Canadian Teachers Chat With Queen

By James McCook LONDON, July 27 (CP)—Fifty Canadian teachers about to return home after a year as exchange teachers in the United Kingdom chatted today with the Queen at a reception and declared themselves "thrilled."

At a joint Royal Empire Society-League of Empire Reception, Her Majesty mingled with the teachers from many parts of the Commonwealth, chatting about their experiences here.

Frances Wallace of Montreal said she asked the Queen when she will make another visit to Canada. Her Majesty replied that she hopes to pay another visit soon but it is impossible to set a date. She looks forward to seeing Canada again.

The Queen told Hope Johnston of Halifax, who has been teaching household science in Glasgow, that she remembered the beauty of Halifax harbor from the royal visit in 1939.

Slight Miss Mary Selch from Saskatoon, who taught the Eskimos at a mission school at Akivik, N.W.T., and came to London last year said:

Children are all the same, whether they are a Canadian city, Eskimos or English. Here they liked my Canadian accent. After a few months they said: "Why don't you speak Canadian like you did before?" They had just got used to me.

She will teach in her home town of Victoria when she returns.

Barbara Griffin of Victoria agreed that she might have picked up a trace of a Scottish accent from her students in Stirling. She also said she knows an eight-some reel.

Rescue Squads Work In Wrecked Plant

LUDWIGSHAFEN, Germany, July 29 (CP)—Rescue squads were still digging out battered bodies from the smouldering ruins of the explosion-torn I.G. Farben chemical plant.

A German policeman said scores of bodies could be seen floating in several feet of water and ammonia in the basement of one building. He expressed the belief it might take two weeks to recover all the bodies from the plant's wreckage.

The list of the known dead grew. German police said 36 bodies had been brought out and another 20 persons had died in hospitals. Two hundred persons are missing and believed dead and about 2,000 are injured, they said.

Communist newspapers in Berlin claimed the huge factory in the French occupation zone was making war materials illegally.

Germans investigating Europe's greatest disaster since the war brushed aside the charges. They said preliminary findings indicated the blast was touched off by enemy shelling, an industrial chemical. A chemist who worked at the plant said only industrial products were turned out there.

Decide Body Is That Of Missing D. W. Matheson

A coroner's jury last night expressed themselves as "satisfied" that the remains found at Holland Cove on July 20, last, were those of D.W. Matheson, 224 Euston Street, City, who disappeared on the night of Nov. 14, last. The jury also expressed the belief that Mr. Matheson had met his death by drowning.

Coroner Dr. J.Y. Presided at the inquest. G.R. Holmes, K.C., appeared for the Crown. The jury comprised Byron Brown (foreman), George Ryan, George Berigan, W.M. Hughes, W.M. Forsythe, G.W. McLeod, and Aben McLeod.

Est. A.W. Green said he was called to Holland Cove on the evening of July 20, last, where a corpse had been found. Decomposition had progressed to such an extent as to make identification impossible. The corpse was brought to Charlottetown on the following day and the remains of clothing, still on the body, were removed for identification.

Mrs. D.W. Matheson, 224 Euston Street, identified the coat, shoes, tie, and the one sock as those of her husband.

Mr. Lawrence Clinton of Ed's Taxi, told of asking Mr. Matheson to Southport on the evening of Nov. 14 last and Mr. Ray, manager of the same taxi firm, told of bringing him back to the City about 11:30 p.m.

Miss Veronica McCarthy said she was standing at the door of her residence, 112 Prince Street, about 11:40 on the night of Nov. 14, and saw Mr. Matheson passing. He was going south, toward the wharves.

A statement from Dr. Harold Shaw, Provincial pathologist, was read by Est. Green. In the statement, Dr. Shaw said he had, at the request of the Attorney General, examined a human remains on July 20, last. The bones were those of a male. Cause of death could not be determined.

Canada's Shipping Position Improved

OTTAWA, July 27 (CP)—In the event of war Canada now could be in a much better position so far as shipping is concerned than she was in 1939. J.V. Cline, chairman of the Canadian Maritime Commission, said here in an interview.

"The whole difference is that we have a cargo fleet in being," he said. "We didn't in 1939."

The country's long-term replacement program, under which buyers of the war-built 10,000-ton Park vessels can alter their financial arrangements with the Government to replace them with more modern vessels, is progressing satisfactorily, he added. The program provides a building reserve which would provide employment in hard times.

Under original contracts, buyers of the Government-owned Park vessels were not allowed to sell them if it involved transfer of the ships to another registry. Under the commission's replacement program they can be sold to foreign buyers if the proceeds of the sale are used to build new tonnage.

Mr. Cline said he was not unduly worried by reports of Canadian ships being laid up temporarily. He understood that of two ships recently laid up at Halifax because of foreign competition, one was already back in service.

