KINDLY REMEMBERED—At the close of the past year, The Treasurer of The Ladies' Aid of Little Sands Presbyterian Church, waited upon Mrs. A. J. MacDonald and in behalf of the congregation kindly presented her with a well-filled purse in recognition of her services as organist of the church. Mrs. MacDonald greatly appreciated such a kind expression of their good will, and hoped the cordial relationship existing between her and all who so kindly remembered her, would remain unbroken in the future as in the past.

MILLVIEW FARMERS' INSTITUTE—At a meeting of the Farmers' Institute held at Millview it was decided to bring the matter of a better train service on the Murray Harbour Branch before the Central Institute. It is contended that the greater advantage to the farmer during the Fall and Spring months than it would be in mid-summer, and the members of the Millview Institute desire the assistance of the other Institutes of the Province in bringing this matter before the proper authorities. W. C. Smith, is Secretary.

INSTITUTE WORK—The Cumberland Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. John McMillan on Thursday, Dec. 30th. The meeting was opened in the usual way, the secretary was absent owing to illness, and Miss McIsaac acted in her place. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved of. It was moved and seconded that the five dollars donated by the Government be utilized for Red Cross work. It was decided to use the funds on hand that had been collected in Red Cross work to buy socks for the soldiers. One dollar and ten cents ($1.10) was handed over to the president to buy socks. Twenty handkerchiefs were made for the soldiers. It was decided to hold the next meeting at the home of Mrs. Mutch on Jan. 10th.

ANNUAL BANQUET—Among the many pleasant functions that took place during the festive season was the annual banquet of the Sterling Women's Institute of Stanley Bridge on New Year's Eve. There were over eighty present, the large number of gentlemen in attendance showing by their presence the interest they take in the Institute. The first part of the evening, a splendid program was carried out, numerous songs and readings being given by the members. At the conclusion of the first part of the program, to show the esteem in which they were held and as a token of appreciation, an address was read to the president and secretary and the former was presented with a box of handkerchiefs and the latter with a pretty coin brooch. Mrs. Bulman, through whose kindness the Institute has such comfortable rooms, was also presented with an address and a beautiful oak rocker. Remarks complimenting the members on the work done by them, especially in the schools and for the Red Cross Society were made by Messrs. Walter Simpson, W. H. Hogan, H. T. Pickering, M. H. Coughlin and C. H. Reid. Then the last number on the program being the supper, every one willingly took part in it, and enjoyed the good things provided by the members. As the glad New Year was ushered in, an enjoyable and entertaining evening was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

ANNUAL MEETING—Strathcona Farmers' Institute held their annual meeting at Hazelbrook. The report of the president and secretary showed quite a successful year, the sum of one hundred dollars subscribed by the members, as well as fifty dollars grant from the Agricultural Department being used for the purchase and rent of pure-bred stock. The election of officers resulted as follows: Wallace Woods, William Drake, A. Roy Jones, Pope-Noy, E. B. Jenkins, George Jenkins, Ernest Lund, Ludlow Jenkins and Lincoln Wood. Plans that would make the Institute of greater benefit to the community were then discussed. Prof. Reek, who was present and much appreciated, spoke on the desirability of more co-operation among farmers, especially in regard to the marketing of lambs and wool showing the large amount of money lost by the improper handling and marketing of both. Professor Reid, with whom the farmers are better acquainted, spoke at some length on the proper care of a flock of sheep. Prof. J. W. Jones, a well-known sheep man, spoke briefly. The question of holding a short course in Hillsboro Consolidated School was discussed at some length. The splendid accommodation for classes and stock; also the ease in which all the Southern section could be served by rail, farmers leaving home in the morning and returning at night, was pointed out. Committees to wait on the Government regarding the marketing of a place and programme for the annual banquet, after which the meeting adjourned.

SCHOOL CLOSING—The closing exercises of Central Royalty School were held in the schoolroom on Thursday afternoon Dec. 23rd, in the presence of a large number of parents and visitors. The school-room was very nicely decorated for the occasion in red, white and blue trimmings and spruce and in one corner of the room was a large Xmas tree laden with gifts and confectionary. The pupils were examined in the various subjects by the teacher, Miss Jessie Boates assisted by Messrs George Kerr and Ray Ellis students of P. W. C., and by their ready answers testified to the skilful training they had received. Mr. James MacKendrick was appointed chairman, and the following program was excellently rendered. Opening address, Christine MacRae; Recitations, Henry Roberts, Jean MacLaren and Tommy Kerr; Dialogue "Raising the Price of Butter" Five girls Alice MacLaren, Marion Brazel, Cecelia Cullen, Marion MacKendrick, Christine MacRae; Recitation, Emmett Brazel; Reading, Cecelia Cullen; Dictation, Richard Cullen; Dialogue "Scene in a Jury Room" twelve boys, Glen MacLaren, Tommy Kerr, Emmett Brazel, Tommy Cullen, Theodore Ellis, Eugene Cullen, Russell Roper, Charlie Swan, Howard Roper, Henry Roberts and George Peters; Recitations, Marion MacKendrick, Russell Roper, Ethel Swan, Donald MacRae, Howard Roper, Pearl Swan, Malcolm MacRae, Bruce MacLaren, Ned Roper. At the close of the program Santa appeared and made teacher and pupils happy, by presenting them with many handsome gifts from the richly laden tree. The parents and visitors present, were then treated with fruit and confectionary. Speeches were made by several present complimenting the teacher on the splendid work she had accomplished in the school. The chairman, Mr. James MacKendrick, on behalf of the parents, tendered a vote of thanks to the teacher, to which she made a fitting reply. After the boys of the school, giving three cheers and a Tiger for their teacher Miss Boates, the examination was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.
