LADY PREACHER.

Novel Experiments in the Pulpit Carried Out at Leicester.

The first woman to become a fully qualified minister of an English church held her first services at Leicester on the 23rd September with a success which may lead other congregations to follow this interesting example.

Miss Gerud von Petzold, who has undertaken the duties of the ministry of the Unitarian Free Christian Church at Narborough road, Leicester, officiated at the morning and evening services as the appointed preacher. She had previously given three trial sermons, and the congregation were unanimous in inviting her to take the place of the Rev. W. Whitaker, who recently resigned.

Pale, but composed, the young lady faced the large congregations, and conducted the services in an earnest, impressive and graceful manner. She possesses a pleasing and well modulated voice. The sermons were read, but the delivery was good.

Leaving with clasped hands on the desk on which her manuscript was placed, she kept her eyes mainly fixed on the congregation. She has a German accent, not strongly marked, and the quaint articulation of some of the words was rather attractive than otherwise.

Her language was simple enough to be understood by the children. At the morning service she preached from the text: "But if thou shalt seek the Lord thy God thou shalt find him, if thou search after him with all thy heart and thy soul."

"Look at the world around you," she said. "Look at the men and women selling their souls for pleasure, for money, ever ready to take advantage of one another, to make the best of a worldly bargain, in their spare moments giving themselves up to their passions, degrading themselves body and soul."

The lessons of the Bible learned in childhood should, she urged, be carried into the lives of men and women.

Her addresses were followed with close attention, and leading members of the congregation afterwards expressed approval of the manner in which the services had been conducted.

Miss Petzold was born twenty-eight years ago in West Prussia, and has been in England about six years. She soon obtained a complete mastery of the language, and graduated M.A. at Edinburgh University in 1900.

Afterwards she underwent a three years' course of ministerial studies at Manchester College, Oxford, which is connected with the Unitarian body.

Messrs Sharp & Grady, dentists, have their new office now open for business. These young men who have thus joined the professional fraternity of Summerside, occupy three rooms in the second flat of the building next door east of Sinclair & Stewart's brick block. The first room just at the left of the stairway is the waiting apartment, and adjoining it is the operating room from which entrance is made to the work room. All three rooms are commodiously and conveniently arranged and splendidly furnished. The two main rooms at the front, with large windows giving excellent light and commanding a good view of the full length of Water Street. This new business will be known as the Guarantee Dental Parlor, a name which carries with it every satisfaction for the patrons. All work done here is guaranteed, a written contract given that the work will be kept in repair free of charge for five years. Dr. Sharp & Grady are quite qualified to carry out such contracts. They are recent high graduates of the Baltimore College Dental Surgery, and have a thorough knowledge of all the latest methods in the profession. Coupling with this their popularity, the prospects for their work are most encouraging. They are deserving of a full share of the public patronage, for customers will find them not only capable of doing their work satisfactorily, but as we courteous and painstaking in their efforts to please every body. Their prices will be found in addition in another column, attention to which The Guardian directs its readers.

Be Ready For Croup AND PROTECT YOUR CHILDREN BY KEEPING IN THE HOUSE. Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed AND Turpentine THE THOROUGHLY TESTED AND RELIABLE FAMILY MEDICINE.

To overcome croup you must act quickly. There is usually no time allowed for sending for doctors or medicines. The hollow, croupy cough at midnight may be your first warning, and this will strike terror to your heart if you are not prepared to fight this disease.

It may be of little use to know that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is a positive cure for croup if it is not to be obtained at the critical time. Most persons who have tested this treatment for croup keep a bottle at hand, so that by prompt action they can prevent the disease from reaching a serious stage.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is composed of simple ingredients of unquestioned cumulative power, is pleasant to the taste, well liked by children, and can be used with perfect safety by old and young, so long as directions are followed.

MRS. GEORGE BROWN, 71 Harbord Street, Toronto, writes: "Our children have been very subject to croup, and we have found that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has always brought quick relief. By using it at the first sign of trouble the disease is checked at once. We always keep this remedy in the house, and, in fact, feel that we could not do without it. We also use it for coughs and colds with excellent results, and recommend it to our friends."

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is a bottle, family size; three times as much, 60 cents, at all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto. To protect you against imitations, the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

The Prime Minister's Sister.

Miss Alice Balfour has arrived at Whittinghame. This lady, who, as most people know, is sister to Mr. Arthur Balfour, has a remarkable nature and personality. Her devotion to her brother has hardly been surpassed by that of Mrs. Gladstone for her husband; Miss Balfour brings brains, common sense, and a superb facility to the service of the present Prime Minister. In common with many philosophers, Mr. Balfour is somewhat absent-minded, and his political duties leave him little leisure for the cares and concerns of domestic life. But Miss Balfour's eyes are on everything. She sees that her brother is careful in matters of diet and rest; she manages the Whittinghame estates, engages and dismisses servants, and even chooses horses for riding and carriage work. And in matters of amusement she is a sympathetic companion, can golf, cycle, and has recently learnt to drive a motor-car. Miss Balfour has written a book, called "Twelve Hundred Miles in a Wagon," which gives a graphic account of her journeyings in South Africa. In London she assists the Prime Minister to do the honors at his political parties in Downing street.—M. A. P., September 17.
