FORBIDDEN HOURS

Annual Meeting Of Baptist Assn. At East Point

The sixty-second annual meeting of the Prince Edward Island Baptist Association convened with the East Point Church on Thursday evening, July 11, 1929.

The Moderator, Rev. M. O. Brinton presided. Student-Pastor J. E. Chisholm read the Scripture lesson. Matt. Rev. R. W. Lindsay offered prayer, 7th, Chapter 13th, verse to the end.

The Moderator introduced Rev. H. T. DeWolfe, D.D. of Acadia University. Dr. DeWolfe spoke on "Acadia." There were eight hundred students studying at Acadia last year. The new appointments to the staff are Dr. T. C. Cook, professor of psychology and Rev. L.H. Crandall, House master of Horton Academy.

The new radio of Acadia is to be used for educational purposes. The speaker said that the Theological students are a splendid type of men and their calibre is a splendid promise for the future welfare of our Churches.

From the monetary standpoint the outlook is good about $1,500,000 of the forward movement has been reached and Dr. Cyrus Eaton will give $200,000 towards a new million dollar movement.

Acadia has inaugurated an adult educational program, placing education largely within reach of people who cannot attend institutions.

The doctor then spoke of the marks of an educated man. Nature has a thousand forces to combat us and forces us to educate ourselves to maintain our mastery. An educated man is one who has

(1) The ability to see things. "To me the meaneast flower that grows" and "A primrose by the river's brim" were cited to illustrate the difference between seeing and unseeing.

Earth's crammed with Heaven and every bush is aflame with God. An educated man sees things in all their relations.

"Flower in the crannied wall If I could understand you and all I'd know what God and man are." (2) The educated man thinks.

Let the world beware when God lets a thinker loose. He's an enemy to conservatism, prejudice and other evils. To think is to affirm judgment. God put a great many things into the world to provoke thinking.

(3) An educated man appreciates real values.

Jazz, for instance, has no real value although we are living in a jazz age. Appreciation of value in music and literature is an evidence of education.

(4) An educated man is able to imagine. There is a difference between fancy and imagination. An imagination brings different images into relation with one another so as to suggest something different.

"Twilight and evening bell, And after that the dark." This the speaker used in illustration.

Imagination, as in music, art, poetry, etc., takes a man away from evil thoughts into contact with the highest.

(5) An educated man will nobly and feels strongly. Introduces control into experience and co-operates efforts to accomplish a great purpose.

(6) A man to be fully educated must be controlled by a desire to become like Jesus Christ. Under the control of Christ man continues to grow, even throughout eternity. To be fully educated a man must be, body, soul and spirit, surrendered to Jesus.

This message was illuminating to the mind, rich in suggestion and spiritually helpful.

Rev. M. O. Brinton closed session.

with prayer. Friday Morning

The Moderator conducted devotional service. A welcome was extended to the new ministers and their wives addressing them individually.

Rev. A.A. and Mrs. Adams, Summerside. Mrs. (Rev.) R.W. Lindsay, Hazelbrook. Dr. A.C. Vincent, Charlottetown. Student-pastor J.E. Chisholm, Dunlop.

Student-pastor Roosevelt Winchester, Alberton. The nominating committee was appointed as follows: Dr. J. J. Sidey, Deacon; George Wood, Dr. A. C. Vincent, Mrs. McNeill and Mrs. Rev. J.W. Williams.

This committee reported as follows: Moderator—Rev. A. A. Adams. Vice Moderator—Deacon Wood. Clerk—Rev. R.W. MacWalker. Executive—The Island pastors. Messrs. John Smallman, Layton McCage, John Dawson, Bowry Leard and Alexander Scott.

Friday Afternoon

Devotional led by Student Pastor J. E. Chisholm. This was followed by the discussion of our Island problems led by Dr. J.J. Sidey.

Rev. A.C. Vincent speaking on Educating Baptists to support Baptist principles claimed that many are not investing in Baptist enterprises because they are ignorant of Baptist principles. He emphasized the importance of using Baptist literature to inform ourselves about Baptist endeavors.

Rev. R.W. Lindsay advocated the development of the spiritual life as a means of meeting our financial obligations, not so much putting finances and soul and spirit into our enterprise thus greater interest is created and there is a glad response with the substance.

Rev. Dr. Mason being called upon reminded us that our pulpits have always stressed the spiritual as the first essential of our life. Yet it is well to present special phases of our work.

On motion a committee was appointed to formulate a plan for a better prosecution of our financial and spiritual problem.

The Rev. W. R. MacWalker led a discussion on "How Difficulties in the Church Hindered the Work of The Kingdom." This matter was well presented and revealed some of the real hindrances which if removed would make for richer fellowship and greater power in the Church.

