Angus M. McGillivray was in Charlottetown last week on a rather peculiar errand. When over a short time ago he was expelled in Charlottetown on a debt supposed to be contracted in New Glasgow. He picked up cash and security and went back to the trial. The judge ordered security paid back, and Mr. McGillivray's expenses paid in addition. The latter then sued the man who expelled him for false imprisonment, and that case will come on in due time.—New Glasgow, N. S., Courier.

Another interesting game of baseball was played at Victoria Park yesterday afternoon between the Charlottetown Business College team and the Commercial Travellers. The game was closely contested throughout and ended with a score of 11-6 in favor of the latter. Clever fielding was done by Fahy and Dunn for the Travellers and by Howatt and Hale for the College. The feature of the game was a splendid catch by McCloskey, running about 40 yds., and catching a whizzing foul tip. Miss Mattie Pounds of Indianapolis Ind. Secretary of the Christian Women's Board of Missions, addressed a good audience at the Central Christian church last night. Miss Pounds is a pleasing speaker and held her audience in rapt attention throughout, focusing her remarks on Joel 2:28-32, vividly portraying the growth of the Gospel and the important part taken by women in all ages for the advancement of truth and the elevation of her ideals and conditions. The contrast between heathen and Christian women was made very real, and some of the incidents related were intensely interesting. She made a strong appeal for the society and outlined the scope of its work. Miss Pounds leaves this morning for Pictou and other points in Nova Scotia, where she will address meetings.
