MOTHER! DON'T TAKE CHANCES IF CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

IF CROSS, FEVERISH, SICK, BILIOUS, CLEAN LITTLE LIVER AND BOWELS.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipated poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

Y. M. C. A. WORK NEEDED

This has been a military year. The flower of manhood of the British Empire has donned khaki, and the Young Men's Christian Association, as the servant of all men in need, has followed the colors to the trench, the desert, the hospital and the prison camp.

This is the concluding sentence of the National Report for India, prepared by Paul R. Danner, and follows a vivid description of the work of Y. M. C. A. men among not only the India troops that were sent to France, but the "terriers" from England that replaced them in India, the interment camps here, and the soldiers that today are awaiting relief in beleaguered Kut-Ki-Amara.

"Perhaps no troops fighting in any zone of the war today have greater difficulties to contend with than those up the Persian Gulf in Mesopotamia all of whom have gone from India. Burning heat, biting sand and feverish march strike down more men than the bullets of the enemy Turk and the treacherous Arab." To labor for these British soldiers, five Y. M. C. A. men were sent up the Tigris and were stationed at Busra, and at Amara, "following the troops on their fight to Bagdad."

So far as Canadian soldiers are concerned, there are nearly thirty special Y. M. C. A. representatives overseas who are devoting their whole time to the work, and 47 centres in Canada where there are winter camps located in which the Y. M. C. A.'s are engaged in physical, social and spiritual service.

ONE MAN IN EVERY SIX WILL SOON BE IN KHAKI

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 28.—By Feb. 1st if the present rate of recruiting is maintained, one man out of every six between the ages of 18 and 45 in Manitoba and Saskatchewan will be in khaki.

Figures of eligible but with 1911 census gives the number of men between the ages of 18 and 45 in number ten Military district as 275,677. By February 1st the military authorities expect that the number of men recruited in the two provinces will reach 45,000. This means that approximately one man out of every six will have joined the army.

OUR BEWILDERED POULTRY

"What is a roost, dad?" asked Tom my.
"A roost, my son, is a pole upon which chickens sit at night," replied his father.

"And what's a perch, dad?"
"A perch is what chickens perch on." "Then, I suppose, dad, a chicken could roost on a perch?" came the further inquiry.

"Of course," was the smiling reply. "And they could perch on a roost?" "Why y-yes," answered dad.

"But if chickens perched on a roost, that would make the roost a perch, wouldn't it? But if, just after some chickens had perched on a roost and made it a perch some more chickens came along and roosted on the perch would be a perch and the perch would be a roost, and some of the chickens would be perchers and the others would be roosters, and"—"Tit-Bits.

CRITICISING CHILDREN

Never criticize the conduct of your children before strangers, either to praise or blame, for by doing so you will injure their tender susceptibilities. Insist on unhesitating and strict obedience, but never let your rule become irksome by giving unnecessary and exasperating commands. Be firm but gentle, and when you have to punish let the punishment fit the crime, and do not treat childish naughtiness as if it were a grave moral offence. Undue severity tends to make children secretive and untruthful, and to alienate their natural affection. A little love and a tender remembrance will have a far better effect than harsh punishment. But while taking care not to be unduly exacting and severe, do not go to the other extreme and treat your children with weak indulgence. They are not mere playthings, and it is wicked to treat them as such.

Therefore, when there is real cause for blame in them do not pass it over, but when necessary punish them for their faults, and in such a way that the punishment will be remembered, and the fault will not be repeated. Punishments should be few, but severe enough to be effective. Though our little ones claim all our attention, they must learn that we, not they, are the rulers. Their turn will come in due time, and if ever they are to rule well they must first learn to loyally obey.

THE W. S. HARKINS PLAYERS OPENS TO-NIGHT

Tonight at the Prince Edward Theatre the W. S. Harkins Players will open their weeks engagement in the greatest crook play ever written, "Kick In". This is the play that the New York Herald declared to be a better play than either "The Law or Under Cover". From past experience Charlottetown theatre goers know what to expect from Mr. Harkins and this time he promises what the papers of the different cities and towns declare is the best company he has had in years. Seats are selling fast and the indications are that the house will be crowded. If you have not yet secured your seats and intend going tonight get your seats right now.

THE DOG'S NOSE

Have you ever wondered why your dog's nose is cold? There is rather an ingenious, but nevertheless, somewhat unreliable, explanation of this which is believed by some.

The story goes that when Noah endeavored to get all the animals in the ark, some were troublesome.

Consequently, Noah hit upon the excellent notion of driving them in with a dog. When everything was ready, the dog, of course, was one of the last to enter the ark. There was no room of any consequence left and he had to stand in the doorway with his nose outside in the wet.

And ever since, the story tells us, it has never got warm again.

But science comes along with a more ostensible explanation. It tells us that a dog's nose is cold for the simple reason that it must be kept so to preserve the animal's sense of smell—a very precious asset to the dog, who by nature was meant to hunt for his food.

The whole membrane around the dog's nose is highly sensitive, and this sensitiveness can only be retained by constant moisture.

That is why your dog's nose is cold.

AN URGENT NEED

A very small boy was taken to a dental establishment to have some of his first teeth pulled. For a second or so, during which time four teeth disappeared, everything was fairly serene, and then came howls of objections.