"It is not entirely uncommon for owners to lay up their ships for lack of cargoes," Mr. Cline said.

Syria Would Put Berlin Dispute Before The U. N.

SYRIA WOULD... LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., July 29 (CP)—Syria today challenged the big powers to bring the Berlin blockade dispute before the United Nations Security Council.

Faris El Khoury of Syria interrupted a long debate on Indonesia to tell the council the world is "frightened" and war may result from friction between Russia and the three Western Powers in the German Capital.

His surprise move, El Khoury described the Berlin situation as a threat to international peace, the strongest Council language, in cases of threats to the peace the Council can take strong measures against countries found guilty of causing the threat.

The Syrian delegate said the big powers should not leave it up to the little ones to bring the question up.

"We would be more favorable if they (Britain, the United States, France and Russia) bring it up," he added.

Presbyterian Young Peoples Rally

The Presbyterian Young People's Rally of the Central District, comprising Zion, Galvin, and Clyde River, was held in the St. Columba Presbyterian Church at Marshfield on July 1, 1948, with an attendance of thirty-two members and two visitors.

The meeting opened with the worship service conducted by Calvin Alvin Munn. Prayers were offered by the leader and Miss Margaret MacEachern. The scripture lesson, taken from John 13:1-17 was read by Miss Ruth MacEachern. The hymns sung were "O Master let me walk with Thee" and "I've Wandered far away from God."

Miss Marion Hardy, President of Central District Y. P. S. had charge of the afternoon session and owing to the absence of Miss Caroline MacKenzie, Canoe Cove, Constance Cook, City, was appointed Secretary Pro-Tem.

The Rev. F. N. Young, Convener S. S. and Y.P.S., cordially welcomed the visiting Societies to Marshfield and Mr. Robert Watson, President of Zion Y.P.S.C.E., graciously thanked him on behalf of all members present. The president then called on Miss Christine King, President of the Provincial Rally, who expressed the pleasure of being present at one of the local Rallies.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. The secretaries of the societies present gave interesting reports. The following committees were appointed: Nominating—Miss Joan Large, Mrs. John Beer and Mr. Alvin Munn; Resolutions—Miss Roma Rodd, Miss Christine King and Miss Mabel Auld.

Subject for Mr. Young explained the subject for discussion—"Christ Lord of the Sabbath"—and divided those present into three groups. The leaders were Rev. Mr. Young, Miss Marion Hardy and Miss Christine King. Each group appointed a secretary who reported the findings of her group. Rev. Mr. Young brought the afternoon session to a close by pronouncing the Benediction.

A picnic supper was then enjoyed by the Young People on the Manse grounds. The members of Central District were invited to Clyde River for their next Rally.

It was moved by Robert Watson and seconded by Joan Large that a vote of thanks be tendered to Rev. F. N. and Mrs. Young for their hospitality. Rev. Mr. Young very fittingly replied.

Members of Zion Y. P. S. C. E. under the leadership of their president had charge of the evening worship. Mr. Lemnis MacFadyen led in Prayer and Miss Roma Rodd read the Scripture Lesson taken from Philippians 2:1-11. The hymns sung were, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" and "At the Name of Jesus Every Knee Shall Bow."

Mr. Alvin Munn brought in the report of the nominating committee; President, Miss Doris Ferguson, City; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Hilda MacNevin, Clyde River. This report was unanimously adopted. The following resolutions were then brought in by Miss Roma Rodd and likewise adopted.

1. Resolved that the thanks of this Rally be extended to the minister and session of this Church for the use of this building.

2. Resolved that greetings and best wishes be sent to the Rev. G. C. Webster by our secretary pro-tem.

3. Resolved that as a result of our Rally our Young People strive more diligently to apply Christian principles for everyday life.

4. Resolved that we congratulate Clyde River Society on their re-organization and they be heartily welcomed into the Central District.

5. Resolved that the thanks of the Rally be extended to Rev. F. N. Young, Convener of S.S. and Y.P.S. work and to the president Miss Marion Hardy and to the organist, Miss Joan Large for the work they have done to make this Rally a success.

cause a bomb-like explosion in the thread-shaped bodies, called chromosomes, which govern heredity. The fragments of this short period were 50 to 100 more numerous than at any other time.

This discovery may aid radiologists to look for the Achilles heel in cancer cells. It may enable them to understand why the heel seems to be missing in so many cancers.

It may be possible also to find a chemical compound that will produce this vulnerable heel in more cancers, because the sensitivity appears due to a chemical difference.

If such chemicals can be found, they also provide new controls for making hereditary changes to improve food crops and food animals.

