

It is reasonable to suppose that all intelligent men and women read newspapers.

It follows, therefore, that the number of newspaper readers is approximately identical with the reading population.

AMBASSADOR OF BULGARIA SHOT AND KILLED

Killer Fired Three Shots, Victim Died Short Time Later

ASSASSIN HAS BEEN ARRESTED

Deed Committed by One of Slain Man's Countrymen

PRAGUE, Aug. 27.—Three shots were fired at M. Daskaloff, the Bulgarian Ambassador, at noon today and he died a short time later on the operating table. His assassin, Atanas Nikoloff, a twenty-six year old Bulgarian, was arrested.

M. Daskaloff was appointed Ambassador to Czechoslovakia under the regime of former Premier Stamboulsky. When Stamboulsky was overthrown by the Bulgarian army in June of this year the new Sofia Government requested the Czech authorities to extradite Daskaloff but the request was never complied with.

In December last, when M. Daskaloff was Minister of Interior, a bomb was thrown at his automobile just as he was leaving the Parliament building after attending a session. No one was hurt and no damage was done.

Bright and Roomy New Quarters For The Kindergarten

Citizens generally will be gratified to learn that the splendid work which has been carried on by the Kindergarten will not be discontinued although the building in which it has hitherto been situated has been taken over by The Guardian.

The new quarters of the Kindergarten will be in the handsomely equipped new school rooms of the Methodist Church, where every facility for the teaching of the junior and primary classes will be provided. The Kindergarten will open on Tuesday, September 4th with Miss Carvell in charge and with an assistant teacher under her. In addition to the bright sunny classrooms on the south side of the building the spacious social hall upon which the class rooms open will be utilized by the Kindergarten. The polished hardwood flooring of these rooms is practically on a level with the street, having been raised over three feet in the recent alterations made to the building. The Kindergarten entrance will be on Prince Street. The space between the church and the Heartz Hall, it has been suggested, would make an excellent lawn and play ground for the children.

The trustees of the Kindergarten are to be congratulated upon having secured these splendid quarters, where there will be an abundance of sunlight and plenty of room for the children to work and play. The Kindergarten, which has always been undenominational, will be conducted under the same conditions as before and a large attendance of pupils is expected when the classes open next month.

BRITISH FINANCIERS WILL AID CANADIAN SECURITIES

Will Attempt To Overcome Suspicions of English Investors As To Security of Canadian Investments—English Press Points Out Cause For Recent Bank Failures.

(British United Press)

LONDON, Aug. 27.—A group of big men in the world of finance have begun an effort to overcome the suspicions of the British investing public regarding the safety of Canada as a field for investment.

These suspicions were first aroused by British objections to the attitude of a group of Grand Trunk stockholders who endeavored to spread as widely as possible a report that Canada and the Government had treated them unfairly since they had invested their money in order to stimulate the development of the country.

The announcement that huge losses were suffered by Union and Standard banks following quickly on the heels of the absorption of the Merchant's Bank when it fell into serious difficulties and culminating in the suspension of the Home Bank has proved a severe blow to those who have continued to believe in Canada's financial stability. The majority of financial papers however this week carry long articles reviewing the entire situation and analysing the Canadian banking system for their readers. They all point out that in view of the extraordinary difficult postwar conditions it is surprising that losses are not heavier. These papers are doing their utmost to assure British public opinion and counteract the views of pessimists.

An article signed "Banker" in the current issue of the Financial News states that during the past twelve months prices in Canada have been relatively steady, that exports substantially exceed imports that there has been no increase in the national debt and normal equilibrium exists between the government revenue and expenditure. It also states that recent harvest reports are encouraging and there is no need for the investing public to become nervous and apprehensive over Canadian securities.

ROW OVER GERMANY AT NEXT L. OF N. SESSION

GENEVA, Aug. 27.—When the fourth annual assembly of the League of Nations convenes at Geneva, September 3, there is one question that gives every indication of dominating every moment of the session up till the very end—the admission of Germany.

Whether Germany actually files her application for admission or whether she doesn't, it is now certain that the question of getting her into the League or of keeping her out will be matters of constant discussion and constant intrigue.

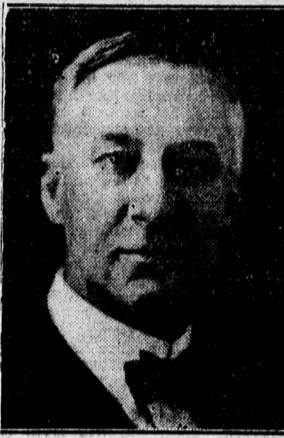

Coupled with other applications for membership which have already been filed and with others that are expected the question of new members will be one of the most important of the entire assembly. The League as now composed consists of fifty-two states, with the exception of territories such as now under protectorate or colonial organization this number embraces every independent nation in the world except the following: Abyssinia, Afghanistan, the Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Germany, Mexico, Russia, Turkey, and the United States.

Ireland whose application for membership has already been filed and will unquestionably be accepted is one of those countries of the category mentioned above namely that are or were under protectorate.

