

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrup. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Comfort—The Mother's Friend.

The grounds were judged on Friday, June 24th by the Inspector assisted by Prof. Hansford of Prince of Wales College who has had considerable previous experience in this work in Ontario. An unmistakable evidence of interest was shown in several of the schools and decided improvements have been made. It would be of great assistance to our schools if such a small could be given to all our schools. There are two important improvements needed in our school properties in general, namely, the enlarging of the school grounds for organization and the beautifying of them by walks, flowers shrubs and trees. The following schools won the prizes. First—Mount Pleasant, Second, Bideford, Third, Tyne Valley.

While in some portions of the province racial and religious dislikes and dislikes have at times prevailed, yet in great emergencies of public policy it has not failed to measure above these considerations as in the reciprocity election of 1911, when even the magnetism of their favourite Sir Wilfrid Laurier failed to hold the province solidly against his defeat. Strongly Liberal though it had been, yet it was the factor that gave to Sir Robert Borden his working majority. If they would not accept reciprocity at the behest of her favourite son, is it likely they will now bend to the more disastrous Free Trade policy of the United Farmers at the behest of the weak and vacillating Mackenzie King? They will course point to Yamaska, but in this issue it will avail them nothing, for with its large rural population, who, incidentally lean towards tariff modifications, it does not and cannot speak for the manufacturing and industrial centres, those portions of the province that turned down Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his Government in 1911 upon the reciprocity issue. It is safe to say that they will do so again, and much more emphatically, with the less potent Mr. King as leader.

PRETTY JULY WEDDING—One of Charlottetown's most popular young school teachers was married yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Maria Moore, Humber Street, when Miss Annie Stewart McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McDonald, of Core Head, united in marriage to Mr. Parmenas Hughes of Union Road, Rev. Mr. Glenelg performing the ceremony. The bride, who looked exceedingly nice in a dainty dress of Harding blue silk, with handsome point lace trimmings, was a tower of flowers and made a fitting setting for the happy young couple who left shortly after the ceremony for their new home at Union Road where a host of friends awaited their arrival. The bride wearing a tailored suit of blue cloth with becoming hat of chiffon and flowers. During the evening a reception was tendered; Mr. and Mrs. Hughes and the hours passed quickly and pleasantly in music and songs. Mrs. Hughes was a Prince Street School teacher of much ability, a teaching staff of a number of the Methodist Sunday School and choir and her departure is very much regretted. She was the recipient of many lovely gifts including a handsome inlaid tray and dainty Limoges china cups and saucers from the teaching staff of Prince Street School, presented to her at the Rose and Grey when Mr. C. H. B. Longworth entertained the teachers on closing day. The presentation was a very jolly affair, happy and complimentary speeches being made by Mr. Longworth, Mr. Smith and Mr. Seaman, who spoke in words of praise and commendation on her excellent work. The Methodist Choir, Sunday School and Kings' Daughters also showed their appreciation with valuable gifts and the Kings' Daughters also gave a shower for the bride's honor a few weeks ago. Mrs. Hughes who makes friends very quickly by her winsome manner will be an acquisition to Union Road especially in church and musical circles as she possesses a voice of rare sweetness and volume. The Guardian joins in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Hughes happiest congratulations.

STANDARD OF QUALITY
It is estimated that there are nearly two hundred different brands of baking powder in Canada; and the fact that there is more Magic Baking Powder used than all the other brands combined, must show conclusively that it is eminently superior.

MAGIC BAKING POWDER CONTAINS NO ALUM

It has always been the policy of the manufacturers to maintain the high quality of Magic Baking Powder—to make, and keep it, as near the point of perfection as possible.

DOMINION DAY SPORTS AT SUMMERSIDE

Ideal weather "neath a smiling sky, coupled with an aggressive advertising campaign and a managing committee that was on the job for more than three weeks were responsible for making Dominion Day in Summerside one of the greatest celebrations in the whole broad dominion and without any doubt the greatest holiday in the Prince County Capital has ever had.

From daylight onwards motor parties and teams were dotting the country roads, headed for Summerside and with the arrival of the Western and the Eastern trains the town was playing host to one of the largest holiday crowds ever assembled in the town.

Shortly after ten o'clock, headed by the League of the Cross band from Charlottetown, the parade of decorated motor cars and floats started from the railway station and circled the main streets of the town, some three hundred cars in all. The parade was headed by the League of the Cross band from Charlottetown, the parade of decorated motor cars and floats started from the railway station and circled the main streets of the town, some three hundred cars in all. The parade was headed by the League of the Cross band from Charlottetown, the parade of decorated motor cars and floats started from the railway station and circled the main streets of the town, some three hundred cars in all.

A feature of the parade was the appearance of a bride and groom riding in a Ford runabout which in some way or other got sandwiched in between some of the larger cars in the parade. The bride was blushing and beautiful, dressed in regulation bridal attire with a frilled and be-ribboned parasol demurely shading her face and a large bouquet of roses and orange blossoms vainly attempting, to increase her charm. The groom was young and nervous and carried his dark mustache with difficulty. His white gloves were immaculate, his trousers were creased with a razor edge and his silk hat and frock coat fitted him in a style that has made John Drew famous. Several times the tin lizzie stalled in the parade and amid the fondest of endearments and blushing advice from the bride, the unlucky groom descended into the street and cranked up the car, rolling his pure white gloves and adding another touch of color to his already vivid complexion. Attached to the car was a sign "Just Married" and at the rear, overhanging a couple of paths that had been tied to the equipment by some loving friends, was the placard "We are buying our house furnishings at Holman's." This car was the hit of the parade.

The duty of remembering the sacrifices of the boys who fell overseas, as well as those who have returned uncomplaining, from their war work to peace time pursuits, was the keynote of the patriotic addresses delivered in Dominion Square by several prominent speakers, immediately after the parade. Mayor John Campbell, in his remarks, touched on the magnificent manner in which the community of Summerside had honored its brave sons and announced that the town of Summerside was going to launch a campaign in order to erect a soldier's monument, of heroic size which would be placed on a prominent site in Dominion Square.

Reverend Father Gauthier in a very impressive informal talk, spoke to the audience of the duty of making most of the God-given virtue of patriotism. He spoke of the love of country that is typical of the best form of citizenship and considered that, as Canada is populated by the four leading nationalities of the earth—the French, Scotch, Irish, and English—it should be the leader in the younger nations of the world.

Reverend George S. Mitchell, himself a war veteran, also spoke regarding the necessity of having some memorial to the future generations, to show the sacrifice that had been made by families in Prince County during the great war. Sandy MacGregor, the Scot's entertainer sang several Lauder selections; a chorus by the school children was another interesting item on the programme.

In the evening there was a most enjoyable musical programme by the League of the Cross band, in Dominion Square, which was enjoyed by hundreds. A spectacular pyrotechnic display was staged just after midnight, lasting until 1.30, some unusually effective rockets, flares and set pieces being among the numbers. It was through the courtesy of the C. N. R. officials that the fireworks display was made possible as a special effort was made by them to have the fireworks sent through by fast freight.

In Hapsyland theatre and at the Olympia cabaret there were special attractions and the thousands who visited the town, no matter what their pleasure-seeking inclinations might have been, were assured of having the time of their lives all the time that they were in Summerside.

Most of the motor parties remained in the city until late at night, the bandsmen and others motoring to Charlottetown shortly before midnight. The Charlottetown special train left Summerside at eight o'clock.
