibition the exhibitors and visitors will look back with pleasure on what has unquestionably been the most successful and most satisfactory exhibition ever held in the province.

On Thursday morning over 3000 people came to the city by trains. Yesterday the morning arrivals numbered something over 2,000. On Thursday morning about 100 automobiles drove in from the Western part of the province. A number of them stayed overnight and others came in yesterday. The steamers from Pictou brought in between 1200 and 1400 people from Nova Scotia points alone, while the Pt. du Chene-Summer side steamer brought several hundred people from New Brunswick and Western points. It is estimated that there were over 2000 visitors from points outside of the province.

THE HORSE RACES.

Another large crowd witnessed the horse racing which was the most exciting of the meet. The weather was ideal and the track in grand shape.

Sister Patch 2.16 1/2 won the 2.18 pace after losing the first heat to Helen R., 2.16 1/2, in 2.18 1/2. This race was exciting at times when both Queen Catherine 2.24 1/2 and the two leaders would come up on even terms and in the second heat it looked as though Lillian Patchen 2.20 1/2 would give them a race, when she showed one of her usual bursts of speed, but being short of work she could not hang it out; Sister Patch's best time was 2.16 1/2, second heat.

The 2.18 trot had three withdrawals but those that started made an interesting race. Brenton H., 2.19; the winner having the most speed of the party. D. Dorothy 2.17 1/2 tried at times to head him but her hard race of the day previous told on her and she had to be contented with 3rd. Orwell Bell 2.18 1/2 winning the place, having trotted a good race and good gaited. The most interesting race no doubt was the 2.30 trot with nine trotters taking the word. They were a hard bunch to get away, but starter Power, who is always on the "job" landed them expertly, and allowed no loafing or "stalling" of the different drivers.

The race resolved itself into a six heat battle with Cap. Cresceus 2.22 the ultimate winner being hard pressed at all times by Admiral Lyod Achille and Vascita. Commodore Boy-won the second heat but was set back to eight the place for fowl driving by his driver. Uscita the 4 year old mare by Peter Billiken 2.06 1/2 showed up well in this race and looks to be pretty fair for her class next season.

RETURNED SOLDIERS IN SESSION

The attendance of soldiers at the War Veterans Meeting yesterday forenoon was not as large as could have been wished. Yet there was a fairly representative attendance both of soldiers and citizens, among the latter being His Worship Mayor Brown, Judge Haszard, Judge Fitzgerald, Judge Stewart, Stipendiary Magistrate Martin, Mr. W. W. Stanley, Rev. Dr. Fullerton, Rev. Canon Simpson and others. Major Stanley at present home on furlough, was also present.

His Worship Mayor Brown was appointed chairman and Sgt. Hines Secretary of the meeting. Mayor Brown in stating the object of the meeting, namely to organize a Returned Soldiers' Association, expressed his pleasure at meeting so many of them and, also at seeing such a representative gathering of leading citizens present. He thought the great need of the returned soldiers at present was a club room in which they could meet frequently with each other and with citizens who, he assured them, would always be glad to meet them and do all possible for them. He assured them, also, that the

ANNUAL CONVENTION TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

The second session of the Teachers' Association of P. E. I., opened yesterday morning at 9.30. President Miss C. C. Munn in the chair. The first number on the programme was a paper, "The Principle of self-activity in Teaching" by Mr. C. B. Jelly, principal of Summerside High School. Mr. Jelly pointed out that in order to achieve the best results the teacher must regard the self active nature of the pupil and not allow him to depend too much upon the teacher but rather to throw him more on his own resources, that, the child may invent ways and means of doing his own work. The excellent paper was discussed by Prin. Johnson and Inspectors Boulter and Adams.

A unanimous vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Jelly for his admirable paper. Mr. Jelly's paper was followed by a very well written and interesting paper, entitled "The Ideal Relation between Teacher and Pupil" by Miss Lottie Fitzgerald of Georgetown High School. Miss Fitzgerald spoke of the relation between teacher and pupil in the home, in the school and on the play ground and gave some practical advice to teachers. This excellent paper was discussed by Miss Nellie Hubley and Mr. Harold Clay.

Following this paper, a paper "Teachers Parents and Pupils" by Miss Alice Fennessy was read. This paper contained a number of splendid suggestions and well-founded criticisms and created much discussion in which Miss Dora Squarebriggs and Messrs Nelson McEwen, Norman Gillis and James Larkin and Prin. Johnson and Inspector Adams took part.

Supt. Shaw next addressed the meeting and announced that the next Convention for the Maritime Provinces will be held at Moncton on Aug. 27, 28 and 29, 1918. The Superintendent's address was discussed by Messrs C. B. Jelly and James Larkin and Prin. Seaman.

Meeting then adjourned to meet again at 8.00 p. m.

PUBLIC MEETING

A public meeting was held last night and notwithstanding that the public was not so largely represented as it should have been, proved the best and most successful meeting held under the auspices of the Association. Ex-Mayor Paton M. L. A. presided and briefly outlined the object of the meeting expressing the pleasure he felt in meeting and conferring with governments, provincial municipal and federal were not only willing but anxious to do everything possible for the men who had sacrificed so much on behalf of their country. The City Council, and he personally, were prepared to do all in their power for the returned soldiers and he felt sure that in this they would be backed by every citizen in Charlottetown.