STRONG OPPOSITION

21-per-cent increase granted was unwarranted and unjustifiable. Saskatchewan would oppose the second request "not only because the financial position of the railways doesn't warrant it but because the Federal Government continues to refuse to appoint a Royal Commission for investigation into inequalities inherent in the present freight rate structure."

Premier Macdonald of Nova Scotia said the request would be "rigidly opposed" by his Province. He said he had opposed the formula used by the Board of Transport Commissioners in deciding to grant the 21-per-cent increase last spring. He added that the Board considered the earnings of the railways on the basis of such factors as hotels and steamship lines.

"If that formula is continued, I feel there will be an increase every time anything turns up to add to the cost of railway operations. The formula is entirely wrong. The last judgment was badly grounded."

made to settle the case out of court. The request was refused. On the reopening of the hearing yesterday afternoon, Mr. J.O.C. Campbell, on behalf of the plaintiff stated that legal counsel on both sides had agreed to request an adjournment till Tuesday, Aug. 17, by which time they hoped that a satisfactory private agreement would be reached. The adjournment was granted on the understanding that a board of directors meeting would be called by the plaintiffs and that a complete audit of the Board's finances would be made before that date.

In an affidavit filed with the court, the plaintiffs claimed that two infrequent meetings of the Board were called from 1942 till the 14th of July, 1945 when Mr. Howatt called the last meeting of the directors. Several times since then, it was claimed, the Board had asked Mr. Howatt to call meetings but he had not done so; also that in the summer of 1947 a written request for a meeting was sent to Mr. Howatt and in his reply he stated that he refused to comply with the request.

In May, 1948, the affidavit continues, an informal meeting of the plaintiffs was held in conjunction with a committee representing the P.E.I. Federation of Agriculture which again requested President Howatt to call a meeting. The plaintiffs, the called directors' meeting for June 14, 1948 with notice being sent to all parties. Mr. Howatt did not attend the meeting. Because of the lack of meetings and alleged neglect on the part of President Howatt and Secretary-Treasurer Gillies, new officers were appointed as follows: Murdoch MacLeod, President, and Vernon Craig, Secretary-Treasurer.

At a subsequent directors' meeting a firm of chartered accountants was engaged to make a complete audit of the Board's books. The affidavit then claims that the directors saw Mr. Gillies and temporarily suspended him so as to permit an independent audit of the books. On that occasion Mr. Gillies refused to leave the office. According to the affidavit, the defendants claim that the fee agreement, which is one branch of the corporation's business, is now owned by Mr. Gillies. This claim is denied by the plaintiffs.

The plaintiffs who filed the affidavit are Messrs Alexander Hamilton, Joseph Walsh, Milton Furness, Murdoch MacLeod and Vernon Craig.

Legal counsel for the plaintiffs are Messrs H.F. McPhee K.C. and J.O.C. Campbell K.C. The defendants are represented by Messrs. W.E. Bentley K.C. and D.L. Mathleson K.C.

portation, manufacture or sale. In the Commons, James Sinclair (L—Vancouver North) paralleled his campaign last session.

Finally, Senator Euler swung over to the request for a court test and won Senate approval in two days.

His big point, legally, is that the 1886 ban was within Federal powers only because it was founded on the fact that margarine was then injurious to health. Since it no longer is, he says, such a prohibition transgresses on provincial powers.

The court is asked to rule whether section 5 (a) of the Dairy Industry Act is the core of the ban; is ultra vires of Parliament in whole or in part.

If the court finds it is, Ottawa will be rid of it and the outcry

As the result of diminishing supplies and increased demand for the product, eggs have advanced an additional eleven cents per dozen on the higher grades reports Maj. F.M. Nash, senior poultry products inspector.

Pleads Guilty To Assaulting Clergyman

SPRINGHILL, N. S. July 27 (CP)—Robert R. Ferguson of nearby Westville pleaded guilty in Magistrate's Court here today on a charge of assault and causing bodily harm to Rev. Anson Moorehouse of Toronto last night.

The incident followed a traffic accident in which cars driven by Mr. Moorehouse and the accused were damaged to extent of $550.

Mr. Moorehouse testified that after the crash, Ferguson and three companions took two cases of beer from the car and carried them into the woods. As they were doing so, Mr. Moorehouse took their pictures with his camera and another one of the car he said.

Ferguson then attacked him, breaking his glasses and several teeth, he said. He then notified the R.C.M.P. and the four men were later arrested at a baseball game here.

The Magistrate ordered Ferguson to appear in two weeks for sentence. Two of his companions, David McLeod and David White, were charged with drunkenness and with being in illegal possession of liquor. The fourth man, Gordon Canning, was charged with drunkenness. All four were fined $10 and costs.

for margarine can concentrate on the Provincial Governments. It is possible that some of them may continue the prohibition themselves. The Federal Government would probably content itself with laying down certain minimum requirements under the Food and Drugs Act.

