POULTRY SHOW OPENS TONIGHT

About 500 Entries, but More if they Could be Accommodated. Some fine Stock Entered Yesterday.

Extensive preparations were going forward yesterday at the Agricultural Hall, Fittroy Street, for the annual show of the Prince Edward Island Poultry Association. The show opens formally this evening, when Premier Bell, Hon. W. A. Lea, Commissioner U. S. Consul Giroux, Hon. G. E. Hughes, and other speakers are expected to be present.

Mr. Geo. Lightizer the capable secretary of the Association, informed the Guardian that there would probably be upwards of 500 entries. Had the accommodation been better, about 1,000 entries might have been looked for, and as it was, many had to be turned down.

The poultry show is divided into two classes, the standard bred poultry and the utility stock. This time a number of farmers who do not specialize in standard poultry entered their stock in their own class and makes the exhibition much more valuable and interesting.

Among the big exhibitors are Mr. Harry Hyde of Cornwall, with 70 birds, Mr. A. Boswell of Dunstan with 50 birds, Mr. Wm. McNeill of Bear River with 56 birds and also Messrs. Jas. Lightizer, John Whitlock and W. J. Cudmore of Charlottetown.

There is a splendid showing of dressed poultry from Murray Harbour, Bear River, Hemitage and other points. There is also a good showing of game, mostly from local exhibitors.

Mr. Fred McLaren, who has had his birds in the record of performance, has some birds on exhibition over the 200 mark.

There will be an auction sale during the show, when pedigreed hens will be sold.
It is to be regretted that the housing accommodation for this important exhibition is so small as to affect the number of entries. It is to be hoped that next year the show will be held at the Agricultural School or some other more convenient place. The present show is situated at the rear of the Agricultural Hall, which presents no very attractive features to visitors crossing through it.

The Carferry
The Carferry had another strenuous day yesterday. Her departure from Borden was delayed till 11.45 on account of a mishap to the engine of the train leaving Charlottetown in the morning. This train was held up at Hunter River until relieved by an engine from Charlottetown. The Carferry arrived at Tormentine at 5.48 and did not attempt a return trip. She will leave early this morning for Borden and, it is expected, will arrive in time to connect with the train from Charlottetown. The train for Borden will leave Charlottetown on schedule time.

Officers of the Carferry report very heavy ice in the strait, the heaviest experienced by the Carferry since she took up the service.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND WENT OVERWHELMINGLY DRY YESTERDAY

Returns from all Over the Province Show an Overwhelming Majority in Favor of Prohibiting the Importation of Intoxicating Liquors.

Returns from yesterday's plebiscite, although not complete, indicate, as had been expected, an overwhelming vote in favor of prohibiting the importation of liquor into the province. Considering the condition of the roads and the weather, the vote was surprisingly large and reflects much credit on the organization of the Prohibition workers. It does not appear that there was any concerted opposition and in but a very few cases was the vote an adverse one. A glance at the figures will show that the country as a whole is strongly prohibitionist.

Taking the vote as it stands there is no doubt as to how the province stands in the question of prohibition. The people have spoken and they have given their mandate and now it is up to the powers that be to carry out the expressed and emphasized opinion of the people.

The difficulty of procuring accurate returns by telephone from the many polls throughout the province will be apparent to our readers. It is possible that some corrections will be necessary but there is no mistaking the evidence of the figures as they stand.

The splendid organization effected by the temperance workers, the addresses and sermons by the clergy in every part of the province and the hearty co-operation of the women voters everywhere, all combined, have won a signal victory. Once more, as a result of yesterday's great work Prince Edward Island has the prospect of becoming what we were proud to call it the "banner prohibition province of Canada."

Strike Breakers Held up

(Special to The Guardian.)
BERLIN, Jan. 22.—A United States protectorate over the Ruhr sector as a compromise alternative to the present French invasion is being proposed in Bourse circles, which believe that such a scheme would give the Westphalian industrial area to American French control. In support of administrative mandate it is argued that since the German Government is confining itself to an attitude of passive resistance, the time is ripe for diplomatic counter steps, inasmuch as the French plans, according to the American view aspire to the opening of gigantic Rheinisch industrial monopoly, which would be bound to develop competition with American and British industries.

Mystery Marks Tragedy in New Glasgow

NEW GLASGOW, N. S., Jan. 22.—One young woman is dead and two men are on the brink of death, obviously as the result of poison. Such are the bare facts of all that is known of a tragedy of the most shocking nature discovered here last night. What few details are known plunge the whole affair into the deepest mystery, impenetrable alike to police and physicians.

The still living victims have not regained sufficient consciousness to give the least clue. What facts are so far known of the tragedy are appalling. What is yet to be known to establish the cause of it all may never be obtained—for there is only the narrowest margin upon which to hope for the survival of one of the victims. The identity of the poison does is completely shrouded.

Margaret MacDonald, about 25 years of age is dead. Her brother, Duncan R. MacDonald is living, but with only the slightest possibility of recovery; Chippie Reid, the dead girl's lover is dying. They were discovered lying upon the floor of a room of a poor tenement house shortly after five o'clock this evening. The dead girl lying between her brother and her lover. She had been dead for some hours. The two men apparently were in the throes of death and moaning loudly, but unconscious.

By all the evidence available they had been there since the hours of the previous evening, and at intervals through the night and through the day their groans had been heard by people awake or busy about their tasks. An aged woman living in the same house, and thinking them asleep left them in their suffering and with death.

Predicts European Civilization Collapse

(Special to The Guardian.)
NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—A collapse of European civilization, such as the world has never known, may be the result of France's action in the Ruhr, said Sir Robert Horne, former Chancellor of the British Exchequer in an address today at a luncheon on the English speaking union. The luncheon at the Hotel Astor was held in honor of the Rt. Hon. Viscount Burnham, C.B. and Lady Burnham.

Expressing his personal view of the present situation, Sir Robert pointed out that what was necessary was to make German capitalists believe Germany was a country safe for them. "No confidence in Germany could be created," he said, "if you begin to seize by force any of the material upon which Germany depends to carry on her trade." Now that is my point of view," he continued, "and I am glad to say that point of view is shared in this great country of practical people. We may be wrong, I hope we are wrong, but if we are right you are going to see very soon in Europe a collapse of the organization of civilized society of that continent such as the world has never known."
