Auction Sale Of Victory Bonds Is Big Success

The radio sale of victory bonds over station CHGS, Summerside, sponsored last night by the Y's Men's Club brought the grand total of bonds sold at the close of the evening for Prince County to $740,700. Opening at 7.30 the bids began coming in to the battery of phones manned by the members of the Y's Men and as the evening progressed enthusiasm in the various districts in the county began to mount.

The highlight of the evening was when Col. J. L. Ralston dropped in to the studio to look over the proceedings and addressed the radio audience.

Col. Ralston expressed his pleasure at being present. He repeated his conviction that investment in the Fifth Victory Loan was good strategy, good business and good citizenship.

Throughout the evening the entertainment group from the airport furnished entertainment which kept the radio audience in good humor while awaiting for the reports from the different districts.

The sponsors of the radio sale were pleased to welcome Chief Justice Thane A. Campbell who visited the studio near the close of the evening and spoke to the radio audience. Chief Justice Campbell congratulated the sponsors of the radio sale on the big job they were so successfully putting over. He expressed complete confidence in the ultimate success of the United Nations but reminded his listeners that any faltering on the home front would prolong the time of victory and would mean an unnecessary sacrifice of men and munitions.

At the close of the sale Mr. Walter Darby, County Chairman, expressed his appreciation to the people of the county for their magnificent response to the loan so far. The district which attained the highest percentage of its objective was Albany with 144 percent and was therefore the winner of the civilian trophy. No. 1 G. R. S. attained 184 percent of its objective. Miscouche was a close second in the civilian districts with 140 percent of its objective.

UNUSUAL COINCIDENCE

SAINT JOHN, N. B., Oct. 26 — (CP) — An unusual coincidence, the motion picture "Corvette K-225" is being shown at a local theatre while the corvette featured in the film is in port here. Crew members will have a chance to see the picture in which they appear.

The film tells the story of a corvette from her birth in a shipyard to her "near death" in battle against U-boats and German warplanes. Most of the scenes were taken off the eastern Canadian coast. Several Canadian harbours, principally Halifax, are shown.

ITCH AND PAIN OF PILES eased fast. Cracking of dried parts, soreness and bleeding also checked. CUTICURA OINTMENT

Special Session Supreme Court At Summerside

Chief Justice Thane A. Campbell presided at yesterday's sitting of the special session of the Supreme Court which had stood adjourned since April.

Before the business of the Court commenced the Chief Justice paid tribute to the memory of the late Mr. Justice Saunders. He said that from the beginning of the century he was prominent figure in legal circles. He will be particularly missed at the present time by members of the Bar and litigants in general in Prince County, because in recent years he had been available for Court proceedings in Summerside and this had been a great convenience.

The Chief Justice added: "I hope it will be possible to continue this convenience to at least a modified extent. For the present I propose to hold chambers and court sessions if necessary on Monday of each week in Summerside, that does not mean that other days will not be available if the necessity arises.

The case of John (Holman) Gallant, charged with conspiracy having been called, the Court reviewed proceedings at the last session. True bills having been found against the accused, motion had been made by council for the prosecution for the arraignment of the prisoners and thereupon Mr. Johnston had raised objection to the arraignment proceeding at that time as it had been intimated that the Court was to adjourn.

A discussion took place as to the sequence in which the cases would be heard. The Court ruled that the retrial of Frank Gallant and Harry Gallant would commence on Thursday morning; following that the case of John (Holman) Gallant.

The rest of the day was taken up with argument by Mr. J. J. Johnston, K.C., on his objection to arraignment of the prisoners and on his motion that the indictments be quashed.

Argument by Council will continue today. Lawyers present were R. S. Hinton for the Prosecution and J. J. Johnston, K.C., J. Watson MacNaught, K.C., and W. Henry Noonan for the defence.

