Schwartz COFFEE
FROM HOLLAND TO Halifax!
EARLY in the nineteenth century a Dutchman settled in Halifax, whose son was to process and pack many of the exotic products of the fatherland's colonies in the East Indies. Foremost among these is Schwartz Coffee, which has lately added lustre to its crown through the introduction of Thermo Low TEMPERATURE roasting.
This method is unique in that after grinding the coffee remains the same UNIFORM COLOR throughout. It means that every pound has the same matchless flavour.
Moreover, this matchless flavor is sealed in by the vacuum tin now back from the war. So get a pound of Schwartz Coffee today. Follow the directions and you'll have "the cup you can't forget!"
But say Schwartz and be Sure!

HAD PLEASANT TRIP—Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Wright, 7 Grey Street, City, returned home last Saturday night after having spent a pleasant four weeks in Hamilton, Bermuda. Mr. Wright informed the Guardian yesterday evening that the weather was ideal during his visit there, corresponding to Charlottetown weather in August. The crops in Bermuda were being harvested during his stay there, Mr. Wright said.

FIRE SATURDAY AFTERNOON—A fire originating in a fine at 90 Great George Street caused considerable damage in the offices of H. L. Starr and D. B. Stewart before it was extinguished last Saturday afternoon. The firemen battled with the fire for an hour before subduing it. The booster hose and another line of hose was used in combatting the blaze.

GASOLINE DEALERS HOLD MEETING—At a meeting held by the Gasoline Dealers Association of Charlottetown on Friday night it was unanimously decided that the stationers close for holidays on Wednesdays at 12:30 p. m., one station remaining open on Wednesday and two stations open on Sunday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Further particulars later.

STOLEN GOODS RECOVERED—Clerical vestments, valued at several hundred dollars, were recovered Saturday morning after having been stolen the previous evening from a car parked in front of the Queen Hotel. Yesterday morning the Booster car from which the goods were stolen assembled a number of young boys to look for the stolen goods, closing under several buildings, the boys' persistence was rewarded when they found the garments hidden in the good-working factory of Duchemin and Company on Wat. er Street.

THE KIRK PULPIT
Preaching last evening on the text "Cast the net on the right side of the ship" (St. John 13) the minister, the Rev. T. H. Bussell Somers, said: Every one of us needs to learn that lesson. We are so prone to think that the best is inaccessible. But all that we long for—happiness, love, peace of mind, power, chin stretch, long character—like the fish are just there. Of men and women, if all that we crave for was remote, life would not be so tragic as it is. If all that we craved for was very far away, the story of humanity would be less pitiable. But the pity of a thousand lives is this, that love and joy and power and peace are here, yet by the breadth of a fishing boat men somehow miss them, and all their life they are toiling in the dark. It is not so easy to run away from oneself. Believe that the kingdom of heaven is within you. Believe that the best and the brightest is just here. The things that we crave for, without which we cannot live, which make all the difference between morn and mid-night, these things are always nearer than we dream of. And if that is so of happiness and love you may be certain it is so of Christ. Peter and Nathanael said James and John made that discovery beside the lake. The scene was full of memories of our Lord, every light that twinkled on the lake shore recalled Him. I do not think one hour would pass that night when the nets were shot and the fishing boat was rocking, but the name of Jesus would be on the lips of the men who were toiling for Him with a longing quite immeasurable; they missed Him unutterably, they were not at all with Him, and they learned in the morning when He said on the shore and called them, that they had found for was never that they thought it is easy to believe that Christ is wrought in Galilee. It is easy to believe that here and now there is one who can relieve us and save and change and empower us. Yet several in Galilee. It is easy to believe that here and now there is here to us that all we long for is nearer than we can dream of or see. "Cast the net on the right side of the ship."

The Baptist Church
The morning service at the Charlottetown Baptist Church was conducted by the B. Y. J. under leadership of the President, Arnold Hiltz, assisted by Misses Marguerite Brehaut and Margaret Salen.
The speaker was Eric MacPhail, New Haven, who gave an address on "The Missionary Challenge." The speaker's remarks on the words "How shall they hear without a preacher?" and how shall they preach except they be sent?" He prefaced his address with the challenging question "Can a Christian be non-operative in the Missionary endeavour and still be a Christian?" in his plea for interest in Missions he stressed the following reasons: Missions help promote international co-operation. The Church is the only sure and secure basis in setting up a workable new world order. Missions pay off financially in fighting disease and promoting agriculture to solve the world's critical food problems. They assist in the rediscovery of Christ, thereby in danger of being lost if not shared with others. Above all Missions are the direct command of the Christ to His followers.
The morning anthem was "Jesus Christ is Risen" sung to a French Melody.
The flowers on the Communion Table were placed in memory of Master Irving Warren by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Warren.
The evening service was in charge of the Baptist Men's Association and was directed by E. J. Rupert, assisted by S. D. Irvine, and M. F. Bethune.
The evening address was given by Mr. Lloyd W. Shaw, Provincial Director of Education. His theme was "The Responsibility of the Lawman to Youth."
Mr. Shaw spoke eloquently and convincingly and his forthright challenge should bear concrete results in the bettering of conditions in our community for the youth

CATARRHAL AND BRONCHIAL COLDS!

What is LANTIGEN?
Lantigen is a specially prepared dissolved vaccine and has been used successfully in the treatment of various diseases. Lantigen is not a patent medicine. Lantigen is a bacterial vaccine. Lantigen is a dissolved vaccine and is safe to take. Lantigen is a natural aid. It is produced from the bacteria which are peculiar to the particular disease requiring treatment. In the preparation of Lantigen the organisms are destroyed by a process of dissolution thus releasing the active principles from the bacterial bodies. Being in a completely dissolved state the vaccine is operative locally by absorption into the tissues of the tongue, tonsils, throat, and the intestinal tract and is further operative by means of its distribution throughout the system. More than 150,000 people in Australia have enjoyed relief from the distressing effects of catarrh and allied conditions.

Organs affected by Catarrhal Poisons

AN EMINENT PHYSICIAN
Writing in the "British Medical Journal," speaks as follows in the issue of January 15, 1936: "In my experience, the oral antiseptics have been mostly employed for cases of Catarrhal infections, rheumatic conditions and catarrhal enterocolitis. Clinical response has been quite definitely marked." This important statement, however, heralds the dawn of a great release for Catarrhal sufferers.