The question of amusement and our attitude towards such things as dancing and card play and the great question of prohibition was introduced. Considerable discussion followed in which many took part. It was moved that we reaffirm our position as an association as being opposed to dancing and card playing because of their influence on the spiritual life of the Christian.

Rev. A. D. Matheson of Bobbitt, India, represented the "Maritime Baptist." Mr. Matheson told of the influence of the denominational paper "The Maritime Baptist" in moulding his life and helping him in decisions to enter the ministry and later to become a missionary to India. If there is more feeding on the right type of literature there is a more intelligent attitude towards such moral issues as prohibition and other important matters.

Friday Evening

After the usual devotional service Dr. Zella Clark spoke on "The Political Situation in India." The first British people to have dealings in India were the East Indian Company. They brought about some important changes in regards to burning widows and destroying children by drowning. British rule in India has been great blessing to country and people. The speaker said that India was not ready for self-government because of illiterary and lack of unity. The many religions of India are a great barrier

Church Army Crusaders In Summerside

The Church Army Crusaders (from England), who are on the Island in connection with the work of the Anglican Church, arrived in Summerside on Thursday evening. The party consisted of Capt. Marshall, the leader, Capt. Gibson, Capt. Humphreys and Sister Baker. Services were held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday in St. Mary's Church. The services opened on Friday morning with a celebration of the Holy Communion by Ven. Archdeacon White. At the afternoon service an address of welcome was given to the visitors by Ven. Archdeacon White, after which Sister Baker spoke to the women on the work of the Church Army in the different centres and cities in England. Miss Baker is a very fluent speaker and her address impressed the large gathering who were present to hear her. Before the evening service the crusaders walked round the town extending invitations to people of all denominations. At the evening service Capt. Gibson delivered a powerful sermon from the text "Go ye out in the bye-ways and hedges that My house may be filled." He stressed the point that the Church was responsible for bringing in the people from outside. A social evening was held in the parish hall after the service. An open air meeting was held on the Armoury Square. Singing was a special feature of this service. On Sunday, the services at St. Mary's and St. John's, St. Eleanor's, were conducted by the Crusaders. At St. Eleanor's the afternoon preacher was Capt. Humphreys and the evening speaker was Capt. Gibson. Capt. Marshall took the services at Summerside, which were well attended. His discourse in the morning was on the aims and objects of the Church Army in England. At the evening service his topic was "Follow Me." Capt. Humphreys is a very ardent worker for the Anglican Church and his address was both inspiring and helpful. The party are all excellent singers and they make a special feature of that part of their programme. The Church Army is the largest branch of the Church of England and has 64 different branches and it is stated that no social work is left untouched by them, regardless of creed and race. They leave today for Kensington to continue their work and will be there for a period of three days. S.

CANADIAN BOY SCOUTS IN ENGLAND WILL DISTRIBUTE DOMINION LITERATURE

MONTREAL, July 15.—Officials in charge of arrangements for Canada's contingent of nearly 300 boy scouts who will attend the international jamboree of 1,500 delegates to be held in Birkenhead in the north midlands of England early in August, have completed plans whereby the visit will cause young Britons to be much more familiar with Canada.

One of the first things the boys will do when they arrive in England aboard the Cunard liner Antonia, which sails with the delegation July 19 from Montreal, will be to distribute "quietly and without ostentation," booklets describing the attractions of the dominion. They will hand the literature to those likely to be interested in reading it and will, in every way, conduct themselves as young ambassadors of the dominion.

They will in a sense be repaying, in this way, the call which the original young "ambassadors of empire" paid Canada a year ago when they toured the dominion as guests of the Cunard line and the C. N. R. The scouts will also be responsible for the showing of a motion picture film in Great Britain depicting Canadian life in the open.

SERIOUS SHORTAGE OF FARM LABORERS

MONTREAL, Que., July 15.—A serious shortage of farm labor has existed in some districts of the Eastern Provinces of Canada, during the past few weeks, according to information from various sources in the hands of Dr. W. J. Black, Director of Colonization and Agriculture for the Canadian National Railway, and many farmers appear at their wits end to get sufficient help to carry on farm operations.

Dr. Black commented upon the rather unusual situation which exists at present in Canada in this respect. In some districts throughout the Western Provinces, where prospects for the 1929 crop are discouraging, there appears to be a considerable surplus of labor. In the East, however, reports from practically all quarters indicate quite a shortage of men for the farms, and this is very pronounced in certain districts.

In parts of Ontario it has been impossible for weeks to fill the demand for farm help, and the farm placement of the Railway has been besieged with requests, which have had to go unfulfilled. In the Eastern Townships of Quebec, the story is the same, and from the Maritime Provinces now comes information to the effect that more men are needed to carry on, and they do not appear to be immediately available. Prince Edward Island reported only within the past few days a shortage of farm help to fill the demand on the Island.

