 Miss Jean Stewart, daughter of Daniel Stewart, Guelphman, accompanied by Miss Maggie McEachern, of 48, left yesterday morning for Oxbury, Mass, where they join Lord and Lady Miller, who are returning from an extended trip through Europe from Oxbury, where the two young ladies intend entering the hospital owned by Lord Miller.

The Guardian deeply regrets to announce the death of Isaac Murray Moffat, son of John Moffat of Mayfield, P. E. I., which took place at his home on Saturday morning, Dec. 18th, after an illness culminating in pneumonia. Despite kind care and medical attendance the disease made rapid progress and he peacefully passed away. He will be remembered for his cheerful and genial disposition among his many friends at home and abroad, and especially under the saddened parental roof will his demise be so keenly felt. Notwithstanding inclement weather a very large concourse followed his remains to New Glasgow Cemetery on Monday afternoon, a last sad token of respect to one held in highest esteem. Rev John Stirling spoke fittingly at the house and at the grave. He leaves to mourn a father and mother, two sisters, Mrs John Houston of Mayfield and Miss Marion at home, and two brothers W. Allan, at home and J. Lemuel of Berwick, N. S., who arrived at his brother's bedside the night previous to his death. To all those stricken ones and to many sorrowing relatives and friends kind sympathy is extended. (Other papers please copy.)

Poor Chris, such a lot happened on the boat out to Trinidad, but come to the Opera House on the 28th and see for yourself. 12-23dtf.

What happened in Trinidad? 12-23dtf.

They all died with their boots on. Christopher Jr. 12-23dtf.

George Dear, you may take a chair. Christopher Jr. 12-23dtf.
