SAD NEWS RECEIVED.—Mrs. G. H. Holbrook received a wire yesterday evening from Boston conveying the sad news of the death of her sister, Mrs. Stephen H. Lewis.

The community at Tryon was greatly shocked to learn on Wednesday morning of the death under sad circumstances of Mr. James Harvey, an elderly and highly esteemed citizen. The deceased, who was a man of robust constitution and remarkably fine physique, had lived with his son at Tryon since selling his property at Cape Traverse some years ago. He had been working in the field as usual on Tuesday and in the evening attended a political meeting. Next morning he was found dead in a room upstairs.

SUDDEN DEATH.—A very sudden death occurred at St. Nicholas on Monday, when Mr. Maurice Perry, a well-known and prosperous farmer of that place passed away. It appears that all the members of the household were away working in the field, at the time and the women were also absent berry picking. Upon their return about 4 p. m. Mr. Perry was found lying face down on the floor. A receptacle which had been containing a medicine which was being taken for stomach trouble was found lying near him the contents being spilled on the floor. A doctor was summoned and announced that Mr. Perry's death was due to heart failure, a weak turn having come on suddenly, causing him to collapse. Deceased was 76 years of age and leaves to mourn his wife, three daughters and five sons. The daughters are Mrs. Will Cameron, Summerside; Mrs. Camille Perry, St. Nicholas and Sister Vina of a religious order in Montreal. Two of the sons, Philip and Perry are at home and the other three are in Rockland, Maine.

Shipping from the waste gate of the mill dam at Bradabane, William Earl Woodside, aged 40 years, fell unnoticed to his death in the pool below, on Thursday afternoon, while on his way to school. The boy, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hedley Woodside of Bradabane, was last seen alive at dinner time on Thursday. He left on return to school and as he did not come home in the evening a search party was organized to look for him. The hunt continued all night and all the next day without success. On Friday afternoon all the communities around Bradabane were notified by telephone, and hundreds of people joined in the search. On Saturday evening at five o'clock the body was recovered from the pool in the mill-dam. Evidently he was on his way to school, and as he usually took the short cut across the dam, he did so on the occasion, and in some way fell over the waste gate.

Dr. Boyver of Crapaud, coroner for Prince County, was called to conduct an inquest and empaneled Mr. Roderick McKay, (foreman) the following jury: Mr. Hugh McLaren, Mr. Lemuel McKay, Mr. Archibald McKinnon, Mr. Vernon Moore, Mr. David Buchanan, Mr. Roderick McKenzie. After a number of witnesses were examined, none of whom however, knew how the accident occurred, a verdict was returned of accidental drowning. The whole community has been affected by the young lad's sudden and tragic death and many gathered to pay their last respects at his funeral, which was held yesterday afternoon.

On Thursday July 29, 1926 word came by wire to Mr. George Trowsdale from Charlottetown Hospital, conveying the sad news that his wife had passed away. The spirit returning on to God, that gave it, for to be absent from the body to be present with the Lord. In the passing of Miss Isabel McMillan, who died at Rustico, on the 24th day of August last at the home of her cousin Mrs. Dan. Bulman, the Province has lost one of its noble women, and the community suffering on whose life had ever been rich in acts of kindness, and who rendered without show or ostentation. Since the death of her father, Hon. Angus McMillan, she had for the most part been living with Mrs. Bulman, whose tender solicitude and loving care had helped to brighten the loneliness and contribute to the comfort of a life seldom free from physical ailments. Her last illness was but the culmination of many years of physical suffering, consistently borne with patient endurance, never without courage nor always without cheerfulness. Her funeral service, conducted by Rev. Dr. Ramsay of Trinity Church, Charlottetown, was held at the residence of Mr. Dan Bulman of Rustico, from which her remains were conveyed to Portage Cemetery, where she now lies buried beside the mother whom she had lost in early life, and the father whom to serve in his declining years she deemed herself privileged, and upon whom she had lavished without stint the full measure of a daughter's love and affection.