Farewell Reception At Park Corner

Friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. Cuthbert Montgomery on Wednesday evening, Oct. 6th to bid farewell to Mr. Montgomery, his mother, and his two daughters, Misses Margaret and Beulah, who are soon to leave Park Corner where they were a highly respected family, to reside elsewhere.

Mr. Heath Montgomery capably presided as chairman and in a few choice words expressed the purpose of the gathering and called upon Mr. C. S. MacKay who read an address expressing sincere regret at the loss of a popular family from the community and good wishes for their future welfare.

A well filled purse was presented by Mr. James T. Campbell on behalf of the neighborhood.

Mrs. Edna Stewart, representing French River, W. M. S., then presented Mrs. Mary Montgomery with a suitable gift, and in a few, well chosen words attested to her value as a member of that society. Miss Beulah received a beautiful locket from her school-mates, Miss Nellie Montgomery reading a complimentary address and Miss Amy Cousins making the presentation.

Both Mrs. Montgomery and Cuthbert tendered sincere thanks to all present for their many kind expressions of good-will and for their generous gifts.

Following is the address.

Address to Cuthbert Montgomery and Family.

Respected Friends:—

Having heard of your intended departure from our community we have met in your home to-night to bid you farewell before taking up residence in your home in the village of Hunter River.

There is one phase of human relationship which always a source of dissapointment and that is the simple act of parting with true and good friends, and it is our difficult task on this occasion to convey to you in some measure the fullness of our feelings.

We would fail in our duty if we did not speak of your outstanding work in the church. You Mrs. Montgomery, have been more or less closely associated with church activities during your entire lifetime, more especially have you done well your part in the Auxiliary of the Women's Missionary Society of which you have been a valued member for many years. And you Cuthbert, have been a generous contributor to the different schemes of the church, we could always count on you as one who would cheerfully and willingly do your part. We are not unmindful of the interest you have taken in the affairs of the school as well as in community welfare you have made a fine contribution, both of which are characteristic of a worthy citizen.

Your home has always been a model of hospitality where all were assured of a sincere welcome, friends and strangers alike being treated with kindness and liberality.

It is not only your unfailing hospitality but your reasonable attitude in all the varied affairs of community life that has impressed us and made our associations most pleasant. Nor can we forget your desire and readiness to be of help to any one who needed it, not through any hope of personal gain but from a sense of duty.

In conclusion we beg to assure you that we shall always cherish the most pleasing remembrances of our happy associations with you.

You will be greatly missed in this neighbourhood by the wide circle of friends who have learned to respect you through your many acts of kindness and mutual understanding which alone reveal the true qualities of good citizenship. It is in this light we will always remember you, and as a token of our esteem and regard for you and your family we would ask you to accept this small gift, assuring you that the best wishes of your many friends will follow you to your new home.

On behalf of the residents of Park Corner and surrounding Countryside. 10 27 1i

Enemy Routed In Battle Of Rochford Square

War manoeuvres in the form of a sham battle and first aid demonstration given by thirty men of No. 62 C. A. (B.) T.C. under command of Lieut. H.N.A. McDonald and Cpl. A. Hillier, drew an interested crowd to Rochford Square yesterday afternoon. The manoeuvres were staged by permission of the commanding officer, Major Robertson, in aid of the Victory Loan campaign and were highly successful as a practical illustration of modern fighting technique

Rifle fire and bomb explosions gave realistic touches to the scene. The eastern end of the Square was held by an "enemy" machine-gun nest, well protected by sandbags. Lieut. McDonad with two sections of men advanced from the west under "heavy fire", seeking cover where it could be found and using hand grenades, trench mortars, Bren guns and rifles until within a short distance of the nest. They then made a bayonet charge, scaled the barriers and "wiped out" the enemy.

Four "casualties" were left on the field and the attackers returning, gave their comrades first aid with field dressings, which every soldier carries. Improvised stretchers were used to carry the wounded to the aid post and then further back to the casualty clearing station.

Cpl. Art Hillier, commentator, gave a detailed explanation of the attack and gunners Ashley, Dubb, Anaka and Kirk described the first aid operations.

