THE EASTERN GUARDIAN

..*IT PAYS to buy in this province

..*UP-TO-DATE FARMER.—A correspondent writes:—When travelling through Souris River Road I had the pleasure of calling on Mr. Mullally one of the noted farmers of this section and was surprised to see 20 pigs in his yard, 17 of which were ready for market and would weigh from 150 to 200 lbs each. The other three were brood sows weighing about three hundred pounds. It just happened that these pigs were at large for exercise as some farmers believe in letting hogs have some exercise for a disease called cholera. In this man's stable were also twelve young pigs which he intends having ready for July market and other stock in accordance. Mr. Mullally doesn't mind taking a few hours off and can tell many interesting stories of the good old-by-gone days about Souris and surrounding districts. As an up to date farmer he is well worthy of note.

THE OLD MOTTO.

We found it in the attic where it long had lain away. The dust had veiled the letters in a shroud of misty gray. A spider's web was tangled in its old fantastic weaves. Across the frame whose corners were hand-carved in oaken leaves. The old discarded motto—it was worked in green and red, On perforated, cardboard, and "God

..*Mr. Frank Sullivan, Cardigan, recently left for Montreal where he will probably undergo an operation.

Bless our Home" it said. Crude, homely and old-fashioned is this relic of the past. Once thought a thing of beauty but flung aside at last— Yet now the faded colors that the quaint old letters bear. Seems as the after-glowing of the quiet days that were— The days whose every twilight from fretting brought release And stars swept through the silence that held a Sabbath peace.

"God Bless our Home"—and loving hands reached out from by-gone years.

The hands that always reached the help, that wiped away our tears. And now we know full well that when this motto held its place. They meant the faded prayer that today we slowly trace. That every morn of work to do, that every night of rest, The good old home was by some mystic benediction blessed.

Splendid Banquet At the Y.M.C.A.

great work which still lies before us. The boys back from the front have been living at the top of their nerves, and now that the tension is over they are in many cases all adrift many have weakened hearts and injured health though few would know it to look at them. They must be given every assistance, and the greatest patience must be shown to them. In many cases it isn't well to stick a man back at his former job and expect him to work as well at it as he did before. He has been engaged at an occupation so entirely different that it will take him some time to get into regular form again.

The speaker after dwelling upon the subject of a reconstruction programme and the Y. M. C. A. work in its many-sided aspects said it was the intention of the "Y" to keep in touch with the boys, not only until the last one had returned to Canada but for years to come and one phase of this would be in the industrial camps where community centres would be established. He referred to the chaplain quarters in London where, by a great united effort, a wonderful work is accomplished, by all denominations, under one executive head. It was essential in these after-war days to forget the things which in creed all might not agree on, and work together with one set purpose to enlist men under the banner of Jesus Christ.

Mr. Lou. Buckley, followed with an excellent address on Boys Work, describing what had been done by the "teen age boys of Canada during the war as "Soldiers of the soil," etc., The need of training these boys properly for the future was a problem to be dealt with and time money and prayer are required. The Canada of tomorrow will be what the boys of today make it.

Mr. A. S. McAllister, in a brief address, said he believed the people of Canada would, as in the past do their part in helping to carry out the plans laid down to assist the boys in every way. They have done their bit for us even unto death and it is for the people now to do all in their power to help those men.

Rev. Dr. Fallertop in a neat speech moved a vote of thanks to the ladies who had prepared the banquet, which was seconded by Mr. J. O. Hyndman, and carried unanimously.

The programme of the afternoon's work was as follow:—

2.30—Town & Country work. E. J. Arnot. 3.30 — Group meeting on the Association Program. Educational work, Dr. J. H. Ayers, Presiding. Physical Work, J. A. McMillan. Presiding. Religious Work, J. T. McKenzie. Boys Work, A. A. Pomeroy, Presiding.

4.15—Student Work, F. Nicholson, Presiding. (Recruiting & Training for Leadership). Finances, C. H. B. Longworth, Presiding. Social Work, Dr. Yeo, Presiding. Military Work, E. D. Sterns, Presiding.

An Old Recipe To Darken Hair

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.
