PARODY IN "THERE IS A HAPPY LAND"

Speaking about agriculture Mr. McEwen referred to the verse which the Leader of the Opposition had quoted as having come from a French Acadian soldier, expressing the longing of the men in the firing line for ham and more ham. He would give Mr. Bell the full quotation, which was a parody of the song: "There is a happy land, far, far away." The verses were as follows:—

There is a boarding house just across the way.
Where they have ham and eggs three times a day.
Oh, how the boarders yell, when they hear the dinner bell.
Oh, how those eggs do smell three times a day.

And in this boarding house they oft have hash.
Made of beef, corn and lard all in a mash.
Oh, how the boarders shout when they hear the hash is out.
Oh, how the bairs stick out all through the hash.

And in this boarding house it has been said.
Once a year they give clean sheets to every bed.
Oh how the boarder swears when he comes and goes up stairs,
And finds a cockroach there right in his bed.

This was the place which the Leader of the Opposition suggested that the soldiers were anxious to go to! He did not believe a word of it.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. MARK TROWSDALE

On Monday March 25th Mrs. Mark Trowsdale (nee Mary Anne Fall) Crapaud passed to her eternal reward at the age of sixty years, after an illness of several weeks. The deceased was a lady of most estimable qualities, and a consistent Christian. She enjoyed the respect and love of all who knew her. Her generous self-sacrifice and mild and gentle temper were ever an inspiration to her beloved family. She leaves to mourn four sons Harry with the 10th in France, Henry, Frank and Edward at home, one brother George Fall Crapaud. Her husband predeceased her several years ago and the orphan boys have the heartfelt sympathy of a large circle of friends and acquaintances. They realize "there is One that can bind up their broken hearts. He comes with the bands of His power and the balm of His love. He was once the man of Sorrows and acquainted with grief, and knows every heart pang." The funeral which was very largely attended took place on Wednesday, March 27 at 2 p. m. the service being held in the Methodist Church, from there the procession proceeded to the Methodist Cemetery for interment. The services at the house and grave were conducted by Rev. Geo. Morris and Rev. J. Douglas Carey. The pallbearers were Messrs. Joseph McDonald, Levi Trowsdale, Sydney Trowsdale, Samuel Sherron and David Sherron. Weep not that her toils are over. Weep not that her race is won. God grant we may rest as calmly. Weep not that her life here is done. 'Till then we grieve with gladness. This treasure to Him to keep. And rejoice in the best assurance. He giveth in His loved ones sleep.
