Just to give you an idea of how they are training in preparation for the big stakes we may quote that Volo Song, favorite of the Hambletonians, was in 2:11 1/2 and back in 2:12 three weeks ago, and over a week ago was caught two trips around 2:06.

Bangor, Maine, fair where they race on the same dates as the Home Week, Charlottetown, will use the Photocast camera finish system. This is quite technical and expensive.

Bill Gallon, winner of the 1941 Hambletonian that did not race last year because of colic, is going to be in 2:13 with the last quarter in 30 seconds.

Horses, even comparatively young ones, do suffer from heart disease but it seldom shows up until late in life. Recently at the Northable mare Bella Mac, 2:07 owned by E. J. Baker, owner of Greyhound 1:56 1/2, dropped dead.

At Goshen, N. Y., mile track the fastest trip that we have heard of was in 3:07 1/2 by Darnley (H. Whitney's trotter), a candidate for the Hambletonian, richest trotting stallion in the world.

There is an axiom of breeding that "like begets like." It appears to be borne out in the case of the pacing King, King, 1:55, that is away to a flying start as sire of speed.

At the Showman, Maine, fair, Townsend Ackerman stepped the slow class pacer Abbe O'Neill in 2:10 1/2, Sweedie and Spangie, Great Western, in 2:12.

There is a two-year-old half sister of the champion trotter Greyhound in training. She is out of Elizabeth promise than any other in the class.

At the Showman, Maine, fair, Townsend Ackerman stepped the slow class pacer Abbe O'Neill in 2:10 1/2, Sweedie and Spangie, Great Western, in 2:12.

Classification as to pacers is on last year's performances on a half-mile track. Horses with mile track records allowed four seconds; non-winners in 1942 allowed two seconds over their winning time.

Will make the season of 1943 at Cavendish Farm, East Royalty, in the Maritimes. Sire of Miss Gudling 2:00.

The famous Newmarket, England races held last Saturday drew tremendous crowds. Dorothy Paget, British born cousin of the American sportsman Colonel John Hay Whitney, dominated the English racing picture when her colors were carried to victory in the fourth stakes Derby and the Coventry Stakes.

MR. BRACKEN (Continued From Page One) last fifty years, the last war interfering, no one can estimate its cost or the sacrifices that lie ahead.

Necessary for the preservation of peace would be the setting up of a national police force, and eradication of the false doctrine dinned into the youth of Germany and Japan, that wars are inevitable.

In the meantime, he emphasized, it was everyone's duty to contribute to the war effort in every possible way.

At the close of the meeting a greeting Mr. Bracken was held, enabling Mr. Bracken to shake hands with every one present.

Over forty horses are training in preparation for the races at Summerside, July 1st. The four events which will be run are the 2:12 and Vic Fleming marked two year-olds by the pacing champion Braver, owned by Susan and Mawhinney, Macalls, Maine, went in 2:12 1/2 and Joe Mooney's Direct Lady in 2:12.

Going into tonight's game with at least one hit in his last 20 consecutive games and a sizzling .356 average, the White Sox' blond right hander explained "I've been getting the breaks every time I've hit the ball hard it's been right in there, between the fielders."

After a long career in the lower minors, Curtright went up to St. Paul last season and lined 13 home runs, hitting .291, and was purchased by the Yankees. He did plenty of pinch hitting, but didn't become a regular until May 30 in Washington when Manager Jimmy Dykes gave him a try because Julius Solters and Ralph Hodel were not doing too well in the left field spot.

There is one thing about the racing this year and it is that no one can pick a winner because none of the horses have been extended. The fastest workout mile being slower than the horses can perform in the excitement of a race.

In addition to races at Summerside July 1st there will be racing at Truro and North Sydney in Nova Scotia and Chatham, N.B., as well as various points in Quebec, Ontario and eastern Canada.

Myron was busy fashioning a set of shoes for Uscita Britton and I noted that that mare's feet were tucked beautifully and the shoes tucked, fitted to perfection.

Bracken showed keen interest in the lobster packing and in the quantities of Irish moss gathered there. He watched 60 pounds of cod being prepared for use. He then went through the lobster boiling room, and fish storage house, and asked many questions. He was informed that between thirty and thirty-five people are given employment in the factory. He also learned, with great interest, that Rustico has fifty-four young men in the armed services. Among those with whom he conversed was Mr. Prosper I. Clark, who has seven sons in the service of their country.

Mr. Bracken also discussed their problems with members of the Fishermen's Co-operation Union, and compared some matters they had in common with the Western agricultural cooperatives. The publisher, treasurer and Mrs. C. H. Beer was appointed chairman of the Education committee. Miss Ross, then introduced Miss Lyle, Creechman National Conventor, Public Health committee, who outlined briefly the aims and objects of the organization. The publisher, interesting and instructive talk on Public Health work in general. The nurses considered they were most fortunate in having Miss Creechman with them at this time as she is one of the outstanding leaders in Public Health in Canada today.

Mr. James Catt of the Department of Fisheries, Saint John and Dr. Neidler, also of the Department of Fisheries, and now stationed in New Brunswick, arrived in Charlottetown yesterday. Last night a group of sportsmen members of the P.E.I. Fish and Game Protective Association met the two officials at an informal meeting at the Charlottetown Hotel.

Earlier it had been intended to have a general meeting of the Association but Mr. Catt and Dr. Neidler arrived unexpectedly.

The two officials are trying to select two ponds for experimental work with trout. One will be stocked with fish which will be given some artificial food. The other will be stocked but the fish will depend on natural food only. An effort will be made to compare the rate of growth in each pond.

The meeting it was asserted that more trout are caught by netting in this province than by angling by lawful means. It was suggested that more protection through additional game wardens is needed. The suggestion that Afton Lake be stocked with bass was brought up and Mr. Catt said a survey of the lake had been made several years ago and it was found not suitable for bass.

The two officials leave this morning. Dr. Neidler expects to return about July 4 or 5.
