Weekly Livestock Market Review

SUMMARY

Advancing prices, reported as a result of last week's cattle trading, carried forward into the current week, and paying rates were again higher in principal markets by 25c to $1.25. Stronger prices were also paid for calves and hogs on eastern markets but elsewhere there was no change. Lambs and sheep continued steady.

Eastern Cattle Markets

Cattle deliveries at eastern markets showed an increase both as compared with the previous week and with the same week last year. The bulk of the cattle at Toronto continued to go into the hands of smaller buyers, chiefly from outside points. Prices at this centre were 75c to $1.25 higher, with the greatest increase on steers. Weighty steers closed at $13.50 to $15 and some tops made $15.50, while butchers sold up to $14.50, and a few lots of stockers were taken at $11.50 to $12.50. Cattle continued strong at Montreal where good steers were quoted at $13 to $14, tops up to $14.75, and good butcher cows at $10 to $11.50. In the Maritimes there were no receipts reported except for some slaughtering by small killers. A nominal quotation was placed on choice steers and heifers of $13, with Blue Brand from $12.50 down.

Western Cattle Markets

Active and higher markets for cattle were seen throughout the west during the week. Winnipeg advanced 25c to 50c, with all supplies well cleared. A fair number of slaughter steers commanded $13 to $14, a few $14.25, good cows $10 to $11, and some good light stockers $11 to $11.50. An advance of 50c to 75c was recorded at Calgary where good to choice steers were priced at $12.50 to $13.50. Edmonton was also a strong centre, with a couple of loads of choice steers at $13.75 and $13.65, and the general run of choice quality $13 to $13.50, with medium to good kinds $10.25 to $12.75. Prince Albert paid up to $12.75 on a higher market for top steers: Moose Jaw mostly $12.50 to $12.75; Saskatoon $11.75 to a high of $14; and Regina up to $14.

Exports To United States

Dairy cattle exports were increased to 2,513 head for the past week, compared with 1,394 in the same week last year. Exports since January 1st totalled 26,078 as against 19,110 in the same period last year.

Further Firmness in Calf Market

Veal calves continue strong sellers and Toronto recorded another advance of 50c during the week, selling good to choice veals at $16 to $17 at the close. Montreal was also firm, with good veals mostly $15.50 and a top of $16 recorded; while Winnipeg paid $14 to $15 for good calves; Calgary $12 to $13; Edmonton $12 to $13.25 and $13.50; Prince Albert up to $13; Moose Jaw $12 to $13; Saskatoon up to $14; and Regina $14.50.

Eastern Hog Markets Stronger

Some advances were reported in eastern hog prices. Montreal reported B1 hogs at $21.60 to $21.85, Toronto at $20.60, Winnipeg and other western markets for the most part were unchanged, Winnipeg paid $18.30 to $18.60 for Grade B1, Calgary $18.45 to $18.85, Edmonton $18.70, Prince Albert, Moose Jaw and Regina $16.05, Saskatoon $17.95 to $18.05, Vancouver $18.40 to $19.25, and Moncton $21.10.

The above prices do not include the Dominion Government premiums of $2 per head on Grade A hogs and $1 on Grade B1.

Unchanged Lamb Market

There was little of note in the sheep and lamb market situation. Seasonally light offerings were disposed of at generally firm prices, with Toronto paying $17.50 to $19 for choice spring lambs, Montreal up to $16, Winnipeg up to $15, Calgary $13 to $14.25, Edmonton around $13, Prince Albert $12, Saskatoon $14 to $14.75, and Regina $15 to $16.

INDIAN DELICACY

The porcuvine's flesh is edible, and was considered a delicacy by the Indians.

NOON ON THE FARM

Now on the barnyard fence, content and proud,
The rooster preens his wings and turns his head
To watch the sparrows impudently crowd,
Peeking the ground for scattered bits of bread.
Rover lies close against the back-door sill
Where midday sun has made the rough boards warm
And two white kittens, confident and still,
Curl by his side asleep. The quiet farm
Spreads its squared acres waiting to be sowed,
Its woodland and its plowland, far away
Up to the hills, down, where the valley road
Leads into town. How curtly brusque the jay
Jars on this silence with his strident calls,
The horses stamp their hoofs in their dark stalls.

JAMES CRAIG, FRANCES GIFFORD WIN LAUGHS IN "SHE WENT TO THE RACES"

The excitement of horse racing lends a fast-paced and colorful background to an amusing story entirely off the beaten track in "She Went to the Races," current attraction at the.....Theatre.

Veering from the usual race track formula, the new M-G-M film tells of a group of college professors who hit upon a scheme for raising twenty thousand dollars by betting on the horses from a purely scientific angle. Three elderly, dignified professors are involved in the unorthodox venture, which is to assure the maintenance of an experimental laboratory and also to assure the continued services of their colleague, Dr. Homer Pecke. At first reluctant, but finally won by their logic, is another professor, the young and attractive Dr. Ann Watters.

It is Ann who starts the ball rolling when she takes over the hotel room of Steve Canfield, young sportsman whose horse, "Mr. McGillicuddy," is a favorite. The professors' deductions lead them to believe Steve's horse will win, but when Steve advises her that "Mr. McGillicuddy" hasn't a chance, she places their meager resources on another entry. Steve's horse does win and Ann, believing she has been double-crossed, seeks him out, only to find him in a romantic clinch with Hilda Spotts, a childhood sweetheart.

Prior to the big race of the meet Ann obtains a loan with the intention of again betting on "Mr. McGillicuddy." As a side wager, Hilda agrees to forfeit her rights to Steve should Ann's choice win. Circumstances again place Ann's money on a rival horse, but when "Mr. McGillicuddy" comes through with flying colors, the complications are straightened out, Dr. Pecke is able to keep his old job and Ann and Steve become "Mr. and Mrs."
