ISLANDER DESCRIBES CONDITIONS IN ENGLAND

A Gloomy Forecast. Sends All His Securities To Canada And Might End Days Here.

The following extract is made from a letter addressed to a gentleman in Charlottetown by a retired military officer residing in England...

Atheism, and there is nothing but strikes. Even in the Police, and in the army and navy, there is discontent and disloyalty...

while the working class are bitter haters of all above them. Many thoughtful men see the same signs as preceded the French Revolution...

MORE TO THE MARITIME PROVINCES THIS YEAR

Fewer people will leave Great Britain for Canada during the coming year but they will be people with more money. This summarizes the views of representatives in provincial centres throughout England.

From the Channel Islands there will be a fairly large exodus of fruit growers and this movement will in all probability extend to the neighboring coast of France.

The representative of Quebec is now reaping the reward of his work. The most important work of the Quebec office is to direct notice to the manufacturing opportunities and to encourage the exploitation of its natural resources.

British Columbia maintains her favorable position in the minds of men with capital, and the distribution of apples from her famous orchards throughout Great Britain was ahead of publicity.

MARQUIS DRIVES FIREMAN TO WED.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—A remarkable illustration of the spirit of camaraderie which prevails between the great landholders of England and their tenants and dependents was given at Waringham yesterday when "Jim" Larkin, the engineer of the Waringham fire brigade was taken to the church in a horse fire engine, driven by a Marquis of Downshire, whilst the Earl of Hillsborough, the heir to the marquessate, was in attendance dressed as a fireman.
