NEW GOVERNOR-GENERAL HAS HAD DISTINGUISHED CAREER

Lord Willingdon Spent Many Years in India as Governor of Bombay and Madras - Sat in British House of Com- mons From 1900 to 1910 - Educated at Eton and Cambridge and Achieved Fame on the Cricket Field.

(Canadian Press)
QUEBEC, Oct. 1.—Lord Willingdon, the new governor-general of Canada, has had a long and distinguished career in political life in Great Britain and India, and he recently headed the British Government Commission negotiating with the authorities at Peking for the disposal of the Boxer indemnity of $55,000,000 which was returned by Great Britain to the Chinese treasury to be expended to the best advantage of China. He was in the Orient when the message reached him inviting him to be Governor-General of Canada in succession to Lord Bynoe.

Lord Willingdon, who as Sir Freeman-Thomas, was a member of the British House of Commons, was raised to the peerage as Baron Willingdon of Raton, Sussex, on July 20, 1910. He was elected a member of the Bodmin division of Cornwall from 1906 to 1910. He was junior lord of the treasury from 1905 to 1912. He was lord-in-waiting to the King from 1911 to 1913. He held the rank of Major in the Sussex Yeomanry.

Canada's new Governor-General was Governor of Bombay, India, from 1913 to 1919, and Governor of Madras from 1919 to 1924. When Lord Brassey, his father-in-law, was Governor of Victoria, Australia, in 1897, Lord Willingdon was A. D. C. to the Governor. Lord Willingdon was recently appointed by the King a Knight of the Grand Cross of the Order of St. Michael and St. George. He is a Knight of

TIMES TO GET NEWSPRINT CANADA

New York Interests Will Spend $25,000,000 in Northern Ontario.

TORONTO, Oct. 1.—The Telegram says today:—"The presence in Canada of Adolph Ochs, proprietor of The New York Times, is explained in the fact that his interests are on the eve of starting a million dollar project in Canada as a result of which the Times will procure its entire usage of newsprint from one Canadian source owned by Ochs interests."

"It was explained this afternoon by the Secretary of Mr. Ochs that the proprietor of The New York Times has just concluded a business trip into Northern Ontario in connection with the proposed large newsprint project. The site selected for the paper plant is at Kapuskasing, where already there is a small sulphite mill in operation.

"A new mammoth plant for newsprint production will be built. The water power necessary to energize the new mill will come from Smoky Falls, where 75,000 horse-power will be generated.

The Spruce Falls Pulp and Paper Company, which is in association with the Kimberley Clark Paper Company, will be taken over by the New York interests. All work will be rushed on both mill and power site development, and less than 25,000,000 of dollars will be expended before the work is completed.

"There are no details available at present as to how large a settlement may be founded in the creation of this new paper enterprise, which will produce 550 tons of newsprint per day for the use of the most important daily newspapers in New York City. Mr. Ochs this afternoon declined to be interviewed. He was too busy, he explained."

COAL STRIKERS ARE BEATEN BY STARVATION

A. J. Cook Admits that the Miners Have Lost Out in the Strike and are Go- ing Back to the Pits.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The first admission from A. J. Cook, secretary of the Miners Federation, of defeat of the British miners in the coal strike came last night when he declared in an address before the tobacco workers' union that the miners were going back to the pits "beaten by starvation."

"They have fought courageously but they will be just as courageous in the retreat," he said. He denounced Prime Minister Baldwin as a tool of the mine owners and took a fling at the general council of Trades Union Congress for failure to furnish money to aid the miners and for refusing to grant a coal embargo.

More than 140 delegates of the Miners Federation debated the government's proposal for a national arbitration tribunal, but arrived at no decision. They are continuing the discussion today and probably will refer a final decision to a vote of the men in the districts.

For circulating a leaflet "calculated to impede the distribution of coal," D. F. Springhall, a communist, was sentenced to three months in jail yesterday under the government's emergency power act, which was renewed by parliament Tuesday.

APPRECIATION OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

By the Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada After Five Days Visit and Travel Throughout the Pro- vince.

The Rev. Dr. MacGillivray, Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, who has been in the province during the past week giving stimulus and encouraging the people and the character of the province in Cape Breton. He has made a very deep impression on my mind. My only regret is that I must leave so soon. I could motor another five hundred miles in the next five days and count it a privilege and a joy.

The Geddie Memorial Church, the home of that pioneer minister Rev. Dr. Keir, and the church at Belfast were of especial interest to me.