Major (Rev. Dr.) Fullerton which re-echoing the sentiments of His Worship with reference to doing all possible for the soldiers expressed some doubt as to the wisdom of proceeding at present with the proposed organization. Some three thousand Island soldiers were now overseas, probably 1500 Prince Edward Islanders from Western Canada were also overseas, a total of about 4,500 who would eventually become members of the Association. For the 100 or at most 120 who had returned to adopt a definite course by which the Association must be guided in future would, he thought, be premature. The question of affiliation with one or another of the War Veterans' Associations now in existence would be a vital one and he suggested that all possible information with respect to these be ascertained before committing the Association to a definite course which, later might have to be reconsidered. He suggested that the better course would be to conduct the Association for the present in conjunction with the War Veterans Association of P. E. I., and when the membership had increased to such an extent as to be in a position to adopt a course approved of by a majority of the soldiers, to affiliate with one of the main organizations. The aim to be kept in view was to form a union of Canadian veterans who could exercise an influence for good on Canadian public life.

Mr. Roy Leitch followed. He endeavored to show the soldiers had done, the securing assistance to fit up a club the instructors of the rising generation, who wielded such a power, sometimes not fully realized, in the land. Rev. Dr. McLellan, Rector of St. Dunstan's, delivered an eloquent address in which he dwelt with the duties and privileges of the teaching profession. The teacher, he said, must fashion the soul of a child as a sculptor fashions a statue from a piece of marble. In this the teacher's work was akin to the divine work which fashioned man from a clod. Parents often stifle ambition and enthusiasm of a teacher by adverse criticism instead of giving sympathy and encouragement. He strongly urged teachers to always prepare themselves for the lessons they intend teaching as they must have clear ideas on the subject themselves that their words may have force. He urged the teachers to realize the dignity of their calling, and realizing it to live up to it.

Rev. Mr. McKenzie, Zion Church, said there was nothing too good for the teachers, and if they were to make sure that their work was efficient the parents would likely realize the necessity of paying them larger salaries, but he warned them against merely making the profession a stepping stone to something else.

Premier Arsenault in a thoughtful sympathetic address admitted that although 40 per cent. of the revenues of the Province was spent in education, the teachers were not adequately paid. But who was going to raise their salaries? A great deal depended upon the efforts of the teachers themselves. If they used a little tact and good judgment they could bring the parents to see the necessity of paying the teachers more. He advised the teachers to be thorough in their work, and to improve themselves educationally during their holidays, by studying good literature. He expressed his sympathy with the teachers in their responsible and invaluable work in the community and hoped that the day would not be far distant when more would be done for the profession in the way of recognition of their services.

Splendid and encouraging addresses were also given by Mayor Brown, Rev. Dr. Gauthier and Rev. Mr. Freeman. An excellent and enjoyable musical programme was gone through, contributed to by Professor Hinton, Miss Mamie Smith and Miss Edna Gordon and the proceedings concluded with the usual vote of thanks.

The aim of the proposed organization, he said, was, (1) to awaken the people to the necessity of greater sacrifice and helpfulness. The present prevalent ideal he said was to make the most possible out of the war, to carry on business as usual, (2) to help the returned soldiers to settle to a quiet respectable and useful life. He urged the desirability of proceeding at once with the organization and the appointment of officers.

A number of soldiers expressed their views on the matter or organization, but no definite course was suggested. Major Stanley concurred with the views expressed by Dr. Fullerton that more definite information should be obtained before proceeding with the organization. "Get in touch with the larger organizations," he said "their affiliate with the one decided upon and work together."

Judge Haszard expressed similar views. The step to be taken was an important one and should be carefully considered before committing the young organization to any particular course. Sergeant Hynes said the great need of the returned soldiers at present was a club room or home in which to meet and read and confer together. Killing time on the streets and in the parks was not conducive to good living or resisting temptation. Judge Fitzgerald heartily approved of the idea of a club room. He suggested appointing a committee to look after the securing of such a room and assured the soldiers that all citizens would give every possible assistance towards this end.

After some future discussion the following committee was appointed to wait on the Provincial Government and the City Council with a view to gized what the soldiers had done, the securing assistance to fit up a club

GLADYS KLARK CO. SCORED ANOTHER HIT

Common Clay was the Attraction Last Night and the Performance Measured Up to the Company's Excellent Reputation. A Full House and a Satisfied Audience.

Another large crowd last night greeted the Gladys Klark players in their mastery rendition of "Common Clay" the famous social drama.

The story of "Common Clay" is an interesting one—though not uncommon in the life of the larger cities. The heroine of Common Clay is Ellen Neill, a young girl born in the direst poverty. Her superior intelligence and taste for better things lead her to the pursuit of pleasures that result in her downfall. She comes as a servant into the home of a wealthy family the Fullertons, in whose home the young roue who betrayed her reveals her secret to Hugh Fullerton, the son of the house. Hugh falls in love with Ellen and becomes the father of her child.

In seeking to obtain for her child the rights which are due him as the son of young Fullerton, she again encounters her first betrayer allied with Fullerton, Sr., in his fight against the young girl.

An unexpected turn of events enables her to retaliate by bringing the young roue to the examining court as the author of her ruin. The counsel for the Fullertons is Judge Filson, one of the most noted lawyers in the state. Under his searching cross examination the woman, who is apparently Ellen's mother, admits that the girl is not her daughter, but the child of a notorious woman of the town of a previous generation. When Judge Filson learns the name of Ellen's mother, he collapses, Ellen is his own daughter, and he feels himself to be indirectly responsible for all her misfortunes.

He takes her under his care and educates her, and she becomes a famous actress, under another name. Ten years later the new Ellen comes as a guest to the Fullertons, where the happy ending is effected. Gladys Klark as Ellen Neill made another conquest, while Chas. Newhart as Richard Fullerton, Lillian Hall as Mrs. Fullerton, Chas. Hammond as the butler and Chas. Newson as the Judge very fully developed these characters.

Tonight the Company presents the great war drama, "Inside the Lines" and for a matinee this afternoon, repeat Tuesday's success, "Peggy O'Moore."
