World Countries Pay Homage To War Dead

His Majesty remains indoors as cold London fog greets Armistice Day.

(Canadian Press)

MONTREAL, Nov. 11. — Solemn ceremony, interrupted in a few cases by demonstrators against war, marked Armistice Day services in many countries Saturday as the world remembered those who died in the Great War.

In the Empire's Capital the Prince of Wales led the ceremonies at the Cenotaph on Whitehall. The King made a last-minute decision to remain indoors as the observance was carried out in a cold, grey London fog.

At Ottawa, on Parliament Hill, the carillon in the Peace Tower ushered in the traditional two minutes' silence. The Governor General, Lord Bessborough, accompanied by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, deposited a wreath on the altar of the sacrifice in the Memorial Chamber.

In Paris, warnings of war sounded amid the pleas for peace; at Washington President Roosevelt led a solemn gathering at the tomb of the unknown soldier while in another section of Arlington Cemetery the Canadian Minister to the United States, Hon. W. D. Herridge, laid a wreath at the foot of the cross of sacrifice, dedicated to the Americans who fell with the Canadian forces in France.

At Ottawa, on Parliament Hill, the carillon in the Peace Tower ushered in the traditional two minutes' silence. The Governor General, Lord Bessborough, accompanied by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, deposited a wreath on the altar of the sacrifice in the Memorial Chamber.

Queen Mary watched from an adjacent balcony as the Prince deposited a wreath of poppies at the foot of the cenotaph. The King remained at Buckingham Palace on account of the inclement weather; it was recalled that it was during such weather five years ago His Majesty contracted the cold that led to his grave illness.

OTTAWA—Under a sombre winter sky and with Parliament Hill covered with fresh snow, Remembrance Day ceremonies in the Dominion's Capital were probably the most solemn and striking witnessed.

The carillon of the Peace Tower pealed as Lord Bessborough, accompanied by Prime Minister Bennett, proceeded to the Memorial Chamber where His Excellency deposited a wreath on the Altar of Sacrifice.

PARIS—Premier Albert Sarraut raised the voice of peace amid the blare of bugles, the tramp of soldiers, the thunder of cannon and the echo of Parliament's warnings of war.

The Premier, dedicated a statue of the late Aristide Briand, sounded a call for "peace through European understanding" and vigilance at the same time.

Assertions were made in the Chamber of Deputies that Germany is "an infernal machine, menacing Europe," and that the Reich allegedly is re-arming "an invisible army."

WASHINGTON—President Franklin D. Roosevelt symbolized America's tribute to her war dead when he stood with bowed head at the tomb of the unknown soldier in Arlington Cemetery. Mr. Roosevelt's naval aide placed a wreath of pink chrysanthemums on the grave. Mrs. Roosevelt laid a wreath of yellow chrysanthemums.

BERLIN—Germany does not observe Armistice Day, symbol of her humiliation before the allied forces.

ROME—Italy observed the Armistice in the Austro-Italian front a week ago. However, she celebrated King Victor Emmanuel's 64th birthday Saturday.

Address On Library Movement At Rotary Club

The Prince Edward Island Library Demonstration was the subject of an interesting address at Rotary luncheon yesterday by Miss Nora Bateson, M. A., library director. Miss Bateson suggested that a number of Rotarians be added to the present library committee. In British Columbia, for instance, the service clubs run a successful regional library.

The speaker, in the first part of her address, explained what has been done in the movement to establish a rural library service in this province. It is being financed by the Carnegie Corporation for three years, the various rural centres to supply the room and furniture, and the corporation the books. It is expected that at the end of the demonstration the work will be carried on by the different communities themselves.

She explained that the present movement is following along the lines of the County Library scheme in Great Britain, with a large central library from which books are being supplied to the various branches. She dwelt on the advantages of these various communities having access to the large and varied list of books in the central library, especially when patrons require information on any special subject.

Branches have already been opened at Montague and Souris and partly at Alberton. In these places from 800 to 1,000 books will be kept. The whole object behind the library movement is that the public may get what they want to read on any worthwhile subjects.

The technical books for the central library have already been selected after consultation with a number of firms in this city. Literature on oyster culture including copies of all pamphlets, etc., have been selected on the advice of Dr. Needler and Hon. Mr. Sharp.