Lieut. MacDonald spoke briefly, emphasizing grim realities of war and the importance of Victory Bond buying in supplying weapons and medical and surgical equipment.

Drivers B. Rogers and S. MacKinnon were in charge of the ambulance, N.-S V. Arsenault and L. Binns in charge of wounded in transit.

The men who participated so skillfully in yesterday's demonstration are from Ontario and the Western Provinces, and have just begun their third week of training

Nov. 1 Deadline For Christmas Mail To Overseas Men

OTTAWA, Oct. 26 — (CP) — If you're sending Christmas parcels to Canadian servicemen overseas, please see that they are in the mail by Nov. 1.

The army made this plea tonight in reminding Canadians that the Nov. 1 deadline has been set to ensure that gifts reach the men in time for Christmas morning. It takes at least eight weeks, authorities said, for such mail to be cleared by the military postal service, shipped across submarine ridden seas and distributed.

Relatives and friends should use discretion in packing parcels for soldiers, sailors and airmen overseas. Servicemen in hot climates won't thank donors for parcels which leave Canada as chocolates or toffee and arrive as mere mush, both inedible and unrecognizable.

The army has compiled a list of 24 articles, not all of which are obtainable, which Canadian fighting men have placed in the "preferred" category.

Preferred List

The list includes cigarets, cigars and tobacco, chocolate bars, concentrated orange and lemon juice, preserved fruits of all kinds, dates, figs, shelled nuts, chewing gum, life savers, hard candies, fruit cake, ginger snaps in sealed containers, fancy cheese in cellophane or tinfoil wrapping;

Tinned corn, cranberry sauce in tins, fancy chocolates with fruit centres; rum and butter toffee, razor blades, tooth paste or powder, shaving cream, tooth brushes, toilet soap wrapped in cellophane; fountain pens and electric flashlights with spare batteries.

Care in wrapping is a "must." There may be a ton of other mail atop your parcel so pack the gifts securely, the army says. Inflammable articles such as matches; perishable matter such as fresh fruit, and intoxicants should not be sent.

Christmas time calls also for cheery letters—some of which will mean more than a parcel. Send along pocket sized snapshots in waterproof envelopes, and tell the recipient a few good, humorous stories.

Allied Fighter Planes Active

LONDON, Oct. 26 — (C P) — Spitfires damaged several locomotives on offensive patrol over Northern France today and Typhoons attacked airfield installations at Brest - Lanveoc, it was announced tonight

The Typhoon raid followed bombardment of the Brest - Lanveoc airdrome Monday by R. A. F. medium bombers and Netherlands naval planes.

It was disclosed that Cmdr. Eddie Bakker, commander of the Netherlands naval squadron of medium bombers, was shot down by Nazi anti-aircraft fire during the Monday attack.

The Air Ministry News Service, meanwhile, announced that 45 Nazi night fighters were destroyed by R. A. F. bombers during forays in September — nine more than in the previous month.

R. A. F. night attacks and American day bombers have forced the Germans to put every air craft they can muster into the air so that twin engined night fighters now are being encountered in increasing number by day and single engined fighters by night.

Col. Ralston Guest Speaker At Rotary

The Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence and federal representative of the constituency of Prince was the guest speaker at the regular weekly luncheon of the Summerside Rotary Club held yesterday at the Olympia. Mr. Ralston said he had planned on leaving yesterday to return to Ottawa but that he had stayed over so he could attend the Rotary luncheon. He said he hadn't the time to prepare a speech but that he intended to say something on the subject of Rotary. He recalled his trip to Australia and New Zealand with Jim Davison in 1920 to organize Rotary there, and it was there that he found out that men the world over are just the same. He said that they had been sent by Rotary International who wanted to start clubs here. The speaker described the difficulties of selling the idea of Rotary to a new people. The first club they founded was in Sydney which is today one of the foremost clubs in the world in boys work. Before leaving they also founded clubs in Melbourne and in Wellington and Auckland in New Zealand. Mr. Ralston paid tribute to his travelling companion Jim Davison who has since died. He gave his life for Rotary by working for it all over the world. When they left Australia and New Zealand there were two clubs in each country, now there are 50 in Australia and 30 or 35 in New Zealand.

