ISLANDER'S CRITICAL OPERATION—Mrs. Earle, Acorn, Lake Verde, P. E. I., has received a letter dated Nov. 21, 15, from her brother Pte. Walter McLean, Shorncliffe, England. Pte. McLean enlisted in Western Canada and went to England with the first Contingent, being attached to one of the Infantry Brigades as a despatch rider. While out practicing one day on his Motor Cycle, and on rounding a sharp curve, was unfortunate enough to collide with a motor car, fracturing his left thigh and collar bone and dislocating vertebra in the spine. The thigh was not set for six weeks after entering the Military Hospital. On being examined (after this length of time had elapsed) it was found necessary to operate. Consent being obtained the patient was removed to Grey's Hospital and Sir Arthur Lane secured to perform the operation. On May 15th the operation was performed and an incision four inches long was made exposing the bone to his overlying about three inches and badly calloused. A sterilized silver plate was put in and secured to the bone with ten silver screws. The incision was made on the outside of the leg starting above the knee and extending upwards to two inches above the hip. After the plate was put in the incision was closed with forty-six clamps. At date of writing it had healed nicely but leaving an ugly scar. The knee joint and muscles are denuded but through time will be O. K., again Pte. McLean, in writing of his experience states he was under ether from 1.30 p. m. until 8.30 p. m., and the next day his pulse registered 140. Pte. McLean states further that he had applied for two weeks sick leave and intended visiting Northern England and to the States at Shorncliffe and doing light duty. Mr. McLean's accident is very much to be regretted by his large circle of friends and his early recovery will be eagerly looked forward to. The treatment he has received goes to show the care taken of our Canadian soldiers and no doubt the account of his operation will be of interest to all who have friends in Europe as soldiers.
