MISS RUBY STEWART IS RECOVERING

(Special to The Guardian)

NEWTON, Mass., June 9.—As the June term of the Grand Jury begins to-day the local police think that the trial will be a speedy one for Chas. Warren. The appearance of two physicians with Attorney Abbott at police headquarters looks as if an effort will be made to examine Warren's sanity.

Miss Stewart, the P. E. Island girl, is getting along well at the Newton Hospital and is expected to leave the institution within a week. Medical examiner George L. West performed an autopsy on the body of Mr. Green, who was shot dead while trying to shield the girl from Warren's attacks. Mrs. Green, wife of the murdered man, who has been under a doctor's care since the shooting, suffering from heart trouble, is still in a serious condition. The police believe that Warren went to the restaurant to kill the girl and make his get-away in the automobile which stood almost outside the front door. Carlos was closetted with Inspector O'Halloran for more than an hour. He said he had known the girl only a few weeks and that he had not known that she was keeping steady company with Warren at any time. Miss Stewart denied at the Hospital to Inspector O'Halloran that she was at one time engaged to Warren. Mrs. Joseph Abbott, the landlady with whom Warren lived, declared that Warren had been despondent for some time and had frequently said lately that "Ruby threw me over for the other fellow who has an automobile." The automobile in which Warren tried to make his escape he had bought but a few days ago. He visited Green's restaurant where Miss Stewart worked last Thursday with his new auto. When the young woman refused to receive his attention, it is believed he planned the shooting of Saturday.

THE PRINCE EDWARD

The Prince Edward Theatre yesterday presented its biggest "Broadway" success, in the six-part play, "The Fortune Hunter." Mr. Winchell Smith, as many know, has provided in this play a story which grips the audience and holds the interest from the moment of inception until the finale. It is the story of two collegemates, Nat Duncan and Harry Kellogg. Nat is the son of a supposed rich family, while Harry has nothing but the expenses of an education. Nat spends his time in riotous living, with the result that he barely manages to secure a degree. On the other hand Harry applies himself to his studies and passes with honors. Nat's father dies and the estate is found to be in a state of bankruptcy. Harry enters the business field and meets with great success. Nat, however, tries many means of livelihood, all unsuccessful. He is found "down and out" by his pal who sets him on the road to fortune, which he eventually reaches by clean living and attention to business. He does not marry the girl with the fortune, to whom he was engaged, but takes as his partner for life the daughter of his employer, who saved him from death by fire at the risk of her own life, and who had loved him all along.

The play is portrayed as only "Lubin" actors can portray and the whole production is artistically made.

It will be shown again to-day and will likely receive the same large patronage as yesterday, when the largest crowds for some time attended.

"Under the Table" was an exceptionally clever and laughable comedy play, in two parts, immensely enjoyed.

Mr. Edwards sang a very catchy selection entitled, "On the Old Front Porch."

FARMERS DISCUSS SHEEP RAISING

On Thursday, June 3rd an Agricultural Meeting was held at Palmer Road at which a number of farmers gathered to hear Prof. W. J. Reid discuss the problems of Sheep-raising and the Co-operative marketing of Wool.

At this season of the year the sheep raiser is confronted with the problems of the lambing season, many of which can be solved in a very simple way if they are taken in time. Most of these problems received a plain, practical solution in the address given by Prof. Reid.

The question of marketing wool has been receiving the attention of the Department of Agriculture for some time and at the present time the Co-operative Marketing of Wool is being encouraged throughout the Province. To carry this movement into operation the shearing must be done in a clean place and the place kept in a compact unbroken condition. When shorn the cut or body side of the fleece should be turned down and the edges of the fleece thrown is so as to make a narrow even roll. The fleece should be rolled from the tail into a compact neat bundle and tied with a cotton or woolen string or a small part of the neck wool. Binder twine should not be used as it becomes mixed with the woolen fibres and reduces the quality of the fleece.

Tub washing should not be practiced. In tubwashing the various qualities of the fleece are so badly mixed that sorting is prevented and it is regarded as a deterioration of quality. Sorting is necessary by reason of a difference of quality existing on the different parts of the body.

Wool packed according to the directions given will be received at the Agricultural Hall on June 18th to 21st when grading is expected to commence. Prof. Reid has been in touch with many of the manufacturers of the Maritime Provinces, Quebec, and Boston and they are anxious to receive the Co-operative dealing of the Island Wool-growers of the Island.

This movement is merely the commencement of what will be a valuable means of marketing the Wool of the Province at remunerative prices and should receive the consideration of all those who are interested.

At present Prof. Reid is in the Western part of Prince County giving instruction on the proper methods of shearing, rolling and shipping Mr. Richard Creed, who is assisting Prof. Reid is giving similar instructions in Eatern Prince.

GET POWER.

The Supply Comes From Food.

If we get power from food, why not strive to get all the power we can. That is only possible by selecting food that exactly fits the requirements of the body.

"Not knowing how to select the right food to fit my needs, I suffered grievously for a long time from stomach trouble," writes a lady from a little Western town.

"It seemed as if I would never be able to find out the sort of food that was best for me. Hardly anything that I could eat would stay on my stomach. Every attempt gave me heart-burn and filled my stomach with gas. I got thinner and thinner until I literally became a living skeleton and in time was compelled to keep to my bed.

"A few months ago I was persuaded to try Grape-Nuts food, and it had such good effect from the very beginning that I kept up to its use. I was surprised at the ease with which I digested it. It proved to be just what I needed.

"All my unpleasant symptoms, the heart-burn, the inflated feeling which gave me so much pain, disappeared. My weight gradually increased from 98 to 116 lbs., my figure rounded out, my strength came back, and I am now able to do my housework and enjoy it. Grape-Nuts did it."

A ten days trial will show anyone some facts about food.
