Dave Schriner, on a swift passing rush with Lorne Carr and Art Chapman, and Eddie Wiseman, on a pass from Hooley Smith, tallied the remaining counters.

Pete Milburn Wins Forum Feature Race

Pete Milburn of Montague whizzed over the ice here last night to win an exhibition skating race over a half-mile distance in 1:54. Doug Nicholson of Montague came second and George MacLeod of Charlottetown was third.

Milburn who holds the Prince Edward Island speed skating championship had little trouble defeating his opponents. He trailed for five laps before he passed Nicholson. MacLeod was out in front.

At the sixth lap MacLeod tumbled on one of the turns and Milburn hopped over the prostrate Charlottetown skater to take the lead and an easy victory.

The speed skating was a feature attraction of the colorful carnival staged at the Forum last night. The rink was transformed into a Winter Wonderland as the costumed skaters whirled about with colored spot-lights playing on them.

The costumes were so varied and interesting it was a hard task for the judges to select the prize winners. But after several bands the following skaters were singled out:

Best Ladies'; Clare Harper, "Riding Habit"

Best Girls'; June Campbell, "Fairy Queen"

Best men'; M. Carville, "Pierrot"

Best boys'; Jackie Acorn, "Farmer Boy"

Mens' Most Original; Pete the Tramp, anonymous

Ladies' Most Original; Elizabeth McNeill, "Night".

Dave Trottier Signs With Detroit Club

NEW YORK, Dec. 13—(CP) — Manager Jack Adams of Detroit Red Wings in the National Hockey League, tonight announced he had signed Dave Trottier, former Montreal Maroon left winger to play with the Red Wings.

Adams said he conducted his business with Trottier, a free agent since the disbanding of Maroons, by telephone. Trottier, he said, planned to leave Montreal tonight and report to the Red Wings in Detroit tomorrow.

The Detroit Manager added that Trottier reported he had been keeping in good shape and would likely appear in the Red Wings lineup against Boston Bruins Saturday.

"Dave was anxious to join our club," said Adams "so we didn't have much trouble getting together. He likes the big ice surface we have oiut there and said he thought he would have a good season."

Beyond saying it was a "good" contract, and that the Detroit owners were well known for their "liberal" treatment of players, Adams gave out no information about the terms tendered Trottier.

Rangers All Set For Tonight's Game With Fast St. John Beavers

Charlottetown Rangers yesterday went through their final workout in preparation for their game tonight with the highly-touted Saint John Beavers which takes place at the Forum—a game which opens the Island hockey season and also a game that sees a Charlottetown hockey squad attempt to place the Island back on the proud footing which they enjoyed not so many years back in Maritime Hockey circles.

Rangers, every man of them, have worked mighty hard in preparation for tonight's crucial encounter—and by crucial—we mean that on the attendance of tonight's game rests the fate of senior hockey in this province. The boys forming tonight's Charlottetown Ranger team have not earned the reputation that the Big Four players started out with but nevertheless fans who take in tonight's encounter may witness just as fast and hard-fought an encounter as was the case in those former days. Certainly the smooth Charlottetown team have practised just as hard; they have just as much ambition, if not more, to make good; and those in attendance can be sure of witnessing Simon Pure hockey. The Rangers are out to win if they possibly can and will give every ounce of endurance they possess to gain that point.

Practice sessions have been hard-fought affairs; not a man in the squad is yet sure of his position and tonight's performance by each and every one of them may well determine to Coach Johnny Williams' mind just what player is eligible for a permanent berth on the roster.

And so with this in mind Island fans can well be sure of a fighting performance by every man.

With youth predominating on the lineup and with all in the best of condition Rangers will go out there tonight in an attempt to skate their favored opponents off their feet.

But unless there is a good attendance—a bumper house—there will be little hope for the future of senior hockey here. The management of the Rangers have gone to a lot of expense in getting the Loyalist team here and if fans want a glimpse of former Big Four days they are advised to take in the game at the Forum this evening, an encounter that officially opens what is hoped to be the Island's best hockey season since the days when this province was known as one of the links in Canada's premier hockey circuit.

Come and see the Rangers go. They will both surprise and delight you; young Jimmy Roach, just up from the juniors for tonight's game will be one of the fast skating Islanders you will see in action and in addition to him you will see several other juniors now ineligible who are attempting to make their mark in senior ranks. But they will all be balanced by seniors led by the young veteran Walter Lawlor who already has made his mark, both in coaching and playing in circles on side this province.