Two other countries of this category that may present requests for membership are the Kingdom of Iraq, and the new government of Egypt. While both of these would probably be admitted yet there is no denial of the fact that League members are beginning to get a trifle alarmed at the large number of English dominions that are becoming members of the League.

Wales, Ireland, Iraq and Egypt to be admitted at the present session this would bring the English bloc up to nine the other being besides England herself, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, India and South Africa.

England Strong in League To complicate the situation England has some ten other dependencies that may eventually secure an independence from the mother country that will enable them to join the league. While an English block of nineteen or twenty League members out of a total League membership of 65 or 67 might be regarded as alarming yet there is nothing to prevent any of these English colonies and dominions from coming in as fast as they secure independence. Of the nine other states that are still outside the League the principal possibilities of application for membership at the coming assembly are Germany, Mexico and Turkey. Turkey has already announced her intention of joining the League (Continued on Page Three)

SEES BIG OPPORTUNITY IN P. E. ISLAND EXHIBITS

An Attractive Showing At the British Empire Exhibition Should Result In Increased Immigration, Declares Visiting Exhibition Official.

The immigration opportunities for Prince Edward Island which will be presented by the British Empire Exhibition next year at Wembley Park, London, England, are being emphasized by Mr. J. S. McKinnon, director of industrial exhibits, who arrived in the city on Saturday.

Mr. McKinnon yesterday met Premier Bell and Mr. J. D. Stewart Premier-elect and afterwards had a conference with His Honor Lieutenant Governor MacKinnon, President P. W. Turner of the Charlottetown Board of Trade, and past president A. A. Pomeroy in the Board of Trade rooms.

Interviewed by The Guardian yesterday Mr. McKinnon said the three things Canada needed were busy workshops, fertile fields and easy conveyance of goods from place to place. The particular need of Prince Edward Island, so far as he could find from inquiries is increased population of a desirable

EXPEDITION IS HELD UP BY A WALKOUT

Strike of Natives Has Interfered With Plans Of Noyce Party on Wrangel Island

(Canadian Press) NOME, Alaska, Aug. 27.—A strike of natives at Ketzbur, Alaska, has interfered with plans of the Noyce expedition to Wrangel Island, to secure a number of Eskimo families to colonize the island, according to information received here yesterday. Several families deserted the exploration ship Donaldson after they had signed on at Ketzbur and when the vessel sailed on August 6, only one family remained aboard.

Captain Louis Hansen, master of the Donaldson, also resigned from the expedition as the result of differences with Captain Noyce, its director, according to the Ketzbur advices.

The Noyce expedition left Nome on the night of August 3 to go to the relief of Allan Crawford, of Toronto, and other members of the Stefansson expedition to Wrangel Island of 1920, believed to have been marooned on the island for the last two years. The Donaldson arrived at Ketzbur, August 5, leaving the next night and was reported off Point Hope, 400 miles north of Nome, and within striking distance of Wrangel, August 9.

Wrangel Island is approximately 150 miles north of North Cape, Siberia, in the Arctic Ocean and is claimed by Russia. Crawford, however, raised the British flag on the island in 1920, claiming the territory for Great Britain.

WESTERN CROP EMPLOY 45,800

Figures as Published by C. N. R. and C. P. R. Officials

(Canadian Press) WINNIPEG, Aug. 27.—A total of forty five thousand eight hundred harvesters were brought in to take care of this year's wheat crop according to figures released by railway officials today.

Of this number the Canadian National carried thirteen thousand from Eastern Canada and seven thousand from Great Britain. The Canadian Pacific handled twenty thousand from Eastern Canada and five thousand from the British Isles. Twenty seven hundred came from British Columbia. The last of the harvest trains have now arrived.

kind. There is nothing in recent years that has offered so great an opportunity of placing before the people of the world the possibilities of this Province as the British Empire Exhibition.

"If the people here think this is right, then they should get after it and strive to be represented at the Exhibition in a way that will be attractive and that will give a comprehensive idea of the possibilities of the island," Mr. McKinnon said. "Why should immigrants from the British Isles go always to the Prairie Provinces when splendid advantages are offered here and throughout the Maritime Provinces? In many cases it is because they do not know about these advantages. Here is the opportunity to place our good points before the whole British world."

The exhibits will not be presented in Provinces at the Exhibition but the products of each province will be separately marked and will appear as a national Canadian exhibition. The island could make a particularly fine showing in agricultural and dairy products, and would get full credit for everything exhibited. It is hoped that some of the manufacturers and exporters will also contribute.

In the other provinces visited by Mr. McKinnon the provincial governments and individuals are co-operating to supply the best products of Canada for exhibition in the national resource section of the building. Many of the provinces will prepare special literature descriptive of their advantages, which will be printed and distributed by the Federal Government. Co-operation between governments and individual exhibitors will be the keynote of success.

It is hoped that the Exhibition will result in increased capital, increased population and increased trade for Canada. For this purpose the building is in two parts, one showing the natural resources of the country and the other the manufactured products. Transportation of products for exhibition is paid by the Government Exhibition Commission.

Mr. McKinnon states that all the (Continued on Page Three.)
