End Of Bombing Throws Thousands Out Of Activity

By FRED BACKHOUSE

(Canadian Press Staff Writer) LONDON, May 3.—(CP Cable)—End of the bombing offensive in Europe has thrown thousands of veteran Canadian airmen out of work and put one of the crack heavy-bomber groups of this theatre in line for a new task—possible dissolution.

For the first time since the R.C.A.F. group went into operation here more than two years ago, its giant Halifaxes and Lancasters were grounded not on account of bad weather but because of a lack of targets worthy of their punch.

The future of the group's fliers and ground crews, plus that of tens of thousands of Canadians in the R.C.A.F., thus shortly is expected to become an immediate question for the Allied air command to answer.

A scheme for the repatriation of these Canadians is already on paper. Its announcement, however, must depend on when V.E. Day comes and is also doubtless integrated with the whole problem of repatriation, reorganization and reassignment for all British and United States forces.

It has been reported that the air police force in Europe after the cessation of hostilities will be an international body, but the role to be played by Canadians is not likely to be a large one, and a major part of the force is expected to be made up of the lighter type of aircraft-fighters and fighter-bombers.

For security reasons it is not permitted to give the number of Canadian squadrons released by the present stand-down.

Whatever happens to these famous outfits—the Alouette, Moose, Goose, Blon, Lion are a few of their names—it is a matter of record that they've put up a terrific performance and will be talked of whenever strategists discuss the way in which air power helped win the Second Great War.

An indication of Canada's outstanding contribution to the European air war was the fact that in August, 1944, the Canadian group bombed all other groups in the R.C.A.F. command with 3,700 sorties, and dropped 14,000 tons of bombs.

Fourteen thousand tons of bombs is more than the Germans dropped on London during the whole war.

foundland, and Edward serving in the Canadian Army overseas. Another daughter (Nellie) Mrs. Bedford Spence predeceased her father twenty-one years ago.

Two sisters, Mrs. Charles Doull, Carleton Place, P.E.I., and Mrs. Edith Pickering, Chelton, P.E.I., another sister, Mrs. Gertrude Murray, passed away at P.E.I. ten weeks ago.

Deceased is also survived by eighteen grandchildren. The late Mrs. Straight was a member of the Oddfellows Lodge at Port Elgin and was also a member of the I. O. O. F. No. 132, and Fitzgerald L.T. B. A. No. 439 of Murray Corner. His passing will be widely mourned by a large circle of friends and relatives. The funeral was held on Friday at 2 p.m. from the United Church at Murray Corner. The floral tributes were many and beautiful.

Denounces Action of De Valera

By FRED BACKHOUSE

(Canadian Press Staff Writer) LONDON, May 3.—(CP Cable)—The Daily Mirror said today Prime Minister De Valera's action in expressing condolence to the German minister to Eire on Hitler's death "is an insult not only to everyone of the United Nations but also to those thousands of gallant Irishmen who went forth to fight tyranny and have perished for their faith."

"But perhaps the Irish leader admits the Nazi way of life and regards as a misfortune the fact it has not been allowed to prevail," the newspaper added in commenting on Wednesday's action of the prime minister of neutral Eire.

The editorial appeared under the heading "De Valera Condemns." The following is the report for April.

SAVE THE YOUNG PIGS (Experimental Farm News) Losses of young pigs at the farrowing, nursing and weaning stages can be greatly reduced if some of the following points are given to the small farmer. These when observed frequently mean the difference between life and death to the piglets.

Regular daily exercise and a healthy bowel condition of the pregnant sows are essential. Litter is important. Supplementary feeds of a laxative, cooling nature, such as green pasture, alfalfa hay or alfalfa meal, bran and roots, are valuable aids to health and thrift.

Being on the job at farrowing time will generally repay the owner many times over for time so spent. If the farrowing pen is equipped with heating facilities, guard rails and a crucian, many deaths from chilling, crushing and under nourishment may be avoided.

Removal of the needle teeth from the piglets at birth by the use of small side-cutting pliers will prevent injury to the sow's udder as well as to littermates, resulting in fewer losses and greater thrift in young pigs.

Anaemia in young pigs and resultant losses can be avoided by providing fresh sods and extra iron to litters. As soon as litters are 4 or 5 days old each pig should receive on the tongue, as much iron sulphate as can be held on a 10 cent piece.

In England

News has been received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newport, Brookfield, and also by his wife Mrs. Anthony Newport, Hunter River, that I. C. F. Anthony, Newport, R.C.A.F. has arrived safely in England.

Appeal Allowed In Halifax Damages Case

(By The Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, May 3.—The Supreme Court of Canada today allowed appeals by the Canadian Pacific Express Co. and the Nova Scotia Light, Heat and Power Co. against a lower court decision awarding damages of $42,770 to Mr. and Mrs. James Levy of Halifax for injuries Mrs. Levy suffered in an accident.

Mrs. Levy suffered the loss of a leg when a C.P. express truck hit a street car, owned by the power company, in which she was travelling. Nova Scotia courts awarded $29,200 to Mr. Levy for special damages, $2,500 to him for general damages and $7,070 to Mrs. Levy for general damages.

Allowing the appeals, the Supreme Court ruled that a new assessment would be made for damages to Mrs. Levy only.

R. C. A. F. VETERANS RECRUITED BY T.C.A. WINNIPEG, Man., May 3.—To cope with the expansion of post-war training nearly 200 retrained R.C.A.F. veterans have been recruited by Trans-Canada Air Lines, and several schools for their training have been opened at the company's operational headquarters in Winnipeg. W. F. English, vice president of the air line announced here. The figures do not include employees who left T.C.A.

In line with T.C.A.'s policy of giving jobs to returned men whenever possible, Mr. English said that 18 R.C.A.F. veterans have completed training in T.C.A.'s traffic department, 70 traffic agents in passenger service are veterans, as well as 15 in-charge, three passenger agent supervisors and 11 now operating the air line's planes and six more are in training.

Before the end of the year it is expected that many more veterans will be trained and passed on to traffic, passenger services, communications and flight duties.

Three members then conducted a wartime Easter programme. These three women in conversational style carried the thoughts to the consideration of racial brotherhood. As they talked they told about Victoria Cheung, born in B. C. and who later under the W.M.S. went to South China as a medical missionary. Then about Miss Beale Carson present. Meeting closed by singing "Oh, Master of the working world" and prayer by members in union. Lunch was served by hostesses assisted by Mrs. Hector MacNevin and Mrs. Stephen the young people in the different church organizations. Later she held at home of Mrs. Neil Salmon.
