Action and relaxation, both in Sicily, are pictured here during Canadian advances which preceded final collapse of the Axis defences in Sicily. At top, Canadian tanks roar along a dusty Skellan road pursuing retreating Germans on the Ennna front. Below, Pte. Bill Jenner of Vancouver utilises a soldier's prerogative, a snooze when opportunity offers, by dozing off in a shallow trench near Agira. (Canadian Army Overseas Photo)

DIG THREE OF UNITED NATIONS TOGETHER IN QUEBEC CITY. Within the ancient walls of Quebec's historic Citadelle, summer residence of Canada's Governor General, the heads of Great Britain, Canada and the United States sat in conference with their combined chiefs of staff. They came out on the terrace overlooking the St. Lawrence to pose for photographers and newsreel cameramen. President Roosevelt, left, sat beside the Earl of Athlone, Governor General of Canada, while behind them stood Prime Minister Mackenzie King and Prime Minister Winston Churchill. Concerned about the safety of photographers who climbed up on the parapet to take their pictures, Mr. King and Mr. Churchill warned them several times not to slip and fall off. —National Film Board Photo