She then explained what has been done in regard to enlarging the public library in Summerside and suggested that when the larger public library is established in Charlottetown, that it should be open two or three evenings of the week to accommodate those who are working during the day, also on Saturday afternoon and evening. More equipment and some additions to the staff will be needed, but the additional expense need be no greater proportionately than in other parts of the province.

Miss Bateson was asked if the library would be open on Sunday. She replied "You are looking a long way ahead, but I believe eventually it will be open on that day."

Rotarian Arthur Mould was in the chair yesterday and the guests were B. W. LePage, M.L.A., W. E. Cotton, and Mrs. H. S. Henderson, the last-named contributing an enjoyable vocal solo to the musical program. She was encored.

Yesterday was Stork Day at Rotary, and the happy father, C. N. Bissett, was presented by Stewart Irvine, the last preceding recipient, with the emblematic silver cup, Rotarian Bissett making a fitting acknowledgment.

Secretary Tweedy announced that at the next meeting moving pictures taken by Rotarian Cleve Craswell illustrating the work among the crippled children will be presented, the reel to be explained by Hon. Dr. MacMillan, Minister of Public Health.

TO NEW QUARTERS—The inmates and movables in the Infirmary, Newbon Block, were being removed yesterday to their new quarters in the old Prince Edward Island Hospital.

POLICE COURT—Two vagrants appeared at the Police Court this morning. One was given 30 days and the other three months. A drunk and incapable was fined $5.00 and costs of 10 days. A man charged with driving a motor vehicle to the common danger was fined $20.00 and costs of 20 days. A man charged with harboring smuggled rum was remanded till Wednesday. A sanitary-by-law case was disposed of.

SENATOR J. J. HUGHES SPEAKS—There was a large attendance at the Holy Name meeting in the Holy Redeemer Hall Sunday night when Senator J. J. Hughes addressed the members. His subject was "Catholic Action." The speaker dealt in the important questions which are receiving so much attention, such as the World Conference, Economic Conferences, etc. He emphasized through his address that unless people renounced their materialistic tendencies there was little hope of any improvement in the conditions existing in the world today. Addresses were also given by His Excellency Bishop O'Sullivan, Reverend Father Fleming, C. S. S. R., Mr. E. J. H. Morrissey, Mr. D. B. McDonald and Professor J. H. Blanchard. Mr. James Leightizer was chairman of the meeting.

WILL ATTEND ROYAL WINTER FAIR

The Misses Mary Monaghan, daughter of Mr. William Monaghan, Hazelbrook, and Elsie Lud, daughter of Mr. Ernest Lud, Bathel, representing the Mount Herbert Ayrshire Calf Club, leave on Saturday for Toronto, where they will participate in the five-days program of events under the direction of the Canadian Council of Boys and Girls Club Work, at the Royal Winter Fair.

There was keen competition among the clubs this year for the honour of upholding Prince Edward Island's reputation at the Fair, and the Mount Herbert Calf Club is to be congratulated on the splendid showing made in this connection. The young ladies selected for their heroic work will join groups from other parts of the Maritimes at Moncton, where they will be met by Mr. E. F. Pineau, of the Federal Livestock Branch, who will accompany them to Toronto, take charge of the Maritime part during their stay at the Fair, and return with them to Moncton. Every province in Canada will be represented in the Boys' and Girls' Club competitions. Arrangements have been made to give the visiting representatives a trip to Niagara Falls and other points of interest during their stay in Ontario.

It is all done in equations. Madame Curie's eyes fix themselves at times with a kind of hunting persistence on the class. But it is not of them she is thinking as she draws them after her into a world of dizzy abstractions. With fingers extraordinarily mobile, long and supple, in which there seems always to be a piece of chalk she writes down the formulae on the blackboard. With syllabic signs, piuses and minuses, Greek and Latin characters, she catches and entraps for the initiated the interplay of the action of rays, of the currents of colossal energy, of the fluctuations and transmutation of matter. You would almost think, listening to her, that it was the equations themselves speaking, in that strange, precise, staccato voice, coming from the region of the blackboard.

"All conditions being equal, one finds that experiment will verify probabilities," she concludes as she puts a period to her equations. And there it is.

In that cryptic statement she challenges the enthralling speculations of an Einstein in his fourth dimensional world; the dazzling possibilities of an expanding and contracting universe as envisaged at Cambridge. Precisely at the stroke of half past five the 20 men rise, as she goes out again through the green balize door. The combined salaries of Pierre done up, evidently in one stroke, Curie and herself were for years less than $1,500.
