The WEEK at S.D.U.

Field Day was held last Tuesday. Congratulations to Johnny Cash, winner of the Tip Top Trophy for top man in the senior events, and to Bobby Jay, winner of the Kelly and McInnis Trophy for his outstanding performance in the junior events. Johnny had five firsts for a total of 25 points, an 8-point advantage over his nearest rival, Dunstan Murphy, who wound up the day with 17 points. Bobby really had a field day all for himself as he swept the junior events with seven firsts and a third for a total of 26 points out of a possible 40. Runner-up for junior honors was Cullen Delory with 18 points. It might be mentioned in passing that as a class the Juniors were well represented, winning the tug of war, the football pass, the football kick, the baseball throw, the shot putt and the high jump.

That night, after the prizes were presented, the Sophmores celebrated what one of them aptly tenned a "field night," when they held their initiation ceremony for the Freshmen. Among the highlights: Bedford MacDonald as the "missing link" — or a reasonable facsimile thereof; "Shonna" Francis as a dainty French model who had all the boys hollering, "OO! la! la!" — especially when he tripped over his high heels and fell off the stage. Jim Saunders felt neglected when he was sent back to his seat. He wanted to show how he could stand on his head and wiggle his ears.

Jim Morris and "Cactus Pete" Rossiter were visitors to the College during the week. Unfortunately their stay was brief. It seems they came to visit Paul Landrigan who for some unknown reason is just naturally suspicious of fellows named Morris and Rossiter, especially when they come visiting at night and with the intention of hauling one Paul Landrigan out of his nice warm bed. But Paul, being ever the hospitable host, greeted them with open arms — the open arms of Gene and Tom Pendergast, whom he had recruited for the occasion. If anyone can stretch a point and imagine Pete Rossiter and Jim Morris creeping, then do so, and imagine them creeping quietly into the dorm—as quietly as two truck horses — and of being caught cold by Paul, who stood back and gloated all over the place while they were being ejected. Jim went without much fuss,—just a bounce or two,—but Pete put up a struggle until finally the two manhandlers (self-termed) each grabbed a leg, hauled him to the landing and threw him down the stairs. You were lucky at that, Pete, because even then Paul had to slip the leashes on the Pendergast boys to hold them back. They were all set to give you a real working over. Next time you come visiting, boys, bring your brass knuckles or a white flag.

Rev. W.J. McGuigan and "Steve" Murnaghan returned Friday afternoon from Truro where they attended a meeting of the Maritime Intercollegiate Athletic Union. From Steve I learned that the Saints play their first intercollegiate game on Saturday, Oct. 16 at Mt. Allison. Today, the 9th, they tackle the Ch'town Abbies at S.D.U. in a game scheduled for two o'clock. The Saints' lineup appears on the sport page of today's paper.

Last week on the staff of Red and White, I listed an Alex MacDonald as one of the humour editors. That should have read Alex McInnis. Sorry Alex.
