"THE LOVE PENDULUM"

BY MARION RUBINCAM

Chapter I
Somewhere I have read that when one goes through a great crisis, it marks the end of one part of life and the beginning of another.
That is how I felt when I opened my eyes, with my mind clear as glass, and saw yellow blotches of bright sunlight on the floor, and felt a breeze that was deliciously cool play across my forehead. That was all I was conscious of for a while, and I was very vaguely conscious of that.

MASTER JACK HUBER
Wonderful Boy Soloist

Presently I knew that I was beautifully tranquilly tired. It was such a delicious tiredness, a languor that rested me somehow, that made me delightfully comfortable. I felt that I never wanted to move. Then I discovered I was lying on my back and that I was entirely surrounded by white sheets, a smooth white cover, an expanse of white bed.
For a time I did not even try to look beyond the bed. I was waking up very gradually into a new world. All I knew of it was that it seemed completely white except for the yellow light that lay upon the floor. For a time I did not want to know more. Probably I was so tired I did not care. I closed my eyes again, feeling perfectly at peace and happy.

There is a bit of romance in the story of little Jack Huber, the lead-tenor boy soloist of the Paulist Choristers. One morning, after singing the night before, as the choir was taking the train at Los Angeles, a lady came and asked for Father Finn. She said she had a boy, and would like to have him in the choir. Clear across the continent she sent Tim Huber, who became a solo boy, and when his voice changed she sent another son. This little Jack, who has puzzled the oldest veterans by his artistic excellence. Some of them say he has it over any other boy, his art being equal to prima donna, and his voice more pure. He is equally at home in the most serious and lightest numbers and no audience ever yet had enough of him. Hear Master Jack Huber at the Prince Edward Monday evening June 18th at 8.15 sharp.

Associated Clubs holds its annual convention and I must open it. No one else knows as much about the work as I do. I'm very—ah, here it comes!
There was the buzzing of an auto, and the grind of brakes. Vague sounds came up to me—Then—
"Goodbye. Have the nurse write me every day. She'll be all right now. Now, driver, don't miss that train—"
The motor started and its sound gradually died off as it left the place. A dead silence followed.
I felt terribly alone. I did not like that voice, but it was related to me. I kept me back on the earth, somehow. Now it was gone. I was alone and I did not know where I was. I wanted to call, but my voice did not come to my aid. There should be a bell to ring—if I could only find it—

In The Probate Court

14th George V., A. D., 1923
In Re Estate of Alexander Caseley, late of Kensington in Prince County in the said Province deceased testate.
By the Honourable A. Bannerman Warburton, Surrogate Judge of Probate, &c., &c.
To the Sheriff of the County of Prince County or any Constable or literate person within said County.

GREETING:

Whereas upon reading the Petition of file of John Stewart of French River in Queen's County in said Island, Farmer, and Health Caseley of Margate in Prince County, addressed, Farmer, the Executors, know such a serious case was of that to develop. It's very good to get her here when I did. Another day's delay and she would have been sick in my house and you know, Doctor, a city house is no place—what! Oh, yes, of course, another day's delay and it might have been fatal. One could see that she looked dead already.
"Do you think that motor will come on time? But then you know, I'm a very prompt woman. I merely wanted to hear of this place—
"I'm like that myself, don't know what it is like!
"So I cancelled all my engagements. The Charity Ball was come off that very night. But I simply tried to make sure of your dress, and got a special train and for me too. And I have the feeling of having done my duty."
There was a pause. The voice went on again:
"It's all very well but if that motor doesn't come I miss the train. No I won't go up to say goodbye, she's asleep and there's no danger. And I must be back tonight. The

SEKING DIVINE AID

COLUMBIA, S. C., June 15.—Governor McLeod today called upon the people of South Columbia to unite next Sunday in asking divine aid in their battle against the boll weevil.
Declaring his belief that the cotton pest and other evils had been sent "as a judgement on our people not only for their sins, but as a means of bringing them back to Him," the chief executive in a proclamation designated Sunday as a day of fasting and prayer to God for deliverance from the ravages of the boll weevil in such way or ways as may seem wise to Him, either by direct supernatural intervention or through the workings of natural causes which are under His control."

white curtains that blew gently back from two open windows. The yellow sun was pouring in, I was in the centre of the room, in a hospital bed of white iron, with a smooth white coverlet drawn up over it. All the furniture was white, except a screen in one corner, that was covered with some sort of lowered chintz. My eyes fastened on this one note of color and I forgot everything trying lazily to make out the pattern.
That familiar voice came again: "Oh yes, it will grow! They say it does it a lot of good. Too bad, of course—her hair was one of her greatest beauties. I had my maid fix it when she was a child and visited me. The motor won't be late, will it, doctor?"
I wanted to remember the name I wanted with this voice. I did not like the voice. I wasn't sure I would like the name when I remembered it. It was like the memory of an unpleasant taste.
"Indeed! Well, that's better than we hoped. Of course we did not know such a serious case was of that to develop. It's very good to get her here when I did. ## Does It Cost More to Build Cord Tires?

Most assuredly! The cord fabric costs more than ordinary fabric. There is more rubber employed. Extensive machinery is necessary to complete the various processes. More detail is essential to the proper construction.
In Firestone Cord Tires this extra cost has been reduced to a bed rock minimum by constant experiment and best production methods. But you come to consider the added mileage and extra mileage they deliver at a cost is far lower.
Firestone Cords make driving easier—they lessen the demands on your motor—they save gasoline bills—their remarkable resilience absorbs road roughness and inequalities—they practically do away with fabric friction and embody a surprising wear-resistance.
The steadily increasing demand for Firestone Cords—the pacemakers of cord construction—emphasizes the fact that owners are becoming tire-wise—are finding out that extra mileage without additional cost embodies true tire economy.
We stake a reputation we have spent many years to build on each Firestone Cord we put on your car—surely the highest assurance of quality and super-service any car-owner could possibly wish for. Ask your dealer.

A New and Finer Overland Sedan

MODEL 91—a greater Overland—comes to you in closed types that embody all essential refinements and combine quality of construction with lowest consistent price.
Here is the Sedan—note its handsome appearance! Its hood high; its lines long. A rich dark blue body with full-crowned fenders in lustrous black enamel. Heavy plate glass all round—and of generous dimensions.
The new Overland Sedan also provides the very maximum of comfort and convenience. The four doors are designed for convenience, with windows that can be raised or lowered in an instant. The large glass area means fullest vision.
Riding comfort is further enhanced by the exclusive Triplex Springs.
Perfectly balanced, this new and greater Overland introduces many mechanical advances, notably a wonderfully rugged rear axle unit with a shaft 27% heavier than any other car in the Overland price or weight class—shafts removable without tearing apart the housing.