The members of the Indian Reservation at Lennox Island were shocked yesterday at the tragedy which occurred about 8 o'clock in the morning. It appears that while Anthony Mitchell, an Indian between 50 and 55 years of age, was milking his cow, he was attacked by his son, John Henry Mitchell, aged 26 years, who stealthily crept up from behind and hitting his father on the head with an axe split his skull open, causing instant death.

The young man who committed the awful deed is a returned soldier who was severely shell shocked and whose brain has not been quite normal since his return, but was not thought to be dangerous. Deceased leaves besides his widow, who is a daughter of Chief Sark, Lennox Island, five boys and three girls to mourn their loss. An inquest is being held. Mitchell was arrested and held in custody.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.—A terrible tragedy occurred at Lennox Island on Tuesday morning when John Henry Mitchell, who for several months has been mentally deranged struck and killed his father Anthony Mitchell with an axe. Just a week previous the insane man had attacked and brutally beaten another Indian, Stephen Tony. At that time efforts were made to have him confined but those who have the attempt, it is understood, were told that if he did anything further that he would be incarcerated. The above tragedy is the result of that unfortunate delay. Mr. Mitchell was struck as he was milking a cow. His son had just got out of bed and without saying a word he rushed to the wood-pile seized the axe and made towards his father. The elder Mitchell begged him not to strike him but he paid no heed, hit him a crushing blow on the head, then fled towards the woods. Mr. Mitchell whose head had been split open was conscious for a time but lived only an hour. Later at 2 p. m. the insane man came out of the woods where he had been surrounded and quietly gave himself up to Sheriff Wright and posse arrived shortly after and took him to Summerside, N.

Before a large congregation, Rev. Marcus Scott Fulton, B. A. was inducted last night as minister of Zion Presbyterian Church, the charge being read to him by the Moderator of the Session, Rev. W. Bruce Muir. The new minister was addressed during the induction service by Rev. R. H. Stavert, and the congregation by Rev. George S. Mitchell. Rev. Finlay MacIntosh also took part in the service. The sermon was delivered by Rev. Mr. Muir, who spoke eloquently by on the text, "The stone which the builders rejected became the headstone of the corner."

In speaking on this subject Mr. Muir said that it was sometimes the falling of specialists and experts to miss things that were very apparent to the common people. A great botanist, although he had a thorough knowledge of flowers, had once failed to recognize the daffodil when he saw it.

So it had been, said the preacher, with Jesus Christ when he was on earth. The Pharisees, learned as they were in the promised coming of a Messiah, did not recognize him in Jesus Christ. Consequently Jesus had made use of this same text to illustrate their blindness. But, said the preacher, the stone which he used to typify not only Jesus, but all his followers, like St. Peter they could and should be the living stones of which the Christian Church is built. And they should not be dead stones, there were already too many of those in the Church today.

The induction service throughout was very impressive, and lasted for almost two hours. At its conclusion a social was held in Zion Church school room, at which an opportunity was given for the members of the congregation to meet and become acquainted with Mr. Fulton.

At the residence of her nephew, Joseph Bulger, Hope River, on Sunday, July 4th, 1926, Miss Catherine Bulger was called to her eternal reward at the advanced age of 84 years. Deceased was always in the best of health until a few weeks previous to her death. She was visited many times during her illness by her pastor, Rev. W. V. McDonald, who also administered to her the last Holy Sacrament of the Catholic Church, of which she was a devoted member. At the grave a young girl who went to the United States, where she lived many years, and by honest integrity she made good, and was the help of her widowed mother, younger sisters and only brother, Patrick, to whom she returned in later years and in May, 1924, being of a cheerful manner she made many friends at home and abroad, who with her nieces and nephews and relatives, will cherish her memory for the many good deeds of kindness extended to them. Her funeral took place on Tuesday morning, July 6, at St. Ann's church, Hope River, and was largely attended by her many relatives and friends. Requiem High Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Clarence Peters, Rustico, who also officiated at the grave, where all that was mortal of a loving aunt was tenderly laid to rest, there to remain until summoned to meet her Saviour in final judgment. Whom, we earnestly pray, shall meet with a smiling and benign countenance, May her soul rest in peace.