Not the least interesting part of my visit was to discover relatives on the island. My grandfather's brother, Malcolm MacKinnon, settled here long ago and many of his grandchildren with various clan names are still in this Province.

I hope to return to Prince Edward Island for a vacation but in the meantime I am going to make this wonderful country known wherever I go.

Ulster Premier Enthusiastic About Canada

(Special to The Guardian)
TORONTO, Oct. 1.—Sir James Craig and Lady Craig with their son and daughter, Dennis and Kathleen, arrived this morning from Sudbury and the west. He will be conferred a luncheon by the City at the King Edward tomorrow at 12.30.

The famous Ulster premier is a tall burly man who is the soul of good humor. No one could be more affable and easy of approach, and further no one could be more enthusiastic about Canada. "I came here to live in British Columbia," said he "and I think I really have got some accurate first hand knowledge of many of your conditions, but I have not had much rest."

Leadership of B. C. Conservatives Is Suggested

VANCOUVER, Oct. 1.—The Vancouver Province published the following in its news columns yesterday:

"Following the announcement that Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, upon his retirement from the arena of Federal politics, might come to live in British Columbia, the Conservatives are discussing the possibility of his accepting the leadership of the party in this province.

"It is an idea that is meeting with enthusiastic reception among leaders of the party, who say that in no uncertain terms, her faith in the man and his policies and now a further demonstration of regard from British Columbia Conservatives in the form of the highest gift in their power, is considered to be most appropriate in the event of his becoming a resident of this province.

"It is also urged that Mr. Meighen's entry into the public life of one of the Dominion's most richly endowed provinces, would be in the nature of a national advantage for being possessed of a grasp upon conditions from Victoria to Halifax his influence would be of paramount value in bringing about a closer union between east and west, and a better understanding between the different portions of Canada.

"It is known that R. H. Pooley, Conservative leader in the legislature, would welcome such a move, while others who have been mentioned as possible aspirants for the leadership, it is believed, would be a unit in resigning their own claims for consideration in favor of a unanimous offer to Mr. Meighen."

Government Grant Will Be Spent In Publicity

(Special to The Guardian)
LONDON, Oct. 1.—The government grant of £1,000,000 for the encouragement of the marketing of empire produce in lieu of tariff preferences will be spent mainly in publicity and research work, Lieut. Col. L. C. Amery, Secretary of State for the Colonies, stated today. Col. Amery made it clear that when products were to be included equally with dominion products.

Mammoth posters are being prepared as a part of the publicity scheme, and the first view of them will be given to the premiers of the dominions when they are in London attending the Imperial Conference. Motion pictures and broadcasting will also be featured. A grant will be made toward the cost of the transportation of pedigreed cattle from Great Britain to other parts of the empire.

The Secretary of State for Dominion Affairs was determined, as far as possible, to work with the existing machinery in carrying out the scheme. It is not proposed to advertise British products in the dominions according to Col. Amery, but it has been suggested that £40,000 a year be devoted to creating better markets here for home land produce.

Massey Will Be At Conference

(By The Associated Press)
DORCHESTER, England, Oct. 1.—Thomas Hardy, the aged dean of English literature, continues to write regularly despite the infirmities which 86 years are wont to visit upon him.

He is spending the twilight of his life at his home here in penning poetry — the first love of his youth. With the fiction which made him famous he is probably finished.

May Never Publish.

Daily the venerable author retires to write his verse in the quiet solitude of his study where during the last forty years he has produced some of the world's greatest literature. Just what he is writing is not divulged, as he is offering nothing for publication. Whether the poem ever will be given to the world is a matter which has not been decided.

Mr. Hardy is at present writing for himself and his wife, and mayhap for a few old and cherished friends.

The Hardy residence nestles amidst this lovely, rolling countryside the setting of many of his great works. Forty years ago he planned the comfortable red brick and stone home in which he has since lived. He called it Max Gate.

About the house he created gardens and planted trees to suit his own fancy. He is a great lover of nature, and in his enthusiasm he set out so many trees that he created a "forest primeval" the house stands well back from the Dorchester Road and is shut off from the public view by the trees.

Among Birds and Trees

Max Gate is surrounded on three sides by the Duchy of Cornwall, which is now owned by the present Prince of Wales. The young birds, his trees and his dreams.

Hundreds Dying

(Canadian Press)
HANKOW, Oct. 1.—The civilian population of Wuchang across the Yangtze river from here, is entirely without food and hundreds are reported dying. Colder weather is increasing the suffering. There is no coal and no fire wood, and the meagre remaining food supply is held entirely by the military.