"I didn't want them teeth to come out," cried the young patient, suddenly recollecting something, "I want them to stay in."

"That's all right," consolingly responded the dentist. "They will soon grow in again."

"Will they?" quickly rejoined the boy with a bright face. "Do you think they will grow in in time for dinner?"—Philadelphia Ledger.

PAT'S CONVERSATION

Pat was called into court to testify to a talk that he had had with the defendant in a civil suit, and everything went along as swimmingly as a flock of hill-flocks until the lawyer attempted to bring out the important points of the conversation.

"Now, then, Pat," said he encouragingly, "please tell the court what you and the defendant talked about."

"Yes, sor," answered Pat willingly, "we talked about fifteen minutes."

"No, no, no!" interposed the lawyer. "I mean, what did you and the defendant talk over?"

"Yes, sor," was the calm rejoinder of Pat. "We talked over the telephone, sor."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

AN EDISON STORY

A friendly American who has just arrived in London brings a nice story of Edison. The great invention; was present at a dinner in New York to which Count Bernstorff had also followed his way. The Count spoke of the number of new ships which Germany had built since the war began.

"No, no, no!" interposed the lawyer. "I mean, what did you and the defendant talk over?"

"Yes, sor," was the calm rejoinder of Pat. "We talked over the telephone, sor."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

"UNCLE TOM" IS DEAD

Samuel Lucas, said to be the original "Uncle Tom" of the Boston Museum stock company and composer of the song "My Grandfather's Clock," that had such an extended run in the U. S., died on Monday in New York. He was in his seventy-fifth year.

Mr. Lucas, who has been known as one of the most original entertainers on the American stage, was one of the first members of the Elks, having been a charter member of Lodge No. 1.

Despite his age he continued in vaudeville until a month ago, when his condition became such that he had to give up active work. His death was due to old age. He is survived by a daughter, Miss Marie Lucas, well known pianist.

IN MEMORIAM

MR. W. A. BRENNAN.

Many in Charlottetown and throughout the Province, as well as in Summerside, were shocked Saturday morning on learning of the sudden death of Mr. W. A. Brennan, the well known and popular editor and proprietor of the Summerside Journal and Agriculturist.

Mr. Brennan, although suffering somewhat from heart trouble for several years past was in his usual health up to the moment of his death. About eight o'clock Saturday morning he left home for his office. On his way down he called at the meat store of Mr. Levi Silliphant and after a short talk and some purchases, he complained that his heart was giving him some trouble, and as he was in the act of leaving, he fell to the floor and expired immediately.

A doctor was hastily summoned but before he arrived Mr. Brennan had passed to the great beyond.

Mr. Brennan was born in the United States about 64 years ago and came to Charlottetown when a young man, beginning his journalistic career. During the office of the Islander which his father had purchased from the late Mr. John Ings. In 1875 he removed to Summerside where he entered into partnership with Mr. A. L. Graves, in the management of the Summerside Journal.

Mr. Brennan was a gentleman of pleasing and companionable manner, he was a general favorite with all who knew him, and his death will be sincerely and widely mourned. He was a prominent Mason, a Past Master of King Hiram Lodge, A. F. and M. M., and a Thirty-second Degree Mason, being the first Mystic Shriner from this province. He leaves to mourn, his wife, formerly Miss Lefurey, daughter of the late Hon. John Lefurey, two sons, Captain Arthur Brennan, Chief Musketry Instructor for the Sixth Division, and a daughter, Victor Brennan, engineer of the Utah Consolidated Mining Co., also one daughter, Miss Dorothy, at present in Halifax. To the widow and family so suddenly and sadly bereaved, the Guardian tenders deepest sympathy.

Captain Arthur and Miss Dorothy are now on their way home from Halifax and are expected to arrive this afternoon, in which case the funeral will take place to-morrow, Tuesday, the service being held in St. Mary's Church at 2 o'clock.

ANSELL GUPTILL

The funeral of the late Ansell Guptill was held on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 16, from his home at Castalia, Grand Manan, and was largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. McKay. Hymns sung were: A Few More Years, Shall Roll, Oh God! Our Help in Ages Past, and Rock of Ages. Interment was in Maple Grove Cemetery. Deceased, who was well known and highly respected, had been ill for some time. He was in his 75th year and is survived by his wife, three sons and two daughters. They are Leslie, George and Roy, of Grand Manan; Mrs. Allan Strang, of P. E. Island, and Miss Edna at home; also one sister, Mrs. Naomi Blanche, of Lubec (Me.).

Had I the gift of Raphael Or Michelangelo, Oh, what a rare Madonna My mother's life should show!—Thomas W. Fessenden.

QUEEN HAS MUMPS

LONDON, January 28.—A Reuter despatch from The Hague says that Queen Wilhelmina has been compelled to interrupt her trip to the flooded regions owing to an attack of the mumps.

A CURIOUS CUSTOM

The King of Spain always enjoys himself at Christmas, and he does not fail to play the chief part in the wonderful ceremony performed for centuries on Christmas Eve at the Spanish Court, when a crib is set up, and the Sovereign, tambourine in hand, followed by his Ministers dances round the cradle of the Babe. To us it may seem a curious custom. To him, as King of Spain, it seems the most natural in the world, and he dances with a will.