The whole issue has been complicated in recent months by two extraneous developments. The Geneva trade pact prohibits a ban against any commodity—but government sources have said there is nothing to prevent prohibitive tariffs. Again, the proposed confederation agreement with Newfoundland would allow a continuation of the manufacture of margarine there if it became a 10th province, but it could not export to any other province.

First step in the judicial struggle will be a Justice Department application to the court, probably within the next two weeks, for directions as to what parties should be officially notified.

It was expected that the court would direct that notice of the test be sent to all the provinces, a number of agriculture, associations, the Canadian Manufacturers Association and possibly others. If Senator Euler wishes to send counsel, he or other interested parties, such as the National Dairy Council, may make application to the court.

The order-in-council pointed out that the ban has been in effect since since 1886, between 1917 and 1923 because of a war and post-war butter shortage. It gave a number of background quotations and statistical totals to help the court make up its mind.

REACTION TO MOVE

VANCOUVER, July 29 (CP)—Decision to refer the margarine ban to Canada's Supreme Court is a result of the Newfoundland referendum, James Sinclair, Liberal member of Parliament for North Vancouver, said today.

"Newfoundland manufactures and uses margarine," he said "and she insisted on retaining the right to manufacture it if she joined the Dominion."

"The Government couldn't very well observe one rule for Newfoundland, and another for the rest of Canada."

Senator Euler

KITCHENER, Ont. July 29 (CP)—Senator W. D. Euler (L—Ontario) said today he was delighted to hear that the Cabinet in Ottawa had referred the question of the ban against oleomargarine to the Supreme Court for a test of its validity.

A long-standing critic of the ban against the butter substitute he moved the resolution in the Senate which prompted the Cabinet action.

Dairy Council View

TORONTO, July 29 (CP)—W. K. John, secretary-treasurer of the National Dairy Council of Canada, said here today that the Council executive hoped to meet with the Cabinet in August to discuss, among other things, the oleomargarine question.

He said he was "surprised" to hear that the Government had referred the ban against oleomargarine to the Supreme Court for a test of its validity.

3,500 Attend Gaelic Mod

ST. ANN'S, N.S. July 29 (CP)—The MacDonalds, oldest and one of the most famous Scottish clans, gathered in this highland community today to honor their chieftain, Lord Macdonald of Macdonald.

It was the second day of the 10th annual Gaelic Mod and upwards of 3,500 persons sat in a blazing sun to hear clan dignitaries call for preservation of Scottish customs in Canada.

Feature event of the day was an address to his clansmen by Lord Macdonald. He was introduced by Premier Angus L. Macdonald who said he hoped the custody of inviting a clan chieftain to Cape Breton each year would become perpetual.

"There has been no event of importance in Scottish history at which the MacDonalds have not been represented," Premier Macdonald said. "We always have been on the right side although not always on the winning side."

The Premier was introduced by Valhousie Macdonald, dean of the Dalhousie University Law School, chairman for the day.

Expressions of greetings to Chief Macdonald were received from the following: J. M. MacDonnell, M.P. representing the Ontario MacDonalds; Senator L. M. Gouin Quebec; MacDonalds; Senator J. Anthony Macdonald, New Brunswick; MacDonalds; Senator J. Alexander Macdonald, P.E.I. MacDonalds; Senator John Alex Macdonald, Nova Scotia; MacDonalds, and Col. John Angus Macdonald, representing the Sydney MacDonalds.

Hay making is now the order of the day in this and other surrounding communities and a bumper crop is reported. Given the proper weather a heavy crop can now be cut and stored in short order for progressive farmers here as elsewhere are well equipped with modern machinery to lighten the labours of man and beast, and make this one time most labourous of farm work seem much less tedious, than in the days when old Dobbin held sway and fine farm horses were the glory of that day.—V.

Deepest sympathy is extended by the people of Victoria to Mrs. Edgar Farrar and family, Appin Road, in the loss they have sustained by the death of a beloved husband and father, called away at the comparatively early age of fifty-nine years. The late Mr. Farrar was stricken some few months ago with an incurable form of disease, and despite the best medical skill and attention at home, and in the United States it proved of no avail, God having willed otherwise, so on Sunday, July 18th, his spirit returned to its Maker. He leaves to mourn a sorrowing widow and a large family of sons and daughters, who will ever cherish the memory of one who was a kind husband and devoted father. He will be missed in the community where he was a progressive farmer and obliging neighbour and friend. His funeral was held on Wednesday, July 21st, when his remains were tenderly laid to rest in the lovely cemetery at Appin Road, there to await that glorious day when the trumpet shall sound and the dead in Christ shall rise first.