The condition is the result of the siege laid to the city by the "red" Cantonese forces to force surrender of the northern troops holding it.

FAMOUS AUTHOR SPENDS TWI- LIGHT OF LIFE WRITING POETRY

Thomas Hardy, Dean of English Literature, continues to write regularly despite his eighty-six years — He is forsaken fiction, which made him famous, for poetry, the first love of his youth.

Byng Expresses Gratitude To Canadian People

OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—"We cannot leave the Dominion without once more expressing our gratitude to the Canadian people for all the wonderful kindness we have received during the last five years, which will ever live in our memory."

Thus Byng of Vimy wired as he departed for Canada.

"We shall watch the progress of Canada," he added, "with the deepest affection and shall look forward to seeing our Canadian friends when they visit the Old Country."

His message is addressed to Premier King, who has replied as follows:

"On behalf of the people of Canada I thank Your Excellency very heartily for the farewell message received today and which through the courtesy of the Canadian Press I have communicated to all parts of the Dominion. I cannot too warmly reciprocate on behalf of all Canadians the kindly sentiments to which your message gives such generous expression, nor can I ever leave Canadian waters without cordially to Her Excellency and yourself the good wishes of all."

King Cuts Society Life For Work

BEIRGRADE, Oct. 1.—King Alexander of Yugoslavia is among the hardest-working sovereigns in the world.

The young Slav ruler usually rises at five in the morning, and works at affairs of state until late at night. He sees on an average of three cabinet Ministers, six generals, several diplomats, and numberless private persons each day. He gives no time to receptions, entertainments or banquets. He believes a King ought to work as hard as the humblest citizen.

There is actually no court life at Belgrade. The youthful monarch of the Truine Kingdom of Serbs, Croats and Slovenes gives most of his time to the nation's business. He does not merely consult the cabinet ministers and heads of departments on State policy, but gives them orders and advice. No move of any importance is ever made by the Cabinet without his approval.

Alexander has no diversions. He never goes to the theatre, opera or races. The things that usually attract kings do not interest him. Music and long walks through the countryside are his only distractions.

Flight Ended

(Canadian Press)
LONDON, Oct. 1.—Alan J. Cobham, Great Britain's leading long distance aviator, arrived here today completing his sensational 28,000 mile flight to Australia and return.

He never goes to the theatre, opera or races. The things that usually attract kings do not interest him. Music and long walks through the countryside are his only distractions.

Hill Castle to Become Museum

THE DALLIES, Ore., Oct. 1.—Queen Marie of Rumania will signalize the transformation of Maryhill castle into an international museum when she visits it during her American tour to dedicate a Rumanian room.

The castle, which crowns a high bluff overlooking the Columbia river about 20 miles east of here, was started a number of years ago when Samuel Hill, good roads advocate and international traveller, was expecting to entertain King Albert of Belgium.

Recently it was announced the castle was to be converted into a museum in which exhibits from various countries of the world would be housed. The Rumanian room will be the first room set aside for an exhibit.

The castle is situated on a 7,000 acre estate. It was named in honor of Samuel Hill's wife, a daughter of James J. Hill, empire builder of the Northwest. The structure, built entirely of concrete and metal, is of three stories and contains 44 rooms. Some of the interior is yet unfinished.

Lido's Rivals Offer More Beach Freedom

ST. JEAN DE LUZ, France, Oct. 1.—The Lido has new rivals in St. Jean de Luz, Hendaye and several smaller resorts on the Basque Coast between Biarritz in France and San Sebastian in Spain.

For several seasons the Venetian resort stood alone as the most informal bathing place in Europe. Hotel guests lounged about all day in their bathing costumes and walked into the sea whenever the spirit moved them.

Much the same condition now prevails in the small resorts of the Basque Coast, which are frequented by Spanish and South American visitors and are attracting more and more Englishmen and Americans each year.

San Sebastian and Biarritz both so formal that bathers are required to use bathhouses and are not permitted to pass through the streets in bathrobes.

Great Schools of Pollock in Digby Basin

DIGBY, N. S., Oct. 1.—Great schools of pollock have struck again in the Digby Basin and 200 men of Bay View and Grandview have been reaping a rich harvest. The quiet little village of Bay View, noted principally for its tourist attractions, today is one of the busiest spots in the country, and the old and young are out day and night catching great hauls of pollock. One of the residents at the advanced age of 76 years was alone in one rowboat, made twenty-eight dollars one night this week.