During the past two weekends, there has been rather unusually heavy arrivals of settlers for the season of the year, but these, for the most part, have been Britishers going forward to friends or relatives or to positions on farm locations previously arranged for. The supply of the experienced farm help coming forward has thus far fallen very short of the demand from Eastern Canada.

Very few complaints were heard regarding our seed this year, in fact, rather the reverse. We must not, however, slacken our efforts to produce the highest quality stock. Improvement in our seed stock could be effected by paying greater attention to some or all of the following factors: 1. Plant only Certified Extra No. 1 seed stock of the best type. 2. In the case of Green Mountains where the best foundation seed may be obtained. 3. Maintain tuber unit seed plots. 4. Production of high yielding disease-free strains. 5. Special attention to early roguing. 6. More consistent and thorough spraying, early and late. 7. Greater care in handling seed at harvest time. 8. Still greater care to prevent possible chilling and freezing before shipment. 9. Closer co-operation between growers, dealers and the Inspection Service.

REPORT OF CHIEF POTATO INSPECTOR

Read at Annual Meeting of Potato Growers' Association on Saturday.

REPORT OF THE SEED POTATO CERTIFICATION WORK IN PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND (1928 CROP YEAR)

By S. G. Peppin, Senior Inspector

The area entered for inspection in 1928 increased from 24,845 in 1927 to 32,079 acres, or almost 28%. This in spite of the published fact that potato acreages were being increased all over the North American continent by 10%, and which, if a normal crop resulted, would ultimately lead to low prices with consequent losses. Subsequent events proved the truth of these statements which were actually forecast by various Departments and Bureaus of Statistics. Slightly over 80% of the acreage inspected passed the two field inspection.

Table with 4 columns: Disease, No. of fields, No. of acres, Per cent. Rows include Black leg, Leaf roll, Mosaic, Foreign, and Miscellaneous.

SUMMARY OF REASONS FOR REJECTED FIELDS

Table with 4 columns: Acres Passed, Acres Not Passed, Total. Rows include Irish Cobblers, Green Mountains, and Other Varieties.

Number of varieties inspected 10. A greater acreage passed inspection in 1928 than was entered for inspection in 1927.

The season was favourable for good yield and tuber growth throughout. Spring opened earlier than usual, planting commenced in some districts on May 15th. We do not recommend this except for early table stock June 1st is a good average date for planting. The average per cent of disease found in the fields passing inspection was as follows: Black leg 0.13, Leaf roll 0.06, Mosaic 0.05. This is probably the lowest average of any seed producing section in the North American continent where such a large acreage is involved, and reported in Nassau County, there were planted sixteen strains from Maine, one from Long Island (home grown) one from New York, and two from Prince Edward Island. You will note Maine had four times as many entries as the other three sections combined. Again in the Green Mountain test Maine had twenty-four, New York three, and Prince Edward Island two. Maine again predominating. The disease counts on these tests prove conclusively the superiority of our Island stock over the others entered. Three diseases were scored on vis. Leaf roll, Black leg, and Spindle tuber. Maine had a total of 4.57%, New York, 6%, Long Island 12% and Prince Edward Island 0.7%. In the Green Mountains test Mosaic, Leaf roll and Black leg diseases were scored on, with total running as follows: Maine 4.3%, New York, 2.1%, and Prince Edward Island showing a trace (less than 0.5%) of Leaf roll and Black leg.

On the other hand, while our stock may show superiority from a disease standpoint, nevertheless I was reminded on more than one occasion that our seed does not yield as heavy as that from some other sources. If there is anything in high yielding strains it behooves us to specialise a little more on these without losing sight of the disease factor. I may as well tell you candidly the state of Maine growers are out to get the seed potato business. It may also interest you to know that not a little of Maine grown seed is doing as well as our Prince Edward Island stock. These growers and dealers are purchasing the best foundation stock procurable in increasing quantities, to grow in competition with our seed.

Very few complaints were heard regarding our seed this year, in fact, rather the reverse. We must not, however, slacken our efforts to produce the highest quality stock. Improvement in our seed stock could be effected by paying greater attention to some or all of the following factors:

- 1. Plant only Certified Extra No. 1 seed stock of the best type. 2. In the case of Green Mountains where the best foundation seed may be obtained. 3. Maintain tuber unit seed plots. 4. Still greater care to prevent possible chilling and freezing before shipment. 9. Closer co-operation between growers, dealers and the Inspection Service.

OFFICERS DISMISSED

OTTAWA, July 15.—The department of national revenue made public to-day the announcement of the dismissal of J. T. Munro and G. S. Robinson from the service. They were customs excise enforcement officers with the preventive service at Halifax and the dismissals followed an interim report into their conduct and the entire service at that port.