The game will get underway at 8.30 sharp with His Worship Mayor E. A. Foster facing off the puck. And it is to be hoped that tonight's game will mark the new era in Island hockey circles—an era that may well mean an Island team once more occupying the heights that it has reached in the past.

Simmerings Around The Sport Front

NEW YORK, Dec. 13—(CP) — Montreal Canadiens and New York Rangers likely won't get into the movies after all. Priduction of "the Great Canadian," hockey sequences of which were to have been shot in Madison Square Garden, has been indefinitely postponed....ultra-ultra sources said it's because he-man Clark Gable billed for the lead, was none too keen about taking to the ice....

Wonder if it is generally known New York Rangers won't sell a 10-year-man ..that's a standing rule in Lester Patrick's hockey organization, broken only when a 10-year-man really wants to be sold and strike out for himself....a few more stitches for old Ching Johnson at his defence post with Minneapolis in the American Hockey Association and he'll probably consider buying a sewing machine....

Patsy Perroni, who went 10 rounds with Joe Louis only to be "kayoed" by Robert Taylor in the movies, has been signed for another picture....Henry Armstrong says he may dash off to South America for a few exhibition fights....but not, of course until after his Jan. 10 bout at Los Angeles with Baby Arizmendi....

With the signing of Tony Lazzeri Brooklyn Dodgers will have the biggest "board of strategy" in major league baseball....Lazzeri will huddle with Manager Leo Durocher coaches Charley Dressen and Bill Kelleher and Chief Medicine man Larry MacPhail....how that St. Louis Cardinal farm grows....the Cards took over the Ogden, Utah, team in the Pioneer League today..

It's hard to visualize Babe Ruth wearing glasses, but he does.... and his right eye, the peeper that took most of the strain in his great hitting days, is near sighted.. ..this condition is what spiked the Babe's hopes last summer of becoming a pinch-hitter for Brooklyn Dodgers....seems Larry MacPhail and Burleigh Grimes, then Dodger Manager, were afraid the Babe might get hurt ducking some of the tough ones....

Uniform Baseball Looms For Both Major Leagues; Dodger-Bees Deal Made

(By Sid Feder, Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Dec. 13—A uniform baseball for both major leagues, or something close to it, appeared in the cards for the 1939 season tonight after the National and American loops wound up the opening sessions of their three-day annual meetings.

The two loops met separately in a pair of six-hour talk-fests devoted to discussion of everything from increasing the player limit to changing the method of paying the hired hands, and then had their joint steering committee get together to try to iron out the rough spots, particularly that involving the ball.

Trade talks continued to run all over the place, but only one actual swap was made. First-sacker Buddy Hassett of Brooklyn, along with Jim Outlaw, an outfielder with Syracuse last year, went to Boston Bees in exchange for Gene Moore, outfielder, and pitcher Ira Hutchinson.

The Dodgers obtained Outlaw from the transaction from St. Louis Cardinals, by sending a bundle of cash and pitcher Lew Krausse, up from Elmira, to the gas-house gang.

Otherwise, managers sat around talking over possible player trades.

Will Harridge was re-elected president of the American League for a 10-year term, with jobs of secretary and treasurer tossed in. Harridge wouldn't discuss with writers a question concerning an increase in salary, but said "the pay is highly satisfactory."

Connie Mack, venerable leader of Philadelphia Athletics, was appointed to manage the American League's all-star team for the inter-league game in 1939, which celebrates baseball's centennial.

The National League approved an increase of from 23 to 25 in the player limit for each club, but the American League voted to hold to the present 23 standard, with each club permitted a "disability list" of two players.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13 —(AP) — Brooklyn Dodgers and Boston Bees tonight announced their second player trade of the day, Fred Frankhouse, veteran pitcher, going to Boston in exchange for infielder Joe Stripp. It was a straight trade with no cash involved.

Earlier today the Dodgers sent Buddy Hassett and Jim Outlaw to the Bees and received Gene Moore and Ira Hutchinson in the deal.

Gill Sparks Sydney Win

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

SYDNEY, N. S., Dec. 13—Stonewall defence work by Bill Gill, former Moncton Hawks player, helped Sydney chalk up a 4-1 victory tonight over North Sydney Monarchs. It was Sydney's first win in four games and the league-leading Northsiders first loss.

Gill led the scoring with two tallies, one on a penalty shot. The rugged Gill also was the top man in penalties, receiving two in the second and another in the final period.