Mr. Ralston said there are two extremely important things about Rotary, first: the selective principle of occupation. "This makes a man value his membership because he is a representative of his trade in Rotary." This system gets the leaders in each group and gives a cross section you can't get any other way. The speaker said: "I regard the occupational classification as tremendously important, don't ever give it up." The second important thing is the attendance rule. A man can't represent his occupation to Rotary or Rotary to his occupation unless he attends the meetings. Mr. Ralston said that the work of Rotary in war is to assist any war effort that needs help. He said that during the war international aspect of Rotary has been put aside but that we have got to keep on trying and preaching the doctrine of international understanding. Mr. Ralston closed with words of appreciation at being able to attend and wished the Summerside club every success.

Mr. P. G. Clarke, the president announced the Prince County Hospital x-ray drive had finally reached its objective of $8,000 which will have been reached when all the districts report and in addition an amount sufficient to defray all expenses of the drive. He said that the people of Summerside must look forward to providing a new hospital building in the near future as it was needed.

Four new members were introduced yesterday: Thomas Mitton, Earle Corney, J. Henry Gaudet and Lorne Driscoll

There were a number of guests present, Rev. Charles Carnegy, James E. Wells, Dr. E. J. Reedman, L. R. Allen, A. S. Hopkins, manager of the Royal Bank, Summerside. Hon. George Barbour, Minister of Public Works. MayorW. J. Lidstone, and R. H. Rogers, Charlottetown. —S.

Many Aluminum Workers Still Idle

SHAWINIGAN FALLS, Que., Oct. 26 — (CP) — With still about half the Aluminum Company of Canada's 3,600 employees away from their jobs there seemed no prospect tonight of a settlement of the labor dispute which started Saturday midnight when American federation of labor members and sympathizers walked out of the big war plants here. The issues of the dispute were being discussed at a mass meeting of A. F. L. men tonight but there was no sign that any return to work decision would be reached.

Meanwhile the rival National Syndicate Union, which has a jurisdictional contact with the company, has continued to urge its members to stay on the job.

Rousing War Loan Meeting At New Glasgow

There was a very large and enthusiastic audience at New Glasgow last night the hall being packed to capacity with many standing at the entrance. The chairman was Mr. P. L. Campbell and the chief speaker Captain Norman Lowther who gave a straight from the shoulder talk that drew great applause from the large audience. He told all to take the matter of this Fifth Victory Loan seriously and to get busy and make a success of it.

He referred frequently to the splendid speech made the previous evening by Col. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, at Charlottetown who he said warned all of the danger of complacency and that if we could see the maps showing the great number of Germans massed around the borders of Europe we would not be lulled into any false sense of security by the recent gains of the United Nations. "The matter of buying Victory Bonds", said Captain Lowther, "is simply a matter of common sense and is the safest place for our money". He also referred to New Glasgow having the best troop in the Reserve Army and to the recent cup this troop had won. In conclusion he said "You are just as anxious as I am for your boy or girl and for your neighbors boy or girl to get back home as soon as possible and one way to do this is to invest as it takes both men and money to win a war."

The moving pictures were shown by B. Graham Rogers of The Travel Bureau. The picture "Prelude To War" was referred to by Captain Lowther during his remarks. This picture will also be shown by Mr. Rogers at Cardigan Wednesday night. It is one of the outstanding pictures of the war to date and was recently secured by the Travel Bureau from Military District No. 6 Headquarters.

Previous to the opening of the meeting last night there was a remarkably good demonstration by the Reserve Army using anti-aircraft equipment and the large searchlight which had been used in Charlottetown the previous evening. Their efficiency drew many complimentary remarks from the large crowd.
